BRITAIN OFFERS TO NEGOTIATE WITH DE VALERA

Insists He Cannot Repudiate Oath.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 23.—The Irish crisis took a milder form today after the British cabinet had considered the announcement last night by John W. Dulanty, high commissioner of the Irish Free State in London, that the new Free State government of Eamon de Valera was determined to abolish the oath of allegiance to the king.

J. H. Thomas, minister of dominions, who last night told the house of commons that the Irish situation had become most serious as a result of Dulanty's announcement, had an hour's interview with King George today. What the king said to Thomas was not disclosed, but it is known the king attaches little value to the oath of loyalty to himself and it is assumed that he said so in his usual forthright way.

Takes Mild Attitude.

At any rate, when Thomas appeared before the house of commons this afternoon and answered an arranged question, he made it clear that while the British government took the opposite view from that of the Irish government on both the oath and the Irish land annuities, which President de Valera has announced will no longer be paid to England, there is ground for discussion and anything like a break is not visualized in the near future.

Thomas, whose statement was interrupted by a good deal of left wing heckling, said that the British government is addressing to the Irish government a reply on the subject of the oath and would make the British attitude clear beyond possibility of doubt.

"Integral Part of Treaty."

"It is manifest that the oath is an integral part of the treaty made ten years ago between the two countries and hitherto honorably observed by both sides," Thomas said. "Regarding the land annuities, the Irish Free State is bound by the most formal and explicit understanding to continue to pay these to the national debt commissioners."

The statement was followed by a storm of questions, to which the only answer was that an honorable agreement could only be changed with the consent of both sides, thus leaving the way open for discussion. Thomas, when pressed for publication of the text of the reply he had sent to Ireland, promised to publish it at the earliest possible moment, which probably means after it has been received and considered by the Irish government.

Laugh at "War" Suggestion.

G. Buchanan, Clydeside laborite, declared that Thomas' statement meant a declaration of war on Ireland. All that got, even from the Tories, was a big laugh. J. Maxton, leader of the Clydesiders, poured oil on the troubled waters by suggesting that the house had not information enough to discuss the matter now.

He suggested that while Great Britain is talking about forgiveness of her own debts she should not be too harsh with her debtors and the house should have an opportunity of discussing the whole subject before there is any final decision.

After a few more questions, the subject was dropped without an explicit declaration, but with the general understanding that the next step will be negotiations between the two governments.

Ireland Awaits Reply.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, March 23.—The tone of J. H. Thomas' statement in the British house of commons today was commented on here as firm but affording an opportunity for conference and compromise. Thomas' letter to the Irish government is not expected until tomorrow.

A suggestion that the Dail Eireann be called for an emergency sitting to consider the crisis meets with no support in governmental circles. It is stated that nothing has yet arisen on which the advice of the deputies is needed. Actually nothing is expected to happen until President de Valera discloses the terms of his motion regarding the oath of allegiance to the king. It will then be for the Dail to approve or reject.

The situation remains calm and business is going on as usual. An early settlement of the crisis is hoped for, as long continued negotiations would adversely affect trade.

SUPREME COURT APPEAL STOPS TRIP TO PRISON

U. S. Judges Refuse a Rehearing.

Al Capone will not be taken to the penitentiary to begin serving his eleven year income tax sentence for at least six weeks. The United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday denied the gangster a rehearing of his appeal, but granted him a stay of mandate for the penitentiary trip pending appeal to the Supreme court.

AL CAPONE.

There was a stir in the federal building during the afternoon, for Marshal Henry C. W. Laubenheimer was prepared to start Capone on his way to Leavenworth immediately had the expected mandate been issued. But Attorneys Albert Fink and Michael Ahern applied to Judges Samuel Alschuler and Will M. Sparks of the Court of Appeals for a stay.

Remains in Jail Here.

After five minutes of discussion, which included observations on the merits of dentists and the probity of public officials, it was decided that Capone would remain in the county jail, where he has been for four months, while his appeal is carried on.

Presiding Judge Alschuler, in whose chambers the hearing was held, opened the discussion, smiling benignly and explaining that a sudden appointment with his dentist had delayed his arrival for the Capone matter.

"Well, it seems that there is a motion here for a stay of the mandate," said Judge Alschuler.

Extra Guards Employed.

"There is this situation," said United States Attorney George E. Q. Johnson. "So far as the government is concerned, the matter relates solely to the marshal. The marshal has found it necessary to employ guards at the jail, at some expense, and the government would naturally like to be relieved of this obligation."

"Yes," replied Judge Alschuler, "the case ought to be disposed of without unnecessary delay, as all cases should. But if we can't take it for granted that public officials including jail authorities, will perform their duties, I don't see how government can function. How long do you want, Mr. Fink?"

Asks for Sixty Days.

Mr. Fink asked whether sixty days would be regarded as unreasonable, and Judge Alschuler informed him that it would.

"This case has been thoroughly tried," commented the judge.

"Mr. Fink has been going to a dentist," interposed Ahern.

JUDGE ALSCHULER—I'll send him to a good one.

MR. FINK—I've got one I'll trade you.

JUDGE ALSCHULER—I suggest that the mandate be stayed for 30 days, and that if in the meantime you have filed your petition for a writ of certiorari with the Supreme court it be continued again until the Supreme court acts. [Turning to Judge Sparks, who nodded]—Does that meet with your ideas?

Mr. Fink and Mr. Ahern then assured the judges and counsel for the government that their petition would be filed with due dispatch.

"That petition may be denied by the Supreme court as promptly as our motion for a rehearing was denied here," said Mr. Fink.

Time required for the Supreme court to act on petitions for review varies. It required about six weeks in the case of Gene G. Oliver, former county assessor, because the court was in recess. The minimum time is about two weeks, so that Capone in all likelihood will remain in jail for six weeks.

No Reason Given for Guards.

Although Judge Alschuler mentioned no names in his reference to the trustworthiness of jail officials, the responsibility for Capone while he is in jail rests with Sheriff William D. Meyering.

United States Attorney Johnson gave no reasons for the placing of federal guards in the jail, but there have been persistent rumors that Capone had established a line of communications with the outside world through visitors.

Capone receives no credit toward his sentence while staying in the jail, where he has been for four and a half months. He must serve 10 years in the penitentiary and one year [later] in jail under the sentence of Judge James H. Wilkerson, who also fined him $50,000.

Pastor Found Insane After Trip with Girl

Harrisburg, Ill., March 23.—[Special.]—The Rev. Lester G. Beers, 47, former pastor of the fashionable Signal Hill Methodist church at Belleville, was found insane by a jury of six men in County court here this afternooon. He was taken to the Anna state asylum late this evening for treatment and observation.

The jury was unanimous in its decision within two minutes after being given the case by County Judge L. M. Hancock. Two physicians were on the jury.

The principal witness against Mr. Beers was Dr. W. H. Whitlock, superintendent of the East St. Louis district of the Methodist church. It was Whitlock to whom the members of Beers' family appealed when they feared that he was unfaithful to his marriage vows.

Son-in-Law Investigates.

An investigation by Dr. Whitlock and Dr. W. E. Williams, Carrier Mills, dentist and son-in-law of the minister, brought out the facts that Beers had been conducting an illicit love affair for three months with Miss Serena Weil, 17 years old Belleville girl, who had come to him for spiritual advice.

Mr. Beers made a trip into Missouri and Kansas with the girl as his companion and on their return her father caused a federal warrant to be issued, charging him with violation of the Mann act.

In the trial today Mr. Beers took the stand in defense of his sanity and quoted scripture to justify his intimacy with Miss Weil. From first Corinthians, seventh chapter, he read: "But if any man think that he behaveth himself uncomely toward his virgin, let him do what he will; he sinneth not."

Wife Gets Bills.

In an interview before the trial, the pastor admitted that he had spent more than $1,000 on Miss Weil during the last year. He bought her a watch and diamond ring from a Belleville jeweler that cost $97 and had it charged to his account. Here, he admitted, he made a mistake, for the bill for this and $43 worth of silk underwear, which the girl bought at a department store, was sent to his home and was opened by his wife.

Mrs. Beers took the matter up with Dr. Whitlock and he took it upon himself to get the jewelry from the girl and return it to the jeweler.

A short time ago Dr. Whitlock prevailed upon Beers to go to the Carbondale hospital for treatment. While there he traded his $65 pocket watch to a jeweler for a $50 strap watch which he gave to the girl in lieu of the one that had been taken from her.

He received an average of three letters a day, all bearing special delivery stamps, from the girl during a month he spent in the hospital. While the envelopes were addressed to him, neither his name nor the girl's appeared in the letters, he said. She addressed him as "Big Boy," and signed herself "Sugar." He charged that three of these letters were intercepted at the hospital.

He loves Miss Weil better than anything in the world, he said, and wanted to marry her, if it could have been arranged.

"If it would do her any good, I would take my seat in the electric chair," he said.

He also loves his wife, who is the mother of his two sons, and a daughter, but it is a different kind of love "that I can't explain," he testified.

He intimated that it was his intention to go back into the ministry after he had been cured of his insanity. He feels no remorse for the escapade with the girl, he asserted.

Lake Forest School Board Cuts Teachers' Pay 10 Pct.

The board of education of Lake Forest voted a 10 per cent reduction in teachers' salaries last night. The action was conditional upon similar reductions by the city council, the library board, and park boards. The library board and the park board already have voted 10 per cent salary cuts and the city council is expected to do so at its next meeting.

Wire Tappers 'Take' Bookies for $50,000

Five hoodlums, by a telephone wire tapping scheme, have tricked local and outside bookmakers on horse races for probably as much as $50,000 in recent weeks, it became known last night.

Their system is simple. They cut in on the telephone wire of a bookmaker, switch out his phone, intercept the flash report of a race winner, make a last minute bet on the horse that has already won, and then switch in the bookies phone again and relay the flash to him. The bookie is unaware that the reports have not come from the racing news agency with which his phone is linked.

Story Told by Dupe.

The story of the tapping scheme was revealed by Paul Mihaleje, of 3901 West 31st street, a contractor, who was used as a dupe by the hoodlums, and in turn double crossed. Mihaleje told police last night that he had lost $35,000 on horse races in the last two years, and because he is well known to bookmakers and therefore is able to telephone bets, he was chosen as a tool by the telephone tappers.

Mihaleje said he had bet mostly at Kahout's, a small time bookmaker in Halsted street, between 21st and 22d streets. One of the betmakers was known to him only as "Fritzie." This man approached him last week, he said.

"I know you've lost heavily over at Kahout's," the former betmaker said. "String along with us and make a killing."

Mihaleje consented. On Tuesday "Fritzie" introduced him to four other men, "Gimpy," "Duke," "Ralph," and "Doc." They led him to a vacant flat near Kahout's place. Every half hour or so they instructed Mihaleje to wager on a certain horse. He did so, betting in all $625 and winning $535.

Forced to Give Up Winnings.

But yesterday the five trickers visited Mihaleje's home and compelled him to hand over his winnings, as well as his original fund, a total of $1,160. He told Sergts. William Smith and William Lawler. The two questioned the bookmaker, who was also the wire tappers' victim.

Then the police examined Kahout's telephone wires. They discovered a cut-off, disconnecting his news agency wire and leading to the vacant flat.

"These hoodlums would cut off the bookie," explained a police official last night. "They would hear the report on races from the central agency which was intended for the bookie. Then they'd have Mihaleje make a last minute bet. The bookie, knowing Mihaleje, would accept it."

Film Couple Plan Divorce to Save Love

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Pictures on Page 3.)

Hollywood, Cal., March 23.—[Special.]—Ann Harding, motion picture star, and her husband, Harry Bannister, actor, today delivered simultaneous announcements of their intention to become divorced, in these words:

"We, Harry Bannister and Ann Harding Bannister, are getting a divorce because during our three years in the motion picture industry we have been placed in a position which is untenable."

The position was, according to a written announcement by Miss Harding, "that Harry Bannister was becoming known merely as 'Ann Harding's husband.'"

Miss Harding's Explanation.

Miss Harding's announcement states:

"Due to Harry's constant and generous effort to forward my interest, often at the expense of his own, he is gradually losing his identity, becoming a background for my activities and looked upon as 'Ann Harding's husband.'

"We have decided that the only way for Harry to reestablish himself in his profession is to cut the Gordian knot, to set forth on his own—quite apart from me—and win his way back to the standing he enjoyed in the theater before this unfortunate situation in pictures has a chance to reach us and destroy the love and respect we have for each other.

"We have found courage to preserve the thing we have, in the way that seems best to us."

Bannister Agrees.

Bannister's statement was as follows:

"During the five and a half years I have been married to Ann Harding, I have had the love and respect and the devotion of the very great and lovely person who is my wife. Therefore, in order to preserve this in its entirety, we find the apparently drastic course of divorce the quickest and best solution to our eventual complete happiness.

"There is nothing further that I can add to Mrs. Bannister's statement."

The Bannisters came to Hollywood shortly after Miss Harding, a hit in the eastern stage performance of "The Trial of Mary Dugan" retired from the stage. The couple's only child, Jane Bannister, was born here.

Go Into Films.

Their intention was to rest in California while Miss Harding recuperated, and in the meantime Bannister played a lead in the cow presentation of "Strange Interlude." Through the medium of Frank Reicher, movie veteran, who was a friend of both, Miss Harding was induced to take a film test at Pathe studio and her husband acted as her leading man during the film test.

A lucrative contract, later adjusted to pay the actress more than $200,000 a year, was then offered to Miss Harding, but not until the couple had talked it over, and an arrangement was made by which Pathe also offered a contract to Bannister.

The Bannister baby will remain with the mother during the couple's unusual separation, it was predicted by their acquaintances today. Miss Harding is 29 years old, and daughter of the late Col. [during the world war Brig. Gen.] George Gatley Harding. She was born at Fort Sam Houston.

HERE'S A SUBURB THAT IS NOT SHY OF SCHOOL CASH

The new Roosevelt grade school in South Holland was dedicated last night in the presence of Francis J. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction, school officials, and 900 townspeople. South Holland is five miles east of Harvey.

According to Dr. G. W. Walzoord, president of the board of education, financial worries are not bothering the South Holland schools. The schools could operate for a year without collecting any further taxes, he said. The board has between $20,000 and $30,000 in cash on hand.

The Roosevelt school cost $90,000. It has eight rooms and seven teachers. Nearly 250 pupils are already enrolled, with room for 70 more.

PANIC IN CAFE AS 2 GUNMEN ROB MANAGER

Two gunmen entered the Homewood restaurant at 605 Diversey parkway last night and held up the manager, Peter Henchel, and the cashier, Miss Helen Flatten, 844 Oakdale avenue. As the robbers flashed revolvers Miss Flatten ignored their commands for silence and screamed. This caused confusion among the fifty men and women patrons. Some of them dived under tables, and others stripped off their jewelry to foil the gunmen. The bandits ignored the patrons. They compelled Henchel to hand over $250 from the till and escaped.

FRIENDS, FOES OF SALES TAX GIRD FOR FIGHT

Vote on Beer Levy Also Due Today.

Germany Cuts Millions

[Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.]

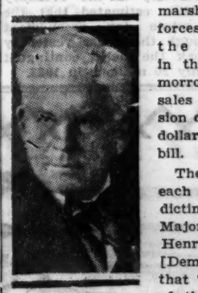
BERLIN, March 23.—The German budget for the next fiscal year, now being prepared, will be balanced at two billion dollars, which is half the United States' budget and a little more than three times that of New York City.

This figure represents another material cut in expenditures. For the fiscal year 1930 the total was two billion 700 million dollars and for the fiscal year 1931 it was two billion 500 million dollars.

The cut has been made despite the fact that unemployment relief expenditures, which, aside from domestic war burdens represent the chief item, have increased many fold.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—The opposing generals were marshaling their forces tonight for the great battle in the house tomorrow over the sales tax provision of the billion dollar tax increase bill.



REP. HENRY T. RAINEY.

The leaders on each side are predicting victory. Majority Leader Henry T. Rainey [Dem., Ill.] said that "as a result of the additional exemptions of all foodstuffs, all clothing, farm machinery, and medicines proposed by the ways and means committee, the sales tax provision, as modified, will, in my opinion, command the support of an ample majority of the house."

Others Less Hopeful.

Many other prominent defenders of the sales tax, however, were less optimistic than Mr. Rainey and privately confessed they expect little, if anything, to be left of the provision after the battle that will begin tomorrow noon. The manufacturers' sales tax was originally designed to yield 595 millions of the 1 billion 100 millions required to balance the budget next year. By the exemptions voted as concessions to the insurgents the prospective yield has been reduced to about 450 millions.

"We are stronger today than at any time since the fight began," said Representative John E. Rankin [Dem., Miss.], one of the insurgent leaders. "There is no doubt in my mind that we shall be able to strike the entire sales tax provision from the bill."

Vote on Beer Tax.

The one cent a gallon excise tax on imported oil is also in danger of elimination from the bill. The New Englanders are the nucleus of the opposition to this tax. The Oklahoma and other oil state delegations are strong supporters of the proposal, but a large majority of the oil state members deserted the sales tax and are now being promised cold comfort by the sales tax partisans.

The Cullen beer amendment is scheduled to come before the house and force a counting of noses during the consideration of the sales tax provision. This amendment proposes a $5 a barrel tax on beer of 2.75 per cent alcoholic content. The proposal is based on the assumption that beer of that percentage of alcohol is non-intoxicating in fact. The proponents of the amendment estimate that the $5 a barrel tax would produce not less than 350 millions of dollars annually.

Lose Billion in Liquor Levy.

The wets, whose strength in the house has greatly increased, as was disclosed recently by the vote on the Beck-Linthicum bill to restore liquor control to the states, have been ramming home the argument that, save for prohibition, the federal government would be receiving from excise taxes on all liquor not less than one billion dollars a year, or enough to balance the budget next year without raising other taxes.

There is a good deal of evidence that this economic aspect of prohibition is an important factor in the current reaction against the noble experiment, but both houses are still preponderantly dry and none of the wet leaders entertains any real hope of the Cullen amendment prevailing.

Democratic Prestige Lowered.

Political repercussions of the house rebellion against the sales tax were to the fore in cloakroom discussion today. While the leadership of each of the two parties has been repudiated by the bipartisan coalition that soaked the rich with wartime income and estate taxes and is now squaring away to riddle the sales tax, it is the Democratic leadership that has suffered the most damage for the reason that the Democrats have the speaker and the majority and are therefore responsible for the course of legislation.

As matters now stand, Speaker Garner and the Democratic organization have scored a failure in the first trial of their leadership. The Democratic members, by a large majority, have refused to follow their accredited leaders on any important provision of the tax bill up to date.

The chief victim of the debacle is Speaker Garner, whose presidential boom is now bent and battered almost beyond recognition, in the opinion of most political observers. His misfortune is due not only to his party failure but to his own effort last Friday to minimize the repudiation of his leadership by expressing indifference to the fate of the sales tax.

Instantly it was said on every side that "Jack has run out on the sales tax advocates, including Mr. Hearst," who put him in the race for President. The next day Mr. Garner sought to repair the blunder with a strong statement for the sales tax but this blowing cold and blowing warm only created an impression of instability that lowered his prestige still further.

Coolidge Warning Hits Hoover.

Among Republicans there was much discussion of former President Coolidge's article in the Saturday Evening Post warning that tax increases must be temporary and drastic retrenchment of government expenditures permanent. Some were of the opinion that the article would be bound to induce comparison of the attitude of President Hoover and of his predecessor on these questions and to revive agitation for the drafting of Mr. Coolidge for the Republican nomination.

The difference between Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Hoover in these matters is well understood in Washington. Mr. Coolidge is a saver, Mr. Hoover is a spender to whom economizing is an uncongenial task. In his acceptance speech Mr. Hoover made it known that he favored the increase of government expenditures on public works to the extent of 1 billion dollars during the term of office he sought. The 4 billion 600 million budget he submitted last December for 1933 purported to be a reduction of more than 300 millions from 1932 expenditures, but Chairman Byrns of the house appropriation committee pointed out that the apparent saving was due to a juggling of figures.

Such small reductions as the house has made in appropriations up to date have been largely nullified by the senate appropriations committee at the instance of cabinet members, with the tacit approval of the President.

According to figures transmitted to the senate today by the treasury department government expenditures for the year ending March 1 last were 5 billions and revenue only half that amount. Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills estimated that the Ramseyer estate tax amendment pushed through the house yesterday by the "soak the rich" contingent will yield only 20 millions in 1933.

LA GUARDIA RAPS THE TRIBUNE FOR EDITORIAL ON HIM

Charge False, Representative Tells House.

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—Representative Fiorello H. La Guardia [Rep., N. Y.] today replied in a speech in the house to charges made in an editorial in Monday's CHICAGO TRIBUNE. Rising on a point of personal privilege, he said:

REP. F. H. LA GUARDIA. [Acme Photo.]

"Mr. Speaker, a newspaper published in the city of Chicago, known as THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE, on March 21, 1932, made this libelous and wilfully malicious statement concerning me as a member of this house:

"'La Guardia, who is an alien in mind and spirit from Americanism, who has no loyalty to our form of government and shows every indication that he is willing to destroy it.'

"Mr. Speaker, there are only two things that a poor man has in this country. They are his honor and his love and loyalty to his country.

Disagree on Taxation.

"It is certainly stooping pretty low when a newspaper, because of differences of opinion, honest differences of opinion, will make such a cowardly attack on a member of the house.

"The writer of this article no doubt wrote it under instructions and the purpose is manifest.

"THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE apparently disagrees with my views on maintaining a policy of taxation, which this congress has adopted, of a progressive, graduated tax on incomes and disagrees with me in my efforts to prevent any system of taxation which will put a greater burden on the great masses of the American people in order to relieve a favored privileged minority.

"Gentlemen, I believe in the freedom of the press. I believe in free speech. I am often, and naturally, attacked and criticized and very often misrepresented because of the active attitude I take on many issues in this house. I do not complain. I realize it is a part of our work, but I do resent and I protest an attack of this kind, inspired to create passion and prejudice and animosity in order to becloud the real issue, that of taxation, before the house.

Cites New York Criticism.

"I am sure there is no man on the floor of this house who happens to agree with me or who has taken a similar attitude on this tax question who would not resent an attack of this kind. Have they no arguments to present to support their contention, whatever it may be? Is it necessary to jeopardize the standing of a member on the floor of the house by such an attack?

"This paper owns a newspaper in my city, under different management, but it is owned by the same family. That paper criticized me editorially Sunday. It misrepresented me to a certain extent, but the editorial, the attack or the criticism was within bounds. It was proper from their viewpoint. I have no criticism to make of that, but because they could find nothing else, except perhaps the two vowels in the ending of my name, they make this cowardly attack.

Would Compare Standing.

"Gentlemen, there are certain things that a even a member of congress cannot submit to and this is one of them. I am not going to take the time of the house today because of the calendar situation. I am not going at this time into the reasons for my attitude on the tax bill because it would not be proper. But I do want to say to Mr. CHICAGO TRIBUNE that I will compare my standing in my community with the standing of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE in the city of Chicago."

Then Representative Blanton, dry ~~Democrat from Texas~~ and a frequent opponent of La Guardia on the prohibition question, got up and characterized the attack as unfair, untrue, and unjust. He called attention to the fact that La Guardia, born in New York, spent his childhood in a military fort in Arizona; that his father served the United States for 20 years in the army; that he was the second man from the house to enlist in the world war, and left the house in uniform.

Blanton Defends La Guardia.

"When La Guardia's fighting against prohibition he's a God in the eyes of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE," said Blanton. "But when he fights special privileges, this same TRIBUNE comes in and tries to crucify him.

"He led the fight against Muscle Shoals being given away and he saved this power prospect for the American people. I have often been on the other side of the question from Mr. La Guardia, but I do not believe there's a more valuable man in the house.

"If a paper in my district would say such an unjust thing about Maj. La Guardia I'd try to run it out of my district."

RETIRES

JOHN L. PATTEN.

John L. Patten, son of the late James A. Patten, the "wheat king," sold his membership on the Board of Trade yesterday and let it be known that he is retiring from business. He also sent his resignation to the Union League club. He is 36 years old.

Mr. Patten bought an estate at Miami Beach, Fla., last November and he said he intends to go there and do a lot of sailing. He is the owner of several boats.

In 1917 Patten went to France to drive an ambulance during the war. There he enlisted in the army engineer corps and was in an officers' training camp at the end of the war. His father's estate of $18,000,000 was left to the widow with the provision that upon her death half would go to charity and the other half would be divided between the son and his sister, Mrs. Agnes Patten Wilder of Santa Barbara, Cal.

Fireman and 3 Policemen Ousted from City Service

Three policemen and a fireman were ordered dismissed from the city service yesterday after hearings before the civil service commission. The employés were Policemen John J. Walsh, James O'Donnell, and William Bresnahan, who were found guilty in federal court on charges of having extorted money by posing as prohibition agents, and Fireman Peter J. O'Boyle, who was charged with intoxication.

Nebraska Beauty Shop Operator Kidnaped, Report

Lincoln, Neb., March 24.—(AP)—The Journal said today it has learned from an authoritative source Miss Laurel Morrison, 30, Aurora, Neb., beauty shop operator, had been kidnaped within the last 48 hours and is being held for ransom. Police declined to comment on the report.

OWNER OF STORE ROBBED.

Two bandits forced Sandor Rosenberg, manager of the Superior Tea and Coffee shop at 3641 Orden avenue, to open the safe and hand over $450 yesterday. They escaped in an automobile driven by an accomplice.

BEAUTY SHOP ROBBER GETS A SLAP FACIAL

Five Women Cry 'Shame!' But He Takes Money.

A bandit visited Walter Bevan's beauty shop at 1309 Wilson avenue last night, interrupting facials, permanent waves, and such uplifting things, much to the annoyance of three patrons and two attendants, all women.

The bold intruder forced his five victims into an anteroom. There he announced he would accept their valuables. If they refused his terms, he added, he would shoot. This was too much for Mrs. Catherine Summerfield of 947 Galt avenue.

"You're a coward and you wouldn't shoot!" she said.

At the same instant she slapped the bandit on the face. He slapped her in return.

"That shows you up for a coward!" she cried. And again she slapped him. Meanwhile the other women, Mrs. Lee Ernst, 4800 North Ashland avenue, and a Miss Hunter, patrons, and Miss Gladys Harz and Miss Geraldine Mulvaney, both of 4440 North Ashland avenue, operators, added their voices to Mrs. Summerfield's.

But the bandit went about his task of robbery, taking a few dollars from each victim, until he had amassed a total of $35. As he turned to leave a feminine chorus of protest arose.

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself!" was the cry.

The police were called a few minutes later and learned the story.

REJECT SPEAKEASY AS LOGICAL EXHIBIT IN PROHIBITION FAIR

Washington, D. C., March 23.—(AP)—A suggestion by Senator Tydings of Maryland that a speakeasy be included in a prohibition fair to be held here April 17, has been rejected.

The Maryland Democrat, an anti-prohibitionist, proposed this in a letter to William Runfus Scott, director of the fair.

In a statement today the organization said a speakeasy had not been planned because they "are as old as the liquor traffic itself" and had not been produced by prohibition.

A modern soda fountain will be included, however, "to typify the general shift to soft drinks under prohibition."

NEW CLEWS LINK GANG TO PARKER KIDNAP MYSTERY

Peoria, Ill., March 23.—[Special.]—The kidnaping March 14 of Dr. James W. Parker, prominent physician and president of Illinois Tax Securities corporation, is near solution, Chief of Police Thomas McCann said today in announcing new clews unearthed through contacts with authorities in towns near Peoria.

Declining to divulge the exact nature of the clews, Chief of Police McCann said only that Peoria detectives are trailing a gang said to operate near Peoria and that the physician was kidnaped for reasons other than ransom.

Dr. Parker disappeared shortly after he was en route to an exclusive downtown club. It was believed that he was kidnaped by men who hid in the garage at the rear of his home. His automobile was found at the edge of the town the morning after his disappearance.

ENDS HIS LIFE IN HOME.

Samuel E. Shapiro, 55 years old, owner of a coal and ice business, ended his life with gas yesterday in his home at 2337 Haddon avenue.

MAYOR JOHNSON OF GARY TO RUN FOR CONGRESS

Mayor R. O. Johnson of Gary, Ind., went to Indianapolis yesterday to file a petition as a candidate for congress in the newly created district in Lake county. As he left he served notice on the city council he would not accept a pay cut in his present office, the term of which expires on Dec. 31, 1933.

"It cost me $10,000 to land the job of mayor and another $7,500 to hold it," he declared. "I earn every dollar I'm getting and anybody who thinks I intend to refund any part of my budget so the city can balance its budget is plumb crazy."

Mayor Johnson served a prison sentence for violating the prohibition law. He was reëlected on a vindication platform and has since been indicted on a charge of using city funds to construct a summer cottage and build a rock garden at his residence.

SOCIETY WOMAN DIES IN CAR CRASH.

Omaha, March 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Margaret Bowser, 25, prominent Omaha society woman, was killed almost instantly in an automobile collision here today.

CALDWELL HOME AFTER 3D VISIT TO LINDBERGHS

Still Silent on His Part in Baby Search.

H. Wallace Caldwell, member and former president of the school board, returned to Chicago yesterday after his third visit to the home of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh at Hopewell, N. J. During the visit he discussed information he had given to officials investigating the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby.

Mr. Caldwell declined to talk of his trip or the nature of his information, which, he said, was considered important by the officials. He said he had been told by Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, commander of the New Jersey state police, who is in charge of the kidnaping investigation, "the less said of your visit and information the better."

He Will Carry On Here.

"For myself I can say I am very hopeful the outcome will be satisfactory," said Caldwell. "Of course I cannot speak for the Lindberghs. I will continue to work here. I will have help. I cannot say more because what I might say might possibly be misconstrued and might hinder the investigation. Any news which may develop will come from Hopewell.

"I can say that as a result of my visit the very high esteem in which I held Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh is even greater than before. I am amazed at the courage and bravery they are showing under such trying circumstances.

"I feel sure that Col. Schwarzkopf is handling the investigation in a most able and competent manner. He is a graduate of West Point, a war veteran, and particularly versed in the conduct of such an investigation. Everything humanly possible toward the return of the child is being done.

Three Days with Lindberghs.

"As far as my participation is concerned, it is true I have spent three days and several evenings with Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh. The value of the information I presented should be weighed by Col. Schwarzkopf."

Mr. Caldwell first visited the Lindbergh home on March 17. In the last five days he made two more visits. He has not revealed the source of any information he may have concerning the kidnaping or how it came to him.

"I can only say I was surprised at receiving it," said Caldwell. "I did nothing to get it, but once it was in my hands I reported it. I believe it to be of major importance."

SEALED VERDICT IS ORDERED IN PECK BANK CASE

Federal Judge John P. Barnes, after waiting from 6 p. m. until 10:30 o'clock last night for a jury to reach a verdict in the case of Ralph L. Peck, former president of the First National bank of Palatine, charged with embezzling $35,000 of the bank's funds, ordered that the verdict be sealed if one is reached during the night. He will receive it when the court opens at 9 o'clock today.

Peck contended during his trial that the bank owed him the amount he is charged with embezzling. The prosecutors presented testimony to show that he sold one mortgage for more than $20,000 after it had been received by him as collateral for a loan, and did not pay the money into the bank.

Assistant United States District Attorney Owen A. West also brought out in his cross-examination of the defendant that Peck failed to schedule among the liabilities of the bank the amounts he said the institution owed him.

Peck faces a maximum sentence of fifty-five years' imprisonment and fines of $55,000 if convicted on all of the eleven counts in the indictment.

Pair Rob Collector and Leave Him Tied in Hall

Theodore D. Smith, 3811 Sunnyside avenue, an insurance collector, was robbed of $100 last night by two bandits, who tied him to a balustrade in the hallway of a building at 2519 West Harrison street. He told the police the pair overtook him as he was walking upstairs. They took off his shoes and socks, he said, as a further precaution to prevent him from following them.

HOLD UP SIX IN OFFICE; TAKE $500.

HUNT GANGSTER ON NEW CLEW IN LINDBERGH CASE

Ladder Kidnapers Used Back in Limelight.

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Officials investigating the kidnaping of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's baby son concentrated today on the search for Harry Fleischer, former Detroit gangster, and efforts to identify the criminals through the ladder they left behind when they fled with the child.

COL. HENRY BRECKENRIDGE. [Acme photo.]

The police have been informed that Fleischer, once a member of the purple gang, desperadoes who flourished in Detroit until they were driven out, is in hiding with an east side gunman. A Bronx apartment was raided Tuesday in search of Fleischer and it was revealed today that New York state police and detectives from New Jersey had raided several houses at Greenport, L. I., on information that the two gangsters were in hiding there.

Other Clews Fail.

The raids, which produced no clews to the whereabouts of the fugitives, were not the only wild goose chases on which the police embarked during the day. Detectives here, at the request of New Jersey authorities, visited two Brooklyn addresses and found a correspondence school detective at one and a surprised family with no connection with the case at another.

The detectives found at one address Thomas La Salle, a cripple, who has been studying crime detection by mail and who the New Jersey authorities said they believed had valuable information on the kidnaping. The youth explained, however, that he merely had suggested certain lines of investigation in letters to Col. Lindbergh, Gov. A. Harry Moore, Col. Henry Breckenridge, and Dudley Field Malone.

Ladder Back at Hopewell.

The detectives who visited another Brooklyn house were met by the surprised family of Lawrence Ewell, a business man, who said he could not understand how his name became connected with the case. After talking to him, the detectives said they could not understand it either and went away.

Meanwhile the ladder which the kidnapers used to reach the second story window of the nursery in the Lindbergh home on the night of March 1, when the baby was stolen, was transported from Trenton to Hopewell again. It was explained that the police at Hopewell wanted another opportunity to compare the wood in the ladder with scraps found recently on an old farm about four miles from the aviator's estate in the Sourland mountains.

DR. G. C. FISHER IS SUED BY WIFE; KICKING CHARGED

Mrs. Miriam C. Fisher charged yesterday that her husband, Dr. George Carl Fisher, 7558 Kingston avenue, assistant professor and head of a branch of the Northwestern university medical clinic, had "kicked her out of bed and locked her out of his room." The charge was contained in a bill for divorce filed in the Circuit court.

The kicking incident, according to the bill which was drawn by Attorney Ferre C. Watkins of the law firm of Watkins, Tenhoor & Gilbert, occurred on March 5, 1929. Four days later, according to the bill, Dr. Fisher threw his wife across a kitchen table in their home. For months at a time, the bill recited, he refused to speak to her or "extended only the barest civilities." In spite of his $25,000 annual income, Dr. Fisher refused to give his wife any money, the bill charged.

Soon after their marriage on Dec. 14, 1928, the doctor "began his course of cruel treatment," the bill alleged.

MAYOR REVEALS CAMPBELL PLEA FOR PARTY AID

Hits Downstater and Igoe at Meeting.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Mayor Cermak told some inside politics yesterday. He related just how Bruce A. Campbell of East St. Louis, one of the three major candidates for the nomination for governor, tried to bring about the withdrawal of his two chief opponents, Judge Henry Horner and Michael L. Igoe.

BRUCE A. CAMPBELL. [Zahn Photo.]

He said this was an eleventh hour effort made just at the time the state central committee was about to vote the indorsement of Judge Horner, which has been debated so much during the campaign. It was Cermak's answer to Campbell's repeated assertion that he did not seek the organization's indorsement.

Attacks Dry Stand of Foe.

The mayor then charged that Campbell fought to exclude from the wet state platform upon which he prides himself the plank for the repeal of the state prohibition laws and that Campbell always voted dry when he was a member of the legislature.

Then, without using his name, Cermak charged that Igoe blocked the passage of relief legislation for Chicago in the special session of the general assembly and had fought the passage of the Kelly bill, the final enactment of which, he said, now has brought promise that the local governments can obtain the money to meet their pay rolls and "catch up" by July 1.

The mayor was an unexpected speaker at a luncheon of ward leaders and public officials in the ballroom of the Hotel Sherman. The affair had been arranged in the belief that Judge Horner could talk to the 500 present, but the candidate's physician ordered him to remain at home for the day, promising that he could resume the stump this evening.

Cermak Speaker at Close.

In this absence Judge John P. McGoorty spoke in his behalf, and Walter Nesbit of Belleville, which is Campbell's home town, was called upon. Controller M. S. Szymczak spoke and it was thought the program was over when Mayor Cermak asked to speak "a few words."

He said that at the time the state central committee was in session in the Hotel Sherman to vote its indorsements he was called to Campbell's room and found Igoe already there.

"Campbell said that he assumed full responsibility for the meeting," said Mayor Cermak, "and said that he felt that because he could get more votes downstate than any one else he could carry Illinois and that his service to the party entitled him to the chance.

"'I ask you,' said Campbell to Igoe, 'to run for attorney general, and perhaps the boys will be able to satisfy Horner with something else besides governor.'

"His proposal was rejected and Judge Horner was indorsed, but I think the facts I have related will nail the lie that Campbell didn't seek the indorsement."

State Repeal Left Out.

He said in connection with the famous 1926 wet platform, to which Campbell frequently refers as his work, that Campbell was instructed to include a national repeal plank and a state repeal plank, but omitted the latter.

"You will recall that when I discovered the omission," Mayor Cermak continued, "I moved an amendment to include it. The convention recessed for an hour and during that time Campbell battled against including the plank, but I refused to yield and the amendment went in.

"And further, as to Campbell's wetness, let me say that we served in the general assembly together and you know that when a question of prohibition policy came up I voted 'no.' Well, every time I voted 'no,' Campbell voted 'aye.' He finally came over, but only because the tide washed him over."

Before referring to Igoe the mayor said a word about the general nature of the primary contest.

"Henry Horner is our candidate, it is true," he said, "but this is our fight. If we lose, I, as one of the leaders of the present organization, will take off my hat and turn the organization over to the other fellows."

Refers to Opposition.

The mayor said he did not wish to refer to other candidates by name, but that he must mention one who for four months fought at the special session against giving Chicago the relief for which the special session was called.

"Finally," he said, "we could have got together, but what happened? Like a thunderbolt came the news that the general assembly had adjourned until April 19. Where was this candidate then? He found it convenient to be out of Springfield."

In the same way, without mentioning the name of the minority leader of the house, he referred to Igoe's opposition to the Kelly bill, which almost killed that measure for the reorganization of the Cook county taxing machinery.

A Promise of Relief.

"And I tell you now that relief is in sight as a result of the enactment of the Kelly bill, through its operation toward putting personal property on the tax books," the mayor said. "That work already has begun and I can tell you that I have seen one personal property assessment of $400,000 raised to $720,000.

"I am not in favor of the small home owner's paying personal property taxes on his furniture, but the big property owners who have not been paying should be made to pay, and that is what is to be done under the new system.

"So certain is this that I rejoice in being able to tell you that the banks now see their way clear to advance the money to meet our pay rolls—city, county, schools, sanitary district and the others—not only now but for the future. So excellent are the prospects that I hope we will be able to catch up with current pay rolls by July 1."

Judge McGoorty told his hearers that Igoe "never has been a good vote getter." He said that in 1920 Igoe was defeated for state's attorney by 200,000, and that in 1924 he was beaten for the same office by 298,000.

POLITICIANS EYE BAR ASS'N POLL ON PROSECUTOR

Ballots Will Be Sent Out Saturday.

Following the precedent of four years ago, the Chicago Bar association will hold a primary of its full membership this year on all candidates for state's attorney in the party primaries of April 12.

Until 1928 the practice of the organization had limited the postal vote of its membership to candidates for judicial office, but in that year it included the state's attorney's office in the test of opinion and the results were such that this poll is to be repeated.

Ballots in Mail Saturday.

The ballots are to go into the mails next Saturday. They will be accompanied by the reports of the association's committee on candidates—which consists of its former presidents—which will recite briefly the professional records of all the aspirants, closing, in each instance, with the verdict of the committee as to the qualification of the candidate.

In the same envelope will go the findings of the committee in reference to the numerous candidates for the twelve places on the Municipal bench that are to be filled this year, with a ballot upon which each member may vote for the twelve he considers best qualified for election. It is expected that between 3,000 and 4,000 votes will be cast.

Voted 5 to 1 for Swanson.

In the bar primary of 1928 the results were of a character thought to have had considerable influence on the result of the Republican primary that followed. The lawyers voted approximately 5 to 1 for Swanson over Robert E. Crowe, then state's attorney, the exact vote being 2,191 for Swanson to 463 for Crowe.

This year Swanson's chief opponent is Judge Michael Feinberg, whose name was brought before the membership of the bar association in a primary of 1927 when he was a candidate for his present place on the bench. In that test of the opinion of the lawyers there were 2,966 votes cast. Judge Francis S. Wilson was high man with 2,711. Feinberg received 957 votes, landing in twenty-fifth place with only twenty to be elected.

Feinberg Managed by Crowe.

Because of this history and the fact that Crowe is managing Judge Feinberg's campaign, particular interest is attached to this race in the Republican part of the bar primary, with some additional interest in the question of the number of votes that will go to Municipal Judge John H. Lyle, a third entrant.

It is said there is not so much interest among the lawyers in the vote on Democratic contenders. The fight here is between State Senator Thomas J. Courtney, the regular organization candidate, and Municipal Judge Matthew D. Hartigan, the Igoe entry, with several added starters who have attracted little attention.

JACK GUZIK AND OLIVER TO SEEK ANOTHER DELAY

Counsel for Gene G. Oliver, former county assessor, and Jack Guzik, Capone gangster, will seek delays of one week in their transportation to Leavenworth penitentiary for income tax fraud. Oliver and Guzik were expected to leave tomorrow night with a regular shipment of prisoners, but the United States attorney's office was informed that the petitions for stays would be made before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today.

Two new attorneys appeared for Oliver, but did not explain his desire to remain at liberty in bond for a week. Capt. William F. Waugh for Guzik explained that the gangster's daughter was seriously ill in Florida and that Guzik was there with her.

Notes of the Primary Campaign

Edward P. Allen of Quincy, secretary of the Democratic state central committee, campaign manager for Bruce Campbell, issued a statement yesterday saying that his candidate could poll 250,000 more votes for governor in the November election than either of his chief opponents.

Omer N. Custer and other candidates on his ticket will attend a meeting of the North Shore Chiefs of Police at Evanston tomorrow afternoon. From there they will go to Ottawa for a night meeting.

Edward J. Brundage will speak in Springfield this evening at a rally at which Roger Chapin will preside. He will speak in De Kalb on Friday and in Oregon on Saturday. Because of bad roads, his meeting scheduled for Waukegan yesterday was postponed until next Wednesday.

Judge Michael Feinberg made public a list of 20 Republican leaders he said are backing him for state's attorney and challenged his principal opponent, State's Attorney Swanson, to follow suit.

Robert L. Taylor, assistant attorney for the election board, explained the primary law yesterday to members of the South Shore League of Women Voters at a meeting in the Bryn Mawr Community church.

NAME BRUNDAGE AND WHIP GANGS, RANDOLPH PLEA

Commends Candidate for Attack on G. O. P.

Former Attorney General Brundage's attack on the "racketeering of the Republican party" brought commendation yesterday from Robert I. Randolph, chief of the "Secret Six" and former president of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

"I congratulate Mr. Brundage," read a statement sent by Mr. Randolph from Washington, "for his fearless stand upon the real issues in this campaign.

"It is refreshing to see a man in public life who can understand the fundamental cause of our present conditions and who is not afraid to hold it up to the light. No one realizes better than I the need for a governor who understands the power and ramifications of the organized underworld and who has the courage to lead the fight against it.

"Drive Out Gangsters."

"Until you put in office a man who will use the whole power of his position as governor to break the political hold of the gangsters and drive the Capones and their allies out of Chicago and Illinois, you will never have any real relief from extravagance and corruption in government.

"The one underlying fundamental issue in this campagn is whether political organizations allied or subservient to the machinations of the gang leaders who use their power to deliver votes shall control the Republican party or whether the decent, honest citizens are going to take that power into their own hands.

"The candidacy of Edward J. Brundage offers the only real opportunity in this Republican primary to break the grip of the underworld."

Custer Answers Brundage.

In his statement on Tuesday Brundage charged that, knowingly or unknowingly, Gov. Emmerson is permitting state patronage to be used in efforts for election by some candidates for the Republican county committee who are aligned with the Capone element. This charge was referred to last night in a speech at the Lincoln Turner hall by Omer N. Custer, the Emmerson candidate for governor.

"The former attorney general informs you," said Custer, "that all of the ward committeemen who are not for him are personal representatives of Al Capone, but that those who are for him are statesmen and scholars."

Custer's speech was devoted largely to this sort of reference to his opponents. He said that Len Small's promises would lead to the belief that his [Small's] election would lead to "a sort of heaven on earth."

"If I am elected governor," said Custer, "I am going to do my best to work out some plan for the reduction of the cost of government, some way of securing an equitable solution of the ancient tax problem, in short, to give the state the best administration of which I am capable."

MOVIE STAR SILENT ON SETTLEMENT OF SUITS

Marlene Dietrich, whose publicity staff has given out the facsimile of a letter addressed to the German film star by Mrs. Riza Royce von Sternburg, divorced wife of Miss Dietrich's film director, Joe von Sternburg, which announces that she has withdrawn suits against Miss Dietrich. One of the suits accused Miss Dietrich of libeling Mrs. von Sternburg, the other charged theft of the movie director's affections. They were for a total of $600,000. Inset: Mrs. Riza Royce von Sternburg.

Refuses to Talk

Hollywood, Cal., March 23.—[Special.]—Marlene Dietrich, German film star, continued to preserve silence today on reports that she had arranged a cash settlement with Mrs. Riza Royce von Sternberg, divorced wife of Miss Dietrich's film director, Joe von Sternberg.

Miss Dietrich's only statement, reiterated by the publicity staff at the studio where she is employed, was that nothing was known of any settlement of any nature made upon Mrs. von Sternberg. Von Sternberg could not be reached.

A facsimile of a letter, dated Feb. 3, 1932, and addressed to "Mrs. Marlene Dietrich, Hollywood, Cal.," was given out. It bore the signature of "Riza von Sternberg," and said, "I beg to advise you that I have this day directed my attorneys to dismiss all litigation against you."

A Los Angeles attorney who figured in the Von Sternbergs' several marital breaks and reconciliations preceding their final divorce in 1931, today stated that Mrs. Von Sternberg had received a settlement satisfactory to her in the dismissal of the two Dietrich suits for $600,000. One suit accused Miss Dietrich of libeling Mrs. Von Sternberg and the other charged theft of the movie director's affections.

AUSTRALIAN HOPS FROM ENGLAND TO SEEK AIR RECORD

LYMPNE, England, March 24.—[Thursday.]—(AP)—J. A. Mollison, Australian flyer, left the airdrome here at 1 a. m. today in an attempt to make a record flight from England to Cape Town, South Africa. He will try a new route over west Africa instead of the customary one over the eastern side of the continent.

The crucial part of the flight will be the 2,000 miles over the Sahara desert, which he said he intends to cover at night.

TRAIN HALTED BY FLARE; NEGRO FIREMAN SLAIN

Vicksburg, Miss., March 23.—(AP)—A signal flare halted a freight train of the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railway, near here early today, and a few moments later Wilbur Anderson, Negro fireman, was shot to death in the second mysterious attack on Negro railroad men within a week.

Engineer F. W. Behrnes stopped the train as soon as he saw the flare. The light was extinguished suddenly and an unindentified man with a shot gun climbed into the cab. Anderson leaped to the ground and started running, but was shot down beside the locomotive.

The slayer vanished before Behrnes could determine whether he was a white man or a Negro

GOV. ROOSEVELT WINNER 10 TO 1 IN GEORGIA POLL

Backers Predict Victory in Every County.

Atlanta, Ga., March 23.—(AP)—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt won a smashing victory in the Georgia presidential preference primary today over Judge G. H. Howard of Atlanta, who was running for Speaker John N. Garner.

The returns late tonight placed 398 of the 410 county unit votes in the Roosevelt column with five counties missing. Judge Howard, with half of the precincts reported in Catoosa county, had a vote of 57 to 50 for Roosevelt. A newspaper correspondent at Ringgold, county seat, said the four remaining precincts were expected to go for Roosevelt and to put the county in his column.

Gov. Roosevelt had a lead of almost 10 to 1 in the popular vote over Howard. The vote so far reported was 51,498 for Roosevelt and 5,541 for Howard.

W. E. Page, personal representative of Gov. Roosevelt in Georgia, issued the following statement early tonight:

"We simply have been deluged with telegrams from all over the state indicating that Gov. Roosevelt will sweep the state solid and, at the present time, I do not see a chance for Judge Howard to carry a single county."

U. S. PAYS $30,437 TAX REFUND TO RAMON NOVARRO

Los Angeles, Cal., March 23.—[Special.]—Ramon Novarro, movie star, today received a government refund of $30,437 on his income tax payments for 1928 and 1929, the refund bearing notice that it was forwarded "from allowance of deductions for losses incurred through embezzlement." Novarro declined to explain the embezzlement. His attorney, Stanley N. Barnes, said: "No complaints were ever made out. Consequently, I cannot discuss the embezzlement."

Judgment for $31,000, resulting from eight years of litigation over her 1917 income tax, was entered here today by United States District Judge William P. James against Clara Kimball Young, motion picture actress. Suit against the actress was filed in 1924. The judgment is to place the government in readiness to levy on any assets discovered in the future.

RASKOB 'CLEARS' BANK OF FUNDS GIVEN TO PARTY

Denies Firm Is Guilty of Contributing to Smith.

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, today pledged his personal responsibility for the notes which Timothy J. Mara and Patrick F. Kenny signed in 1928 as their share of a $1,000,000 fund to underwrite the deficit of Alfred E. Smith's campaign for the presidency, and which they now assert were made to veil a contribution actually made by the County Trust company in violation of the election law.

JOHN J. RASKOB.

In a formal statement Mr. Raskob reiterated the assurance of the bank officials that the trust company knew nothing of the underwriting agreement and had no connection with campaign contributions to the Democratic party. Neither was Mr. Smith informed, he said.

Raskob Denies Charge.

If Mr. Mara and Mr. Kenny, in their answers to the suit brought against them by the trust company to collect their notes for $50,000 and $20,000, respectively," have said that even one dollar of County Trust company funds was contributed or given in aid of the Democratic national committee in any way, shape, or form," said Mr. Raskob, "that statement is entirely untrue."

At the same time it was learned the $1,077,500 pledged to cover the Democratic deficit, not more than 15 per cent was borrowed through the County Trust company.

No other maker of such notes, it was learned, has advanced the story told by Mr. Kenny and Mr. Mara that the late James J. Riordan, then president of the bank, called the notes "accommodation," meant to cover contributions actually furnished by the bank—notes which would not be called for payment.

Both Renewed Notes.

The others who made notes through the trust company to obtain the amounts for which they had pledged themselves in the underwriting agreement either have retired their obligations or have reduced thm, it was authoritatively stated.

Mr. Mara and Mr. Kenny both renewed their notes every six months until May 24, 1931, and paid the interest on them up to that time. Mr. Kenny, it was declared, despite the contention that his note was never meant for payment, reduced it from the original $25,000 to $20,000 between May, 1929, and May, 1931.

BISHOP FORBIDS SACRAMENTS TO MODERN DANCERS

[Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, March 23.—In one of the most drastic religious pronouncements heard in France in some years, Msgr. Du Parc, bishop of Quimper et Leon, today issued a mandate condemning modern dancing, modern newspapers, and automobile joy rides.

The mandate describes dance halls as "schools of corruption" and deprives proprietors of all privileges of sacraments unless they close their establishments. Their children are also included in this order.

All those who dance modern dances will be also deprived of the sacraments, as well as readers and venders of newspapers, except Catholic organs. Msgr. Du Parc protests against joy rides in which young men and women are unchaperoned."

STUDENT SHOT IN COLLEGE SCRAPE MAY LOSE LIFE

Charge Filed Against One; Quiz Ordered.

Columbia, Mo., March 23.—[Special.]—One Missouri university student today lay near death, two others were seriously injured, and nearly a score faced the possibility of summary dismissal from school as the result of a college prank here last Saturday night.

D. Frank Luckey, engineering student of Columbia, and Jerry Cebe, St. Louis, another engineering student, and Burnis Frederick, Union Star, Mo., were in the university hospital tonight, Luckey suffering from a revolver shot through the abdomen and Cebe with one in the leg, both inflicted by Frederick.

Beaten in Reprisal.

Frederick is suffering from a possible skull fracture received in a beating given him by engineering students for shooting Luckey and Cebe as they sought to capture him and "shave his head" as a reprisal for the kidnaping of Miss Mary Louise Butterfield.

A charge of "carrying concealed weapons" was filed against Frederick tonight by Boone County Prosecutor Franklin E. Reagan. Frederick arranged to give $1,000 bond.

The shooting scrape was precipitated when a quartet of law students kidnaped Miss Butterfield, Kansas City, Mo., co-ed, who had been chosen to reign as queen over the annual St. Pat's ball given by the engineering students.

Investigation Is Ordered.

Dr. Walter Williams, president of the university, declared "such actions will not be tolerated either as manifestations of college spirit or collegiate rivalry." Dr. Williams has ordered an investigation of the incident.

Dr. Williams' statement was taken to mean that the students involved in the scrape may soon find themselves ousted from Missouri university.

312,897 MEN PUT BACK ON JOBS BY LEGION'S EFFORT

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—A total of 312,897 men have been added to the pay rolls of the nation during the first five weeks of the American Legion's "war against depression," Mark T. McKee of Detroit advised President Hoover today. McKee is executive director of the Legion drive to reduce unemployment.

MARK T. M'KEE. [Kaider-Keystone.]

The Legion is conducting the war against depression in cooperation with the American Federation of Labor and the Association of National Advertisers. Mr. McKee said that the results thus far, averaging 60,000 men put back to work each week since the drive began on Feb. 15, have been achieved through the work of 1791 communities. He said that plans are under way for organizing 5,000 communities.

Thus far the Red Cross has been called upon for three and a quarter million bushels of the government wheat made available for relief work, officials announced today. The largest number of applications have come from the eastern states.

Six hundred and seven chapters of the Red Cross have forwarded applications for 400,307 barrels of flour to be used for needy people and 289 chapters have requested 86,199,660 pounds of feed for live stock.

7 of 135 U. S. Actors Barred from Britain in 6 Months

LONDON, March 23.—(AP)—In the past six months only seven out of 135 American theatrical performers who applied for admission to Great Britain were refused, the house of commons was informed today. R. S. Hudson, parliamentary secretary for the Labor ministry, said there is no plan to change the government policy regarding admission of foreign actors.

Two rows of perfect teeth

AT TWENTY? ORDINARY
AT THIRTY? PROBABLE
OVER FORTY ? ? ? ? ?

Start protection against pyorrhea RIGHT NOW

There is no "telling" about teeth. A perfect set today! And tomorrow? Perhaps a space that held two—or three or six—for the dentist's skill to bridge.

That is the way pyorrhea works. It may start when you are twenty or thirty and it may be ten years or longer before it begins to take your teeth. But in the end, pyorrhea takes actually half the adult teeth which are lost!

The trouble with pyorrhea is that it seems a distant danger. It may happen to somebody else—but you never think it will happen to you. The fact remains that four out of five people past the age of forty have pyorrhea—and they probably had it for several years before they knew.

It's up to you to take two steps to prevent "lost teeth." First, be sure not to forget the address of your dentist. Visit him twice a year, anyway. He is a real friend in need. Second, pick out a toothpaste that does more than polish your teeth. Forhan's Toothpaste is a thoroughly good cleanser—none better. But it takes care of the gums too, and that is mighty important, because you cannot have healthy teeth in unhealthy gums. Dr. R. J. Forhan worked 26 years as a pyorrhea specialist, and his exclusive formula cannot be obtained by the public except in Forhan's Toothpaste. Get ahead of pyorrhea. Prevention is the only way. Take it seriously and you will not be sorry. Start today with Forhan's. All druggists.

BROR DAHLBERG ASKS A DIVORCE FOR DESERTION

Wife Now Living on Isle Off Spanish Coast.

Bror G. Dahlberg, president of the Celotex company, filed suit for divorce in the Circuit court yesterday against Mrs. Mary C. Dahlberg. The bill charged desertion, reciting that Mrs. Dahlberg left their home at 999 Lake Shore drive on Jan. 23, 1931, and has not returned.

Other allegations of the bill were brief. Mr. Dahlberg asserted that his marriage took place on Nov. 10, 1921. The couple have an adopted daughter, Alma Lee, 11 years old. The bill was drawn by the law firm of Barthell & Rundall.

Mrs. Dahlberg, the lawyers said, is now living on the island of Majorca, in the Mediterranean sea off the coast of Spain, where she has established a permanent residence. The daughter is attending a school in Switzerland. Mr. Dahlberg, according to associates at his office, left Chicago last evening on a business trip. They refused to disclose his destination.

Wife Travels in Europe.

Rumors of a rift in the Dahlbergs' marital relations were heard two years ago when Mrs. Dahlberg left Chicago and visited friends in Minneapolis. Since that time she has spent only a few months in the United States, having traveled extensively in Europe.

She is known as a sportswoman and competed in the international bobsled races at St. Moritz, Switzerland, in January, 1930. In 1929 she set out on a 218 mile canoe trip through uninhabited North Hudson bay country and joined her husband at Oxford, a trading post, after a 14 day journey. Together they returned to the United States in Mr. Dahlberg's amphibion plane. Mrs. Dahlberg entertained Princess Marie de Bourbon, a cousin of former King Alfonso of Spain, when she visited this country in 1925.

In March, 1927, Mrs. Dahlberg reported the theft of $60,000 in jewels in New York. The jewelry was taken from a dresser drawer in her suite in the Ritz-Carlton hotel. The thieves overlooked $25,000 worth of jewels which lay in plain sight near the dresser.

Named in Senate Inquiry.

Last November Mr. Dahlberg received public attention during a United States senate investigation of charges that he had paid $100,000 to unnamed senators to obtain high duty on sugar prior to the passage of the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill. The charges were made by S. S. Eveland, a vice president of the Celotex company, which has more than 170,000 acres of Florida land planted in sugar cane, from the pulp of which the company's product is manufactured.

Subsequently Mr. Dahlberg was exonerated. Earlier a group of Celotex stockholders had sought a receiver for the company, but the action was dropped. At the time of the investigation two of Dahlberg's largest sugar companies, the Southern Sugar company and the South Coast Sugar company, were in receivership.

Gets $12.61 in Robbery and Draws 1 to 20 Years

East St. Louis, Ill., March 23.—(AP)—Edward Hinds, 21, Venice, Ill., molder, was sentenced to serve one to twenty years in the southern Illinois penitentiary by City Judge W. F. Borders here yesterday on his plea of guilty to robbing Theodore Young, East St. Louis, of $12.61.

Ex-Dry Agent Gets 60 Days for Impersonating Officer

Cleveland, O., March 23.—(AP)—Clarence E. Green of Fort Wayne, Ind., former prohibition agent, today pleaded guilty to impersonating a federal officer after his services were terminated and was sentenced to 60 days in the workhouse. He was arrested as he appeared to testify against five alleged Akron bootleggers.

SOUTH LABORS TO HELP SUFFERING; DEATH TOLL 329

More than 2,500 Injured; 7,000 Homeless.

Birmingham, Ala., March 23.—[Special.]—The five southern states swept by a tornado Monday night were struggling today to combat the suffering and need in the wake of the storm. Under the leadership of the American Red Cross and the American Legion relief efforts were directed toward caring for the thousands left injured and homeless.

Reports coming in from communities cut off by littered roads and broken communication lines brought the total death figure to 329. Unofficial estimates placed the injured in excess of 2,500 and the homeless at 7,000. The deaths were divided by states as follows: Alabama, 269; Georgia, 37; Tennessee, 18; South Carolina, 3, and Kentucky, 2.

Governor Inspects Wreckage.

Gov. B. M. Miller of Alabama, where the greatest destruction was wrought, began a personal inspection trip of the stricken communities. He planned first to visit Chilton county, where more than forty were killed. The governor has appealed to the state for contributions for the relief work.

Relief workers were housing and feeding the homeless in temporary shelters. Army tents, cots, blankets, food and clothing have been sent into several towns by the Alabama National Guard, which also stood guard in Tuscaloosa and Talladega counties to prevent looting. Patrols were established in other centers and trucks were held ready in Montgomery to supply demands.

Volunteers Aid Homeless.

Dr. William De Kleine, general medical adviser of the Red Cross, and Thomas Thompson, general of the field workers, will establish headquarters here. Other Red Cross representatives are making a survey of the damage in the states.

In Athens, Ga., organized and volunteer relief forces coöperated in assisting the injured and homeless. At the Union Baptist Institute for Negroes, students and faculty members prepared food and are caring for injured Negroes.

In South Carolina relief workers concentrated their energies on the towns of Berry Shoals and Fairmont where three persons were killed and more than a score hurt by the tornado. Some thirty families were left homeless there.

Mass Funerals Held.

Scores of the seriously injured are in hospitals in Alabama cities. About fifty were brought to Birmingham. At Northport, where 32 were killed and more than 100 injured and the town practically obliterated, relief work was well advanced. Food and medical aid had been provided the injured.

Mass funerals, in some instances for entire families, were held yesterday for many of the victims. The work of burying the dead continues today.

The state department of agriculture at Montgomery sent agents in the field checking the damage to crops and property. It was estimated that the loss would run into the millions.

Weather authorities were not agreed whether the gale was a series of tornadoes or one twister which skipped weirdly through the state. First reports of the tornado came from Tuscaloosa, Ala.

KOCH DISCOVERY OF TUBERCULOSIS GERM OBSERVED

A public program commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of Robert Koch's discovery of the cause of tuberculosis, was held last night at the Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium, 5601 North Crawford avenue. The program opens an educative campaign, conducted by the Chicago Tuberculosis Institute, for early medical attention in tubercular cases. The institute will seek to prevent the predicted increase in tuberculosis which follows periods of economic depression.

The speakers last night included Dr. Frederick Tice, president, and Dr. Allan J. Hrudy, secretary of the board of directors of the sanitarium; M. S. Szymczak, who represented Mayor Cermak, and Dr. Max Biesenthal of the institute, who recalled the contribution of Koch to the scientific world. Fifty years ago today Koch, an obscure German physician, appeared before the Berlin Pathological society and told them he had isolated the tubercle bacillus, presenting proof that this germ was the cause of tuberculosis.

NEW YORK CITY FACING STRIKE OF TAXPAYERS

Revolt Protest Against Extravagance.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—The city administration, faced with a taxpayer's strike in protest of municipal extravagance, was seeking means today to check the movement before it assumed major importance. Controller Charles W. Berry admitted he was considering ways of lightening the burdens of the aroused property owners.

CHARLES W. BERRY

There was little hope, however, that anything in the way of a real retrenchment could be effected in time to stop the strike which now has reached such proportions that the New York real estate board may be called upon to assume leadership.

A city-wide demand for a concerted refusal to pay May 1 taxes and to accept the consequent 7 per cent penalty, as a demonstration against an unfair burden, was gaining impetus.

Overassessment Charged.

The first of a series of statements to arouse public opinion is being prepared for Friday, in which officials of the real estate board say they will demonstrate general overassessment of realty in the city. Anton L. Trunk, president of the board, informed Mr. Berry yesterday of the threatened tax strike.

Mr. Berry this afternoon began drafting a reply to Mr. Trunk, but would not disclose its contents. From other sources it was learned that the controller planned to offer relief to small property owners who find themselves hard pressed to meet tax bills. With Mayor James J. Walker vacationing in Hot Springs, Ark., there is little Mr. Berry can do to appease the major property owners.

Mr. Berry and other city heads feel that any strike of importance would be blocked by mortgage holders protecting their interests. At the municipal building it was pointed out that the large realty operators are supporting the bill adopted by the board of aldermen to encourage one payment tax remittances by giving a 6 per cent discount instead of the 4 per cent allowed on taxes paid in installments.

Threat Is Formidable.

Indications that the strike threat was formidable, however, came from property owners' organizations in the different boroughs.

The United Real Estate Owners' association this afternoon appealed to all savings banks, life insurance, title insurance, and mortgage companies to meet in conference on the matter. The Institute for Public Service attacked a magazine article on city financing by Joseph V. McKee, aldermanic president, "as an indication that nothing short of a show of force by taxpayers will win relief." Mr. McKee had written that there was "very little extravagance left for taxpayers to challenge."

Tax Load "Unendurable."

Mr. Trunk, in commenting on the action of the real estate board, said:

"It is our business to get taxation lowered, because the tax load has become unendurable to real estate. We don't like even the threat of a strike, but the movement is growing, and it might be better to centralize the movement so it won't get out of hand. We would prefer to coöperate with the city in finding ways for economy and retrenchment, but the administration has got to realize that the limit of taxation has more than been reached."

The real estate board revealed that it has sent out a questionnaire to property owners to obtain exact data on increased assessments, higher taxes, construction and management costs of realty and return on investments over the last three years.

GERMANY BANS THIRTY HITLERITE NEWS ORGANS

Acts After Criticism of Prussia.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 23.—Thirty Nazi newspapers and periodicals, constituting the most powerful section of the Nazi press of Germany, were today prohibited from publishing because of attacks supposedly endangering the republic. They had printed the proclamation of Adolf Hitler, National Socialist [Nazi] leader, denouncing the raids carried out by the Prussian police on 160 Nazi offices. Hitler, who is a candidate against President von Hindenburg in the run-off election on April 10, tonight protested to Lieut. Gen. Wilhelm Groener, minister of defense and interior, against "this shocking course of action."

GEN. WILHELM GROENER.
[Assoc. Press Photo.]

Political Feeling High.

Political feeling is running high despite the "truce" which is being enforced over Eastertide by presidential decree. The virulence of public utterances have been replaced by the increased virulence of newspaper comments which have caused the authorities to order the suspensions. The latest bans embrace five Nazi dailies and one communist daily, each suspended for five days, and also three Nazi weeklies, suspended for a fortnight.

Nazi papers involved are the Angriff in Berlin and the Voelkischer in Beobachter in Munich, the two main organs of the Nazi party and also the Schlesische Tageszeitung in Breslau, the Rote Erde of Bochum and the Neue National Zeitung of Augsburg. The Nazi weeklies suspended are the Schlesischer Beobachter, the Deutsche Ostfront, and Der Stermer.

Red Organ Suspended.

The Rote Fahne of Berlin, mouthpiece of the German communists, likewise today was forbidden to appear for five days.

Groener today canceled the four weeks' ban imposed by the Brunswick Nazi home minister, Dr. Klagge, on the Socialist Volksfreund, which already had been threatened with renewal of the ban.

MUSSOLINI HANDS ITALY PROMISE OF "MORE JOBS"

Nation Celebrates Birth of Fascism.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, March 23.—In a balcony speech from the Palazzo Venezia today Premier Mussolini told a crowd of 10,000 that the worst part of the economic depression is over. He promised them more jobs and better organized relief for next winter.

"But the watchword for every one must be resistance and ever more resistance," he said, admitting that the winter just ended is the hardest the Italian people have ever endured.

Celebrate Fascist Foundation.

In Rome and throughout Italy work and business was suspended today to celebrate the 13th anniversary of the founding of Fascist combat groups and Fascist policies at Milan.

Mussolini predicted that there would be a revival of economic activity in every sphere which would give more work and would put Italy in good shape if the people continued to endure to the end.

"You know I always keep my promises," he said.

Duce to Avoid Socialism.

In a previous speech the text of which was not given out, Mussolini addressed members of the national Fascist council. Il Duce explained to the council that his phrase "going toward the people" does not mean that he is going Socialist.

He said he is satisfied with the way people have helped him to carry out his policies and wished the people to know that his sympathies are with them and that he would encourage every enterprise that would give work and keep them busy. The national council, which is composed of all Fascist federal secretaries, will meet again tomorrow to receive further instructions on a continuance of the economic battle.

7 Hours in Bed and Not 7 Minutes of Sleep!

The Toll Acidity Takes

You go to bed dog-tired, but the minute you hit the pillow sleepiness vanishes. If you do sleep at all, it's only in snatches and you wake out of these "stupors" with a strange, startled feeling, sometimes in a cold sweat. Morning finds you a rag, gaunt and hollow-eyed and barely able to crawl out of bed.

Acidity is due to our unnatural eating habits, our excessive smoking and irregular hours. The excess acid upsets digestion and causes acid-indigestion with gas and heartburn. It causes putrefaction and fermentation in the gastro-intestinal canal which frequently results in ragged nerves, sleeplessness, logy days and general loss of strength and vitality.

A remarkable new corrective of acidity has been developed by a famous 100 year old pharmaceutical house in Germany. As an acid corrective it begins where milk of magnesia and bicarbonate of soda leave off. This new, improved magnesia comes in the form of small white tablets called Magnesia Oxoids which do not have to be chewed, but which may be swallowed whole. Magnesia Oxoids, upon contact with the acid in the stomach, generate nascent, or active, oxygen! Now, active oxygen, as any doctor will tell you, when generated within the digestive tract does just the things required for acidity. It stimulates the secretion of the alkaline mucus. It checks the putrefaction and fermentation in the gastro-intestinal canal. It exercises a stimulating effect upon the activities of the intestinal walls and aids the movement of the bowels.

All three effects are necessary to the true relief of acidity and Magnesia Oxoids supply them in a perfectly natural manner.

5-Day Acid Test

To ascertain just how "acid" you are, make this 5-day acid test. Get a bottle of Magnesia Oxoids at all Walgreen Drug Stores or any other druggist on our money-back guarantee. Take two after each meal for five days. Mark the change in your physical condition—note how much more sound and restful your sleep and how much more cheerful and active your days. If you don't sleep better and have more "pep" and power, return the balance of the Magnesia Oxoids to the druggist and he will refund your money. A-3.

SCHOOL BOARD CUTS ITS TAX LEVY $4,690,000

Selects Howard Savage as Business Manager.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

After electing Howard P. Savage—past commander of the state and national American Legion—business manager of the Chicago school system the trustees reduced their 1932 tax levy yesterday by $4,690,000.

H. P. SAVAGE.

Originally the school board's budget totaled more than $100,000,000. Of this amount $89,430,380 was to be obtained by direct taxation, and the remainder from rents and fees and tax distribution from the state.

The budget was trimmed down to $90,180,263, where it now stands, and of that sum $80,088,918 was to be obtained by direct taxation. Yesterday the board adopted its tax levy ordinance, which calls for $75,398,918 from direct local taxes. This is still a much larger sum than any tax expert has predicted the trustees can obtain from the property owners, but the trustees appear to be weakening in their original purpose to levy all the taxes possible on the taxpayers.

It is pointed out that the primary is drawing near.

As other evidence that the trustees are listening a little to the protests of the overburdened taxpayers, they deferred action yesterday on the purchase of $1,162 worth of baseballs, filed a request for an appropriation to support dental hygiene and shelved a request of the election commissioners for free use of certain schools for the instruction of judges and clerks at the primary.

Six Vote for Howard Savage.

The trustees attached considerable importance to the election—accomplished by six of the 11 trustees—of Howard P. Savage as business manager. Mr. Savage is a Republican and came close to being elected county treasurer. Mayor Cermak, who has only two appointees on the board, desired the selection deferred; but the following trustees voted to proceed with the election and voted for Mr. Savage: Trustees Brandenburg, Blatchford, English, Durante Hemingway, and Joseph P. Savage. [Howard Savage and Trustee Savage are not related.]

After the vote was announced, Trustee Savage said: "In fairness to Trustees Caldwell and McJunkin, who are out of the city, and President Myers, who is attending another meeting, may I say that they favor Howard P. Savage as business manager and would have voted for him if they had been present. Trustee Carr was absent because of illness. The remaining trustee, Mrs. Helen Hefferan, Cermak appointee, urged the selection of John Byrnes as business manager, which position he formerly held.

Urges Selection of Byrnes.

"He has been with the board for three decades," argued Mrs. Hefferan," and never a breath of scandal against him. He can not be reached, is honest, capable and courageous. His appointment would be nonpolitical."

"The trustees decided to go outside for a business manager," said Trustee Savage in nominating Howard P. Savage.

"When did they decide?" interrupted Mrs. Hefferan.

"Today," replied Trustee Savage.

"Why wasn't I invited to sit in the conference?" asked Mrs. Hefferan, to which Trustee Savage replied, after the board meeting: "Because she was telephoning all of the trustees to put off the election."

Praises Executive Ability.

Continuing his speech to the board, Trustee Savage said: "The public has been led to believe there is great waste in the business department, and that there is large opportunity for improvement there.

"Col. Savage has executive ability, the courage to do what he thinks is right, and no one can criticize him for anything he has ever done. No strings have been attached to him and he will serve the schools and the children. He is an engineer by profession and has worked for the last 22 years for the Rapid Transit and North Shore lines, with the exception of the time he spent in the army."

The term of the new business manager, who succeeds Ernest Withall, dates from yesterday. His salary will be $12,000 a year and his term is four years. Mr. Savage was born in Boone, Ia., in 1884, and came to Chicago in 1899. He was educated at the Lewis institute and the University of Wisconsin.

The board did not elect a secretary. Charles Gilbert's term expired with that of the business manager, but the trustees explained after the meeting that they did not know it. Trustee Savage said the comments of the other trustees indicated that they favored the reëlection of Mr. Gilbert.

Schools Ordered Closed Tomorrow, Good Friday

In observance of Good Friday, the school board yesterday ordered the public schools closed tomorrow. Principals of all the schools were notified of the holiday through bulletins sent out from the superintendent's office last night.

$1,000,000 IN 1930 TAX COLLECTIONS IS TURNED OVER TO CITY

City Controller Szymczak yesterday received $1,000,000 from County Treasurer McDonough, representing 1930 tax collections. The total was divided as follows: Cash, $896,024; tax anticipation warrants, $96,300; accrued interest on tax warrants, $7,676. The cash will be used to retire 1930 tax warrants held by the public. The county treasurer also handed over $250,000 to the sanitary district and $250,000 to the south park district, while $50,000 was given the west park district and $20,000 to the forest preserve district.

COAL PRODUCTION IN ILLINOIS SETS A 26 YEAR LOW

With the joint wage conference of Illinois miners and operators apparently deadlocked last night after three weeks of negotiations, the minerals division of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce made public figures showing that the state coal production had reached the lowest tonnage figure in 26 years.

In 1906 the production was 38,318,581 tons, with the 1931 tonnage standing at 42,949,700 tons. In no intervening year did the tonnage drop so low. The next lowest years were 1922, when a six months' strike cut the production to 63,276,827 tons, and 1927, when a five months' strike cut the figure to 46,949,700 tons.

"We are quoting these figures," C. L. Hardin, manager of the minerals division, said, "to point out three things: First, local production has reached a 26 year low; second, competitive fields, once nearly equal with Illinois, have forged ahead, and third, to show the extreme importance of all industry of the present negotiations."

Negotiations for a wage scale to replace the contract expiring March 31 reached a deadlock yesterday when the miners rejected the proposal of the operators that the West Virginia union's scale, more than 50 per cent under the Illinois scale, be used as a basis for negotiations.

The miners proposed that the present Illinois scale be used. The operators rejected this.

SCHOOL EMPLOYES TO GET A HALF MONTH'S SALARY CHECKS TODAY

School employés will get half a month's pay today as the result of the purchase Tuesday by five loop banks of $4,500,000 worth of 1930 tax warrants from the city. Funds to meet pay rolls for the last half of November, totaling $2,362,800, were transferred to the school board yesterday by the city, and pay checks were placed in the mail last night, to be distributed today at schools.

The school teachers have received only two and one-half months' pay in cash since last April. Today's checks, representing about 8 per cent of the total now due them, will make three months' pay in cash.

City employés, as well as those of the public library and tuberculosis sanitarium, were paid yesterday for the last half of January.

Tax collections on the 1930 levy passed the $18,000,000 total yesterday. The largest amount received yesterday was from The Fair store, which paid $374,272 in real estate taxes.

WIFE GIVES BIRTH TO A BOY; HE ASKS OLD AGE PENSION

WINDSOR, Ont., March 23.—(AP)—Frank Winters, 72 year old carpenter, had two items of business at the city clerk's office here today.

The first was to register the birth of a nine pound boy, the Winters' fourth child, and the second was to file a petition for an old age pension.

Winters qualified for an old age pension three years ago. His son was born yesterday to his wife, Ina, whom he married seven years ago.

Night Plane Service to Southwest Opens April 1

The first overnight passenger service between Chicago and the southwest will be inaugurated by United Air Lines on April 1, P. G. Johnson, president of the lines, announced yesterday. Passengers, mail and express will be carried in Ford tri-motor planes departing at 8:30 p. m. and arriving in Dallas, Tex., at 8 a. m. A similar plane will leave Dallas nightly at 8:30 p. m., arriving at Chicago airport at 6:30 a. m. Two meals, midnight supper, and early breakfast, will be served aloft.

L. Fish Furniture Co. to Accept Tax Warrants

Isaac Fish, president of the L. Fish Furniture company stores, announced yesterday that the L. Fish Furniture company will continue to accept scrip and tax anticipation warrants. "This applies to board of education, city, county, park board, and township scrip and tax warrants," Mr. Fish said, "and not only will our firm accept them as payment on old accounts, but also as part or full payment on new purchases, and in addition we will refund a part of these certificates in cash."

BANDIT NETS $85 PROFIT ON $100 HOLDUP SCHEME

An unidentified bandit made a net profit of $85 on a $100 robbery yesterday. He worked on a "down payment" policy.

On Tuesday he ordered two suits and a topcoat at a loop store, the cost to be $100. He paid $10 down, the balance to be given at delivery, and ordered the clothes to be sent to "Everett Samuels," 3713 Pine Grove avenue.

Yesterday Frank Heegan, 4319 North Sawyer avenue, a driver, delivered the suits and coat to "Mr. Samuels." Instead of receiving the $90 balance the bogus patron menaced Heegan with a gun, tied him with a rope, and fled with the clothing. Investigation showed that the robber rented the apartment recently, paying $5 down. This $5 down payment with that of $10 on the suits and coat reduced his net robbery profit to $85, the police figured.

NEW YORK OPERA, BROKE, TO TUNE IN ON RADIO DOLLARS

Directors of Metropolitan Announce Crisis.

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—The Metropolitan Opera company, which has been subsidized for generations by the most prominent families of New York as the social backbone of the winter season, officially announced today that it has gone "broke."

The exact wording of the announcement is that "reduced receipts due to the prevailing financial depression have practically wiped out its capital of $550,000 and most of its reserve, leaving it with insufficient funds to assure another season."

The directors also announced that the company had been changed from a stock corporation to a membership corporation.

Forecasts Radio Hookup.

For any other enterprise than the Metropolitan opera such an announcement would mean that it would have to close. Its real meaning, however, is understood to be that a crisis has been reached in the history of opera in New York, which will necessitate a departure from aristocratic traditions of support and from antiquated traditions of production.

It also forecasts an eventual departure from the presenit site to a new opera house at the Rockefeller center between 5th and 6th avenues and 48th and 51st streets, where the electrical industry behind radio broadcasting is eager to make opera popular in America.

Cut in Expenses Planned.

The seven directors who decided on the announcement today at a meeting in the opera house, under Paul D. Cravath as chairman, comprised the outstanding financial backers of the operating company which produces opera for the social great who occupy the parterre boxes of the "golden horseshoe" by right of ownership.

After two hours of discussion Clarence Dillon, Otto H. Kahn, Charles Hayden, Ivy Lee, E. Roland Harriman, Frederic Potts Moore, and Henry Rogers Winthrop left Mr. Cravath to make the announcement that "a serious question is presented as to the future of Metropolitan opera."

The announcement added: "An earnest effort will be made to secure such coöperation on the part of all concerned in the continuation of opera in working out a plan for such reduction in expense and other measures as will be necessary to make it possible to present Metropolitan opera in New York next winter."

BARTER BOOMS TOWN'S TRADE BUT BABY ISN'T WORTH MOUTH ORGAN

Saxonburg, Pa., March 23.—(AP)—Saxonburg has taken a page from ancient history to solve the economic situation, everybody's swapping.

Swapping has been going on for a year and has become so common the newspaper has incorporated a "swap column."

Butter and eggs are exchanged for merchandise at stores, for gasoline and old parts for autos, and, since the boys' band started, for musical instruments.

Coal is hauled or teaming done in exchange for horse shoeing. Last spring ground was plowed in exchange for half the crops. Any man can get land on promise to pay one-fourth of the produce. Cabbage plants were exchanged for tomatoes and bulbs and seeds for flowers and vegetables.

Last summer crab apples went for pickles, hay for a load of straw, a gallon of buttermilk for a peck of spinach. In the fall apples were exchanged for cider and for hens. Apples were picked and services rendered in all lines of farm work for whatever produce the worker wanted.

Merchants say everybody is happy under the arrangement.

Just one swap has failed to go through—a youngster tried to trade a new baby fcr a mouth organ.

DEATH IS HELD ACCIDENT.

A coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict of accidental death in the case of Harry Safford, 51 years old, 5481 Kenwood avenue, who died Tuesday in the Bridewell hospital of an overdose of sleeping tablets shortly after he had been arrested for causing a disturbance in his home.

PRESIDENT SIGNS BILL LIMITING INJUNCTIONS

"Yellow Dog" Contracts Knocked Out.

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—The La Guardia bill limiting the use of the injunction in labor disputes and outlawing the so-called "yellow dog" contracts between employers and workmen by which the latter agree not to be members of labor organizations was signed today by President Hoover.

W. D. MITCHELL. [U. & U. Photo.]

The announcement that the measure had been made law was followed by the publication of a letter from Attorney General William D. Mitchell outlining his interpretation of the bill.

The legislation is directed at limiting the powers of the courts of the United States sitting in equity from issuing injunctions in labor disputes.

"Objections have been made to this measure," Attorney General Mitchell wrote, "because of the alleged unconstitutionality of some of its provisions, among which are those relating to contracts between employers and employés by which the latter agree not to be members of labor organizations and which are commonly called yellow dog contracts.

"One of the major purposes of the bill is to prevent the issuance of injunctions to restrain third parties from persuading employés to violate such contracts, the theory of the bill being that such contracts are exacted from employés not with the idea that they will be treated by the employés as binding obligations but as a basis for invoking the old common law rule against malicious interference with contracts by third persons and in this way to enable employers to secure injunctions against peaceful persuasion directed at their employés.

"It is inconceivable that congress could have intended to protect racketeering and extortion under the guise of labor organization activity, and the anti-trust division of this department, having carefully considered the measure, has concluded that it does not prevent injunctions in such cases and that it does not prevent the maintenance by the United States of suits to enjoin unlawful conspiracies or combinations under the anti-trust laws to outlaw legitimate articles of interstate commerce.

"It does not purport to permit interference by violence with workmen who wish to maintain their employment and, fairly construed, it does not protect such interference by threats of violence or that sort of intimidation which creates fear of violence."

East Chicago School Head Reconsiders Resignation

John G. Rossman, who recently resigned as superintendent of schools in East Chicago, Ind., announced yesterday that he had reconsidered his resignation after conferring with the school board and would retain his post. His resignation, which he laid to the injection of politics into the school system, brought forth protests from several civic organizations.

NEW ZEALAND TO RAISE WAGE TAX TO AID JOBLESS

WELLINGTON, N. Z., March 23.—J. G. Coates, minister of public works and transport, announced today a new plan of the government for relief of unemployment, involving an increase in taxation on wages from 3 pence to a shilling on each pound [from 6 cents to 24 cents on $4.86 at par].

The plan provides for establishment of a rural allotment, extending to rural areas relief measures now applicable only to towns and cities. Single men would be placed in highway construction camps and in gold prospecting parties.

In announcing the government's plan the minister said it is essential that the present income of the unemployment fund be increased to £2,500,000 [$12,500,000 at par], as expenditures have now reached that total. There are at present approximately 50,000 registered unemployed persons in New Zealand, he said.

Healy's Stag Lunchroom Is Closed by Dry Raiders

Springfield, Ill., March 23.—(AP) "Paddy" Healy's stag lunchroom, a favorite Springfield eating place of state legislators, was closed today. Federal agents made opening impossible by raiding the place last night and removing all the fixtures. The raiders said that they found twenty bottles of brewery beer and a small quantity of liquor. Healy was arrested, charged with violation of national prohibition laws.

SHANGHAI FACES NEW FIGHTING AS PEACE TALK ENDS

Japs Charge Chinese Army Invades 'Neutral Zone.'

SHANGHAI, March 23.—(AP)—A threat of new fighting in the Shanghai area arose today with the collapse of the Sino-Japanese peace negotiations. The peace parley broke up when Gen. Chiang Kuang-nai, the chief Chinese delegate, discovered that the head of the Japanese group was only a lieutenant general, and thus inferior to him in rank.

LIEUT. GEN. KENKICHI UYEDA. [Acme Photo.]

Gen. Chiang walked out and said he would not come back until Lieut. Gen. Kenkichi Uyeda, the Japanese spokesman, had been replaced by a full general. The difference in rank, he said, was a reflection on the Chinese army.

Charge Chinese Advance.

Shortly after this incident the Japanese said the Chinese troops were edging back toward Shanghai from the twenty mile zone to which they had been driven and that the Japanese were preparing to take strong measures to prevent any encroachment upon that limit.

Chinese soldiers crossed Soochow creek at Chiawangmiao, Japanese observers said. This point is inside the zone of evacuation laid out by Gen. Uyeda in his ultimate of Feb. 20.

The Japanese asked the British authorities to request that the Chinese withdraw south of the creek. The British consul was informed that the Chinese were digging in on the north side of the stream opposite the Japanese lines.

May Resume Parley Today.

As for the peace parley, it was generally expected that it would be resumed tomorrow, possibly with Gen. Tai Chi, commanding the Chinese garrison at Shanghai, in place of Gen. Chiang.

The league of nations commission of inquiry, which originally intended to stay here until a truce was arranged, will move to Nanking Saturday. From there it will go to Peiping at the end of the month.

A new municipal council, chosen in a vote which continued through the past two days, has been elected to govern the international settlement. Joseph W. Carney, one of the two American members, failed of reëlection and the only American on the new council is Frank J. Raven, banker and real estate operator. Of his associates five are British, five Chinese, two Japanese, and one Danish.

Japan Orders New War.

HARBIN, Manchuria, March 24.—[Thursday.]—(AP)—The entire strength of Gen. Jiro Tamon's Japanese shock troops will be hurled against the insurgent Chinese forces of Gen. Ting Chao in an effort to clear the rich basin of lower Sungari valley of elements menacing the new Manchurian régime in Kirin province.

Despite recent peace overtures by Ting Chao, he has not come to Harbin to surrender formally and has continued hostile operations against the Japanese. Hence, the Japanese command decided today to eradicate his army, which has concentrated in the district of Pinhsien, Fangcheng, and and Sanshin.

Two Brigades in Action.

Headquarters of Gen. Tamon announced that in addition to the brigade of Maj. Gen. Hasebe, which moved in the direction of Fangcheng by motor yesterday, a brigade under Maj. Gen. Amano, which has been operating in the Hailin and Ninguta district, was returning by rail to Imienpo. From that point, headquarters said, they would advance overland toward Fangcheng, which is 105 miles east of Harbin on the Sungari river.

Ting Chao is reported to have 2,000 men concentrated at Pinhsien and Fangcheng, where they are coöperating with large irregular bands in the nearby regions.

WORLD COURT IS GIVEN NEW JOLT BY SENATORS

Committee Asks Stimson to Explain Some Things.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—The prospects for senate action at this session of congress on the issue of American adherence to the world court were dimmed by developments today which included the dispatch of another letter on the subject to the senate foreign relations committee by Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson.

HENRY L. STIMSON. [Acme Photo.]

In his communication Secretary Stimson urged prompt action on the world court matter. He asserted that the revised protocol for American adherence to the court fully protects the interests of the United States and accepts as binding the five reservations set up by the senate in 1926. The secretary said he was in complete accord with Elihu Root, that the Root protocol, designed to meet the senate reservations protecting this country from advisory opinions, would be completely effective.

Claims U. S. Protected.

Secretary Stimson's statement is in substance that under the Root protocol the world court could not render an advisory opinion in any case in which the United States has or claims an interest. It was the fear that the court might render an advisory opinion affecting the United States which prompted the senate to attach a reservation providing that the court could not "without the consent of the United States entertain any request for an advisory opinion touching any dispute or question in which the United States has or claims to have an interest."

"The world court as now constituted," Mr. Stimson said today, "cannot take up either for formal litigation or for advisory opinions any matter involving a dispute to which we are a party unless we voluntarily join in the submission of that controversy to the court. The protocol fully accepts the five reservations of the senate resolution of 1926, and thereby imposes the jurisdictional restriction upon the world court as to advisory opinions which was sought by the fifth reservation of the senate."

Delay Action.

The senate foreign relations committee immediately showed its dissatisfaction with the Stimson letter. Chairman William E. Borah [Rep., Idaho] asserted it only added to the confusion surrounding the real meaning of the Root protocol. The committee engaged in a spirited argument following the receipt of the communication. The upshot was that the committee, in a resentful mood, voted unanimously to take no further action on the court issue until Mr. Stimson appeared for cross-examination. He has been asked to appear next Wednesday. Several members expressed the opinion that the views expressed by Mr. Stimson today were not altogether in accord with the views he expressed a year ago.

The general opinion is that the senate will not take up the world court matter prior to the campaign. Many senators take the position that the views of Mr. Root and Secretary Stimson were in conflict.

Greeks Will Celebrate Independence Tomorrow

Greek independence day will be celebrated in Chicago tomorrow. The united lodges of the Greek-American association have arranged a program following a meeting at 8 o'clock in the evening in the auditorium of the Masonic temple. Among those expected to be present are Consul General George Depastas and the Bishop Kalistos of the Greek Orthodox church. Invitations have been extended to Gov. Emmerson and Mayor Cermak. The Greek-American association is a benevolent organization of 200 lodges throughout the United States, of which eight are in Chicago, according to the chairman of the meeting, Dr. George P. Gavaris.

COMPETITION IN THE COAL FIELDS.

The negotiations between the Illinois coal miners and the operators have reached a critical stage. The miners' demand for a shorter week and a shorter working day has been rejected, as was pretty generally expected; and the real question at issue, the question of bringing about a reduction in the unit cost of Illinois coal, has come to the front.

As matters stand, Illinois coal is at a disadvantage in its own natural market, the Chicago industrial area. While there is a wide variation in costs as between Illinois mines, the fact is that on the whole they are relatively so high that mine operators in Kentucky and West Virginia can and do undersell Illinois coal in Chicago in spite of the higher freight charges for the longer haul.

How heavy the losses of business have been is indicated by the fact that in 1923, according to government records, Illinois produced 79,000,000 tons, and in 1930 only 53,000,000, a loss of 26,000,000 tons in seven years. In the same period West Virginia showed a gain of 14,000,000 tons [from 107,000,000 to 121,000,000] and Kentucky a gain of 7,000,000 [from 44,000,000 to 51,000,000]. In 1923 the sales price of Illinois coal was $2.50, as against $2.65 in West Virginia and $2.54 in Kentucky. In 1930 the differential had swung against Illinois, where the price was $1.74, against $1.55 in West Virginia and $1.54 in Kentucky.

Plainly, if there is to be any market for Illinois coal, its price must come down, and plainly, too, that is a matter which is of quite as much concern to miners as to mine operators. A wage scale which does not permit the sale of the product may gratify the vanity of union leaders, but it will put no bread in the mouths of the miners who will lose their jobs because of high operating costs.

It is said that the decision regarding wages in the Illinois fields is dependent in part upon the decision of the miners in Indiana because of an understanding within the union that the two fields are to operate on a basis of equality. With the principle of equality there need be no quarrel; but if equality is carried to the point of destroying both parties to the agreement, the application of the principle outrages common sense.

The number of union miners in Illinois far exceeds the number in Indiana. Likewise, the investment in Illinois mines exceeds the investment in Indiana mines. If the miners in the two states are to operate on a basis of equality and there is disagreement between the leaders of the unions in the two states on a proper adjustment of the wage scale, it is obvious that the larger and more important interest should not be subservient to the smaller and less important one. The leadership belongs, of right, to Illinois miners.

The miners and mine operators in union territory face the necessity of bringing costs down or of losing markets. That means the loss of their jobs for the miners and the loss of investment for the operators. If some agreement is not reached which will permit the sale of coal in competitive markets it is altogether certain that the union in both Illinois and Indiana will disintegrate under the pressure of competition. If our mines are reopened it will be on a nonunion basis.

It was the refusal to face such facts that has cost the union its primacy, amounting almost to a dictatorship in the coal industry, only a few years ago. Union officials thought that the nation had to pay any price asked for coal, no matter how high the price was forced by wage scales and working conditions. The industry did not take into its reckoning the competition of other fuels like oil, the possibility of more efficient use of coal, and the likelihood of the development of nonunion fields. All of these new competitors have now to be fought. If the industry continues to pretend that the world cannot get along without Illinois or Indiana coal it is due for a rude awakening.

THY SONS TO THY JUBILEE COME.

A young man who had come to regard the Michigan state reformatory as his alma mater was before a judge in Muskegon, on a larceny charge, for arrangements regarding his future education. He asked to be returned to the reformatory where he had been a star second baseman. He said the team needed him, but the judge was compelled by the young man's record to send him to the penitentiary, where he will undoubtedly make new athletic, fraternity, and social connections very soon to compensate for the loss of the older associations.

It has been apparent for some time that new loyalties and sentimental attachments were being nurtured in the United States, where so large a proportion of the citizenship has a reasonable expectation of spending considerable time in federal or state penitentiaries. It was quite natural that the average American, being an affectionate and loyal cuss, should undertake to decorate this portion of his life with something spiritual. The alumni will endeavor to have their recollections as pleasant as possible, brightened by home comings and class reunions, and it is to be hoped that they can keep free of partisan intrigues against the wardens, guards, chaplains, and coaches and from proselyting among the brighter prospects in the criminal courts.

No scandal as yet has touched the penal institution sports. No one has suggested that Alabama Potts, the Sing Sing triple threat flash (larceny, felonious assault, and loaded dice), was persuaded to go to Sing Sing by any inducements of free board or work. The amateur standing of these institution stars is exemplary and beyond suspicion.

SOAKING THE RICH WON'T HELP THE POOR.

The runaway house again repudiated its leadership when it voted substantial increases in the estate taxes. The house was so far out of hand that many of the members didn't know what they were voting for, according to the dispatches from Washington. But there is no doubt of the spirit which animated congressmen. They were intent upon punishing the wealthy for being wealthy and upon breaking up accumulations of capital as inherently vicious.

Jealousy has played its part in the formulation of this tax and to jealousy has been added stupidity and insincerity. The increase in the death duties will fall most heavily, to be sure, on the very rich, but it will bear heavily upon the estate of the man who is only moderately well off and who can make no more than adequate provision for the care of his dependents. What the government takes the dependents cannot have.

Despite the high rates the tax will contribute little to the immediate fiscal problem, which is the balancing of the budget in the face of a deficit running into billions of dollars. Henry Ford, J. P. Morgan, and fifty other men of great wealth would have to die within a few months to extinguish the deficit, and even then the taxes from their estates would not reach the treasury in time to square the current year's deficits.

There is no objection to a moderate estate tax in principle, especially if the income from it is earmarked for retirement of the national debt; but this is a year in which the tax should be applied with more than ordinary regard for its consequences. A tax as heavy as the house has approved will force the sale of many going businesses, large and small, to raise the money to pay the government, and these businesses and other assets will be thrown on the market at the moment when forced liquidation resulting from the business depression has already registered disastrous consequences.

How this kind of taxation operates is or should be well known to congressmen. A banker in the east who died not long ago left an estate then valued at $2,500,000. The collapse of prices, which no doubt was helped along in some measure by the forced liquidation of the banker's holdings, has left this estate without enough assets to pay the tax. Another estate, valued at $15,000,000 on the day of death, is today just able to pay its tax.

It is a curious fact that the same congressmen who rant most against the so-called money power, by which they mean the most powerful banking groups, are the same congressmen who are determined through the higher estate taxes to throw an increasing number of business ventures into the hands of these same bankers. If Henry Ford should die at a moment when his assets were largely tied up in alterations in his plant and equipment the only place his heirs could go for the money with which to pay the estate tax would be to Wall street. If the object were to devise a tax which would throw business ventures into the hands of the bankers, some such tax as the house has approved would be adopted. Instead of breaking up the concentration of wealth the tax will result in further concentration of ownership and control in the hands of financiers.

The poor man will not benefit. The sale of a substantial share of the Ford Motor company to a New York banking group will not make automobiles cheaper and will not put a dollar in the pocket of a man who wants to buy a car. The probabilities, based on experience, are all to the contrary.

Editorial of the Day

SHOULD BLUSH WITH SHAME.

[Illinois State Register.]

Chicago should blush with shame at the treatment of her public school teachers. These teachers have received only two and one-half months' pay since last April—after working practically without compensation during all the present school year. In response to questionnaires sent out by the Principals' club many have recited tales of woe—indeed a sorry chapter in the history of the middle west metropolis.

The replies to the questionnaires, it is stated, "reveal lowered standards of living, poorer food, no new clothes, little or no amusement, neglect of health through inability to pay for medical and dental service, and the curtailment or elimination of magazine and book purchases."

These are generalities, but specific instances of more acute hardships are told. In many cases the prey of loan sharks, teachers have suffered severe financial reverses, many are threatened with the loss of their homes through foreclosure, or with eviction because of inability to meet rent payments. And above all the financial hardship towers the mental anguish resulting from humiliation and uncertainty which naturally tends to weaken the ability of the teachers to do their best for their charges, the school children of Chicago.

Has Chicago, rich and powerful, lost its pride? Has the selfish stand of taxpayers of wealth and affluence hardened its heart? Has this second greatest city in the United States lost its love for its children?

The world at large will naturally feel like answering these questions in the affirmative after reading the tales of distress of the faithful school teachers, that representative group of loyal workers on whose shoulders has been placed the responsibility of training and educating the future citizens of this great metropolis.

School officials may be responsible for the financial straits in which the school system is entangled, but the teachers themselves are not to blame—and the school children are not to blame. Why inflict this punishment on the innocent?

Chicago is big enough, strong enough, rich enough, and courageous enough to right a wrong that has continued too long. The city should act without further delay.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

AND THEN THERE'S ALWAYS JAIL!

A great deal of interest is being shown these days in jails as places of residence. While we used to think that when everything else slipped out from under us we could go over (or hoover, as some comedians like to put it) the hills to the poorhouse, the sad fact that many poorhouses are being closed for lack of public funds turns attention to the jails. There seems to be always enough public funds to support the jails even if worthy places such as the poorhouses are closed up. From what we can find out there is no charge at all for a nice room in jail. A south front cannot always be guaranteed, but, of course, the main feature is three square (or approximately so) meals a day and a bed at night. That sounds pretty good these days. Of course, some jails have their drawbacks, being equipped with radio loud speakers in each cell, but heck! there's no use expecting perfection anywhere these days, even in jails.

But jails have their big advantages, too. Besides the free room and board, which is a whole lot these days, there's nobody coming around to the back door of your apartment in the jail trying to sell you soap, mops, toothbrushes, or subscribe to the fund to buy bathing suits for the polar bears in Alaska. No book agents can get to you, and, while you are deprived of the happy thrill one gets these days in dropping a bond salesman out of the window, still there is compensation in the fact that nobody can call you on the telephone to describe the marvelous clearance sale now going on at their store. Of course, the greatest advantage in going to jail these days is in avoiding all the many taxes that are being imposed every day or two by congress, the state legislature, or the county and city governing boards. If you're in jail you'll generally be considered tax exempt. It must be great fun to sit in one's quiet room in a jail with a great barred iron door between one and a tax harassed world and listen to the moanings of the taxpayers outside and not be called on to come across with a single red cent. Ah, yes, in times like these there are lots worse places than jail.

SAINTS.

When I was a schoolboy of six or seven
I thought that the saints were all in Heaven.
I didn't know—still, children don't know—
That some of the best ones live here below.

Not only the mothers—yours and mine,
With patience and tenderness so divine,
Who led us over the first long mile,
Paid in full by a baby's smile—

Not only the mothers are saints on earth,
Halo-crowned by their firstborn's birth,
Crowned with thorns when he goes away,
Crucified when he goes astray—

Sainthood theirs; but there are others,—
Hosts of forgotten teacher-mothers,
Saints of vicarious motherhood,
Shorn of the gifts of gratitude.

Vestal virgins whose own desires
Burn to ash in their altar fires;
Devotees of Eternal Truth,
Crushed to earth by the tread of Youth.

So here's a toast to that humble host
Who reap the least and who sow the most,
Who wear no halo at all, till they
Are crowned by an aureole of gray.

Teacher-mothers! And may you know
Some of us reap whereof you sow—
Schoolboys, sinners, of seven times seven—
Here's to the saints this side of Heaven!

EOLUS.

MR. DE VALERA over in Ireland seems to be hunting for trouble. You may search under the dresser for an hour for a collar button, you may look all day up and down the block for the half dollar you lost last night, and you may advertise and everything else for the cuff button you lost at the opera—and never get 'em back. But when anybody goes out hunting for trouble he generally finds it right away.

THE G. O. P. has announced the design for its official badges for the Chicago convention. The face of the badge carries Houdon's bust of George Washington. That's pretty smart of the G. O. P. If the impression gets around in the backward states that George Washington is running for President on the Republican ticket the G. O. P. ticket is sure to gather in a mighty big vote.

Mercy, if Rudy writes a song that will lift us out of the depression he ought to get a malacca cane, a silver water pitcher, solid gold watch and chain, cut glass pickle dish, and be asked what he wants for Christmas. But if he croons the song over the radio it isn't going to cure the depression as far as we're concerned; it'll just make it worse.

VARIANCE.

You claim that love may pass over the heart
Lightly and only evoke
Gossamer tremors of pain or delight,
Traceless as yesterday's smoke.

I say that love, be it slight as a moth,
Never, oh never, can move
Over the heart without leaving its path
Carven, a delicate groove.

THE FOREMAN'S JOB.

THE National Safety council has acquired the habit of having Dr. H. S. Hulbert talk to its psychology class at the annual convention. For four years he has given one or more lectures on personality and behavior to audiences composed, in the main, of men whose business it is to control other men. In 1931 this consisted of a course of four lectures.

The subjects were: "Normal Thinking: Its Surprising Vagaries Until the Mind Is Disciplined," "Personal Application of Some Mental Hygiene Rules," "The Use and Misuse of Those Innate Tendencies with Which All Men Are Endowed," "Evolution of the Personality, Well Integrated, Heedful of Its Own and Society's Welfare, and of All Reasonable Rules, Including Safety Rules."

A personnel man who thoroughly understands men and why they behave as they do not only will have pretty good judgment as to whom to hire and whom to keep, but will also know how to get the best possible out of men under him. He will know that a certain plan is best for a man with one type of personality and another for one with another type.

Dr. Hulbert started with a statement by Carney: "In these days of mechanical safeguards, 95 per cent of all accidents are due to man-failure. Attention to those interested in safety, therefore, may well be devoted to the mental causes of man-failure." His conclusion was: "I believe mental hygiene, sound and practical, ought to be retailed to safety councils and to foreman groups. It is one thing for your people to know; it is another to get the knowledge where it will do the most good. I believe that clear, honest, self-disciplined thinking constitutes healthy thinking, and healthy thinking means fewer mistakes and, of course, greater safety."

He told of how certain types of personality peculiarities and of bizarre thinking lead to such rather practical results as unemployability and proneness to accidents. What is of even greater interest to us, he told of how certain bad mental habits tended to end in personality and mental disorders. For example: "Paranoids are very dangerous (to the spirit of an organization). When you find a paranoid in your organization get rid of him instanter. There is no room in competitive industry for paranoids." This is very interesting and may be of great value to foremen.

But our interest is greater in Dr. Hulbert's statement that the paranoids develop out of the "comparer" type of mind. A habit of comparing one person with another, or the present times with the past, or the present place with a former one may be allowed to grow until it develops into the paranoid tendency. When a person compares himself with others unduly he may develop jealousy, envy, self-pity, or snobbishness. An exaggeration of this bad habit lays the foundation for fault finding, suspiciousness, and, finally, the delusions which are so prominent among the paranoids.

A foreman who recognizes that a man is of that type may do something to change the influences around the man and to help him to break up his mental habit before he becomes a menace to himself and the working force.

SOME CASES ARE CURED.

G. K. writes: I have had psoriasis for about fifteen years. Is there any cure or relief for the itch?

REPLY.

Some cases are cured. More are not. In view of the uncertainty, as well as of the trouble involved, we generally advise people to permit the eruption to take its course.

THERE IS NO HARM.

E. E. writes: When a person's bowels move immediately after every meal, do you think it harmful? The health is perfect otherwise.

No.

CAUSE OF DANDRUFF.

A. G. writes: I would like to know what causes dandruff. I am just getting it. Is there any cure?

REPLY.

Put your trust in care and cleanliness. Wash your scalp frequently. Brush your hair industriously several times daily. Grease it occasionally if it appears too dry.

WILLOW TREES A NUISANCE.

Chicago, March 13.—[Friend of the People.]—I have a large willow tree in front of my premises that is causing a lot of trouble with the water pipes, etc. If this tree is removed I will immediately plant another. L. G. B.

Our inspector reports that the above mentioned tree is a live and sound willow. Willow trees in parkways are nuisances, and often cause considerable damage to sewers and sidewalks. The present tree ordinance prohibits the planting of any willows in any parkway of the city. There are, however, so many of them throughout the city that it is impossible, with the small appropriations made for tree work, for the city forestry department to remove them. If any property owner desires to remove a willow or a poplar tree himself, and replace with a tree of a more suitable variety, such as an elm, maple, etc., we shall be glad to mail him a permit to do so. At the present time the city forestry work is practically confined to the removal of dead and dangerous trees. We are mailing the writer a permit inasmuch as he has signified his desire to remove the tree himself.

DRAINAGE DITCH.

Chicago, March 13.—[Friend of the People.]—Will the water department dig out the ditch they covered up in laying water main in 3600 block on North Overhill avenue? There are no sidewalks and people must walk in water to reach their homes. This ditch is our only means of drainage and our street is getting full of holes from recent rains and if not corrected soon will be ruined. H. A. S.

Relative to a drainage ditch which was covered by the water pipe division in laying a main in the 3600 block on North Overhill avenue you are advised that the water pipe extension division cleaned this ditch and installed twelve feet of eight inch pipe as a culvert at this point recently.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

CHINA-JAPAN WAR, 1894

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 28.—The Japanese have completely blockaded Talien Wan and Port Arthur and all adjacent ports. Further Japanese forces have landed at Selkiofu, southeast of Port Arthur. The Chinese occupy a very strong position at Hong Wang, the castle being guarded by 20,000 men. Troops are being massed at Kin Chaow with a view to the defense of Port Arthur.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 28.—Several thousand troops at Nankin mutinied and refused to march to Tientsin because their pay was in arrears for several months. The Chinese fleet has been ordered to protect Shanjal-Kuen. A Japanese fleet with thirty-four torpedo boats is threatening Wei Hai Wei.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28.—The Japanese legation received a cable from its government stating: "The second army of Japan under command of Marshal Oyama effected a landing near Ta-Len-Wau with great success." The cruiser Detroit, which is to be added to the fleet of vessels on the Adriatic station, has left New London, Conn., on its long journey. It will make the trip via the Suez canal.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 29.—It is reported the Japanese have completely invested Port Arthur and that the Chinese forces defending that place cannot hold out long.

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 29.—A third Japanese army numbering 24,000 men has assembled at Hiroshima.

TIENTSIN, Oct 29.—News of the Chinese defeat north of the Yalu river has caused consternation here. Chinese officials do not attempt to deny the serious nature of the disaster. The next fighting is expected at Port Arthur.

28 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 24, 1904.

LONDON.—If today's newspaper dispatches are reliable, the advance of the Japanese army northward may be expected soon. The Nagasaki correspondent of the Express says the censorship allows him to state that the war department has completed all details of the main columns for the invasion into Manchuria. A great force has been massed for an advance on Harbin, starting from the mouth of the Tumen river below Possiet bay. Heavy columns are also concentrated north of Pingyang for an offensive move on the Yalu river. The Tokio correspondent of the Daily Mail says he understands operations will begin about a week hence with an advance on the Yalu.

ST. PETERSBURG.—As no further dispatches have arrived here from Port Arthur, officials have come to the conclusion that the bombardment by the Japanese fleet on the night of March 21 failed to cause any damage worthy to be called to the attention of the emperor. The feeling here is that the Japanese tactics are preliminary to a landing on the peninsula in an endeavor to cut off Port Arthur simultaneously with a general bombardment and commencing with a siege. For this the Russians declare they are well prepared. The Russians are being massed in force along their first line from Fenghuancheng northward for thirty miles while the second line extends from Mukden to Haicheng.

BERLIN.—In military circles and among French and German officials uneasiness is expressed over the danger of China joining with Japan in the war against Russia. The answer of the Chinese government to the threatening dispatches sent it by Russia is waited with anxiety.

CHICAGO.—Hugging and kissing in amateur theatricals is the election issue before the Arché club. Mrs. Frank T. Bliss says that they are shocking enough to menace the foundation rocks of society. She declares that Mrs. William Parker, candidate for president, writes amateur plays and is therefore an undesirable candidate. She says that eight homes on the south side were broken up by amateur theatricals given at the old Oakland club.

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 24, 1916.

EL PASO, Tex.—Gen. Francisco Villa was attacked and defeated tonight at Santa Gertrudes by Carranza troops, according to a dispatch received by Gen. Gavira, Carranza commandant in Juarez. Gen. Gavira said he had received authentic information that following the reported skirmish at Santa Clara earlier in the day, where Col. Cano's command was said to have defeated Villa, the bandit chieftain was pursued and again defeated at Santa Gertrudes. Villa, the dispatch says, left several dead and wounded on the field, and Gen. Gavira says 100 horses were captured from him by the Carranza forces. From Santa Gertrudes Villa fled to El Oso, where he is reported to be reorganizing his forces.

LONDON.—Two Norwegians, two British, one Danish, and one French ship have been sunk—two, it is reported, by torpedoes. At least one life was lost.

BERLIN.—In view of the progress made by German troops near Avocourt the French line between Bethincourt and Malancourt is now menaced. It is asserted that the French positions are threatened from the east by the German success in the region of Dead Man's hill, and from the west as a result of the German victory in the wooded region northeast of Avocourt. The town of Avocourt is only seven kilometers from the important Verdun-Paris railroad, the intervening distance being covered with woods and hills.

BERLIN.—The Russians, in spite of their great offensive on the eastern front, have made no advance, says the official statement given out by the German army headquarters.

WHERE TO DEFLATE.

Kankakee, Ill., March 19.—The press deserves great credit for its able and persistent fight against the high cost of federal government. However, the work of reducing the taxpayer's burden, like charity and other good works, begins at home.

Let us have these matters in their proper perspective in the taxation picture. Federal taxation constitutes only one-third of the taxpayer's burden. The other two-thirds consists of local and state taxation. Let us have more attention to the two-thirds.

The cost of local and state taxation can and should be deflated. First, by abolishing useless and overlapping state offices, bureaus, and commissions. Second, by abolishing useless and duplicating county, township, city, village, and school district offices, including such useless county offices as superintendent of highways and county veterinarians in the smaller counties, and many other local offices too numerous to mention. Third, by eliminating frills from the schools. Fourth, by cutting all appropriations to the bone. Fifth, by reducing salaries, particularly in the higher brackets.

With the cooperation of other legislators I started a movement toward this end at Springfield. The attorney general held that our tax reduction bills were not within the call of the extra session, so we started a movement to have another extra session called and in this we were successful.

We had entered an opening wedge. We had introduced bills along the above lines. We had gone as far as the constitution would permit. These bills are now pending and awaiting action.

At the critical moment it was suggested that we adjourn. I opposed adjournment. I wanted action before the primaries. Legislators would be more liable to vote for tax reduction, realizing that the voters would hold them to account at the primary, even though great pressure were exerted by the lobby and the interests affected. But I was voted down and the legislature adjourned until after the primary.

It seems that every interest has a lobby at Springfield except the taxpayer, and when you start to reduce taxes, cutting down big salaries, abolishing unnecessary offices, and eliminating graft, you have a hard row to hoe.

Now the best thing that can be done is for the press and the people to insist upon pledges from candidates for the legislature that they will vote for our tax reduction bills. I expect to push these bills with all the vigor at my command after the legislature reconvenes on April 19.

Feeling that we had tackled a big program and that it might not be finished at the present extra session I passed up an ambition to be a candidate for statewide office at the primary and decided to stand for reëlection to the legislature in order to complete this tax deflation work. We cannot go to the limit without an amendment to the constitution, but we will go as far as we can.

JAMES T. BURNS.

WORKERS AT THE POLLS.

Chicago, March 17.—Will somebody please explain to me why those in charge of selecting the clerks and judges of election, precinct workers and poll watchers insist upon hiring married women whose husbands are working and men who have regular positions?

I don't see how these persons can apply for or accept a position of this kind when they know that right in their own precincts are persons the sole and main support of their families who have not been able to obtain a day's employment for over a year or more and have to depend upon charity to exist, but who would rather work than accept charity.

A VOTER.

THE SYMPHONY.

New York, March 20.—In several of the comments on the threatened suspension of the activities of the Chicago Symphony it is claimed that this result is not caused by any dispute over rate of pay. Quite true, the musicians' union would not think of a renewal except at an increase, and the management knows that without a substantial reduction a big deficit will be incurred. Why should there not be a reduction? At the present value of a dollar the prevailing scale is equivalent to a 20 or 30 per cent increase over 1929 rates.

When the orchestra was organized the rate was $14 to $20 a week. In 1907 it was $35 for the regulars, except wood and brass and principals of different choirs. Now it is around $100, and the union tried to raise it to $110 last year.

Next year we shall probably have a cooperative symphony, a conductor elected from time to time by the members, and the receipts shared pro rata. Does any player believe he would receive under that plan even 30 per cent of what he now gets? A. L. P.

HIS GAS BILLS.

Arlington Heights, Ill., March 16.—As my home has been heated with gas for five years, the following record of bills, which includes cooking, domestic hot water heating, and home heating, shows the reduction that this new gas has made:

	1930-'31.	1931-'32.
September	$10.09	$11.42
October	26.70	18.28
November	33.45	21.67
December	48.90	27.73
January	41.40	32.58
February	41.85	29.07
Total	$202.39	$140.80

This indicates a little more than the 30 per cent saving advertised by the company. I have no financial interest in the company, but believe in being fair and giving facts instead of opinions.

PAYING FOR A CRADLE PHONE.

Chicago, March 16.—I think the racket conducted by the telephone company deserves attention. I have reference to the 25 cent monthly charge levied upon users of cradle phone instruments. I think none of us would complain about this charge if it were made with the understanding of a reasonable time limit. For instance, I believe one year's charge, or $3, should satisfy the company. To date, having had a cradle telephone almost four years, I have paid the company about $12 and I feel as though I am imposed upon. Is this unnatural? G. C.

JURUM OR JURIS?

Chicago, March 16.—In reading this morning's TRIBUNE I noted, in the article on the University of Chicago convocation, that "twelve received the doctor of journalism." On consulting my convocation program I found that twelve received the J. D. degree. Since a reporter is not expected to have an oversupply of brains, I could see that he interpreted J. D. as doctor of journalism. For that person's information, J. D. means "jurum doctor," or, in English, "doctor of law."

I am a U. of C. freshman under the New Plan; maybe that explains this letter. MERRILL JOSEPH YOH.

TRACE BEER AND LABOR CLEWS IN NEW GANG 'RIDE'

Body of Victim Found in Westchester.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Robert Hill, larceny, sentenced to 1 year in the Bridewell; Carl Balsler, Donald Ireland, Julius Joseph, Charles Oehlert, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years each in Pontiac reformatory; Emmet Grimes, Michael Wagner, larceny, sentenced to 1 year each in Pontiac reformatory, by Judge Rudolph Desort.

The police last night considered either rivalry over beer territory on the northwest side or a labor war in the western suburbs responsible for the murder of Otto J. Fernick, alias Dutch Hill, gangster, con man and pickpocket. Fernick, the fourth victim of a gangland ride in the last nine days, was found shot to death yesterday alongside Mannheim road at 20th street in Westchester.

Fernick at one time was chauffeur for Timothy J. Lynch, czar of the Central Teamsters and Chauffeurs' union according to state's attorney's investigators. Lynch was shot and killed at the rear of his home in Maywood last November.

In investigating the beer traffic clews, the police said that it had been reported that Fernick had been running beer through territory controlled by the successors of Matt Kolb, boss of the beer trade in roadhouses on the northwest side, who was killed last year. He was also a known associate of Bernard McCone, who was shot to death with Herman Diehn in Forest Park last year.

Consider Labor Theory.

While the police held to the beer rivalry theory detectives from the coroner's office asserted that Fernick had been murdered because of his connection with the teamsters' union. Fernick's body was found in an automobile which bore license plates issued to him at 12 North 5th avenue, Maywood.

At the time the license was issued this was the address of the union headquarters, which has since moved to 503 Main street, Maywood. There Sergts. Charles Reynolds and Frank Donahue of the coroner's office staged a raid and took five men to the Oak Park police station for questioning.

Frank Carey, a clerk in the union office; J. R. Waldt, business agent for the Maywood local; Henry Cupp, business agent for the Du Page county branch of the union, and two chauffeurs, Dan Louise and John Ragone, both of Melrose Park, were questioned by the coroner's investigators and released.

Record Goes Back to 1903.

Fernick was married and lived in an apartment at 1808 Farwell avenue with his wife and step-daughter. His police record stretches back to 1903, when he was arrested for pickpocketing. The last entry was in 1927, when he was seized for carrying concealed weapons.

Other gang assassinations recently have included the murder of Martin Carmody, minor hoodlum, who was shot to death in a prairie at Carondelet avenue and 125th street on March 16. Frank Battaglia, "42" gangster, was found dead in a ditch in Worth township on March 20.

JAP CHIEFS MAKE DEAL AND AVERT CABINET CRISIS

TOKIO, March 24.—[Thursday.]—(AP)—Japanese newspapers said today that a breach in the ranks of the Seiyukai (government) party had been averted by an agreement between leaders of opposing factions on a program for reorganization of the cabinet of Premier Inukai.

Qualified observers said they believed the agreement made it certain that the Inukai cabinet would continue in office for at least several months, with the early appointment of Minister of Justice Suzuchi to the post of home minister.

It was the opposition of former Communications Minister Kuhara, leader of the rival faction, that blocked Inukai's appointment of Suzuki as home minister, as he originally intended when Tokugoro Nakahashi resigned recently, and caused the premier temporarily to assume the portfolio himself on March 16. Kuhara has now been mollified.

Rat Bites Children; Rodent to Be Tested for Rabies

Patrick James Sirles, 8 years old, and his sister, Eleanor, 6 years old, were bitten on the hand yesterday by a rat they had trapped in the yard back of their home at 1656 West Erie street. Their father killed the rodent, which police later sent to the health department for an examination to determine if it had rabies.

WATERWAY NEAR COMPLETION FOR OPENING IN FALL

Peoria, Ill., March 23.—[Special.]—With work aided considerably by mild weather during winter months, the last link in the lakes-to-the-gulf waterway will be whipped into shape within the next month when final contracts are to be let on the federal division of the Illinois waterway, it was announced by Lieut. Col. Dan I. Sultan, Chicago, United States engineer in charge.

Col. Sultan has indicated the waterway will be open for barge traffic early in October.

Bids on the dredging of Dresden island pool, to be done at an estimated cost of $400,000, are to be opened next Friday and within another month bids will be opened for the construction of retaining walls along the east side of the river at Joliet. The work will cost about $300,000. Last week bids for construction of the Marsailles dam were forwarded to Washington for approval.

The installation of operating machinery for sanitary district bridges between Lockport and Chicago and establishments of a joint waterway and rail terminal in Chicago are obstacles now facing state and federal officials. Provision for the terminal and waterway is embodied in a bill presented at the third special session to be taken up when the legislature reconvenes April 19.

A sum not to exceed $200,000 is to be provided by the Santa Fé and the Illinois Central railroads, and an appropriation of $200,000 is set up for expenditure by the department of purchases and construction.

Booze Pours Into Finland as Prohibition Nears End

HELSINGFORS, Finland, March 23.—(AP)—Thousands of cases of whisky are pouring into Finland in preparation for the resumption of the wet era. The first consignment of 5,600 cases came from Scotland. Sweden contributed 75,000 liters of brandy and 22,000 of punch. The first shipment of cognac from France is due about April 5, the day the prohibition act lapses.

WISCONSIN LAWS DRIVING HOSIERY FIRM FROM STATE

Reveal Decision to Close Three Plants.

Beaver Dam, Wis., March 23.—[Special.]—The Bear Brand Hosiery company, normally employing 1,000 workers in its three plants at Hartford, Waupon and Beaver Dam, has decided to abandon its $500,000 investment in Wisconsin because of high taxes and conflict with the state industrial commission.

The decision was announced today by F. A. Crocker, secretary of the company. Mr. Crocker said new sites were under consideration in Tennessee, Indiana and Illinois. The company already has a branch plant at Kankakee, Ill.

Further Operations Impossible.

"In view of the present attitude of the state administration toward industry our company can see no future in this state," Mr. Crocker said. "We have decided that further operations will be impossible in Wisconsin and are shaping our plans accordingly."

The decision to move was reached within the last few weeks, it was said. Hitherto an expansion program had been drafted for the Beaver Dam plant and in the last month an installation of new machinery was completed there.

This machinery will now be transferred to Kankakee, Mr. Crocker said. An additional $50,000 order of machinery, in transit to Beaver Dam last week, was stopped at Chicago and rerouted to Kankakee, he said.

"We would have preferred remaining in Wisconsin," Mr. Crocker said. "Our trained workers and our buildings are here. But we have trade orders to fill and the industrial commission has refused to extend us the coöperation we need."

Planned Two Shifts.

His reference was to the recent controversy in which the company unsuccessfully sought permission from the industrial commission to employ women knitters nightly until 10 o'clock. The concern, he explained, had only one set of full fashioned hose knitting machines, and had proposed to establish two eight hour shifts in order to fill the orders.

The second shift was to work until 10 p. m. The commission refused to allow them to work after 6 p. m., the theory being that women workers should be protected from the perils of the streets after darkness.

"We offered to put 100 additional employés to work in Beaver Dam," Mr. Crocker recalled. "That inducement, even in these times of slack employment, failed to sway the commission. We expect to encounter a more favorable attitude in another state."

PLANT MOVED HERE

The experience of a color printing concern which quit Wisconsin for Chicago six years ago because of high taxes was told to a representative of THE TRIBUNE yesterday by B. W. Martin, president of the Shellmar Products company. Mr. Martin is a native of Appleton, Wis.

In December, 1926, the $250,000 plant of the Shellmar company at 3716 Humboldt avenue, Milwaukee, was destroyed by fire. Within the next few weeks the officers had to decide whether to rebuild on that site and reëmploy their existing force of 75 employés or seek a new location.

Taxes the Main Factor.

"Several factors entered into the decision," Mr. Martin said, "but the most important was taxation. Fred R. Zimmerman was then governor and we had no particular criticism of his attitude towards industry. But the La Follette machine was the dominant political force in the state and we foresaw the inevitable trend legislation would take."

The Shellmar company has had cause to congratulate itself over its decision to move, particularly since Philip La Follette became governor, Mr. Martin said. While Wisconsin industries are burdened with a real estate tax, personal property tax and corporate income tax, the Shellmar company has had to pay a tax only on its actual property here.

Taxes Much Lower.

"For competitive reasons I can't givet you the figures on our Wisconsin taxes as compared with our Illinois taxes," Mr. Martin said, "I will say our tax bills have been much lower since we left Milwaukee. We have doubled our plant investment and are now employing 150 persons.

"The La Follette theory seems to be that all excess profits of industry should be confiscated in order to achieve a redistribution of wealth. This, they say, will restore prosperity by elevating the buying power of the masses. They forget that industry utilizes excess profits for expansion and that with the excess profits confiscated expansion necessarily ceases."

O. K.'S $55,000 LAW FEES IN BANK RECEIVERSHIPS

3 Closed Banks' Lawyers Get $100,000 Total.

Attorneys' fees totaling $55,000 were approved yesterday by State Auditor Oscar Nelson for the legal representatives of the receivers of three closed banks. Two of the law firms have already received $45,000, making a total of $100,000 in lawyers' fees in the three receiverships.

SAMUEL ETTELSON.

A fee of $15,000 for Attorney Samuel A. Ettelson was approved, making a total of $30,000 for his services to date for the receiver of the South Side Savings Bank and Trust company. This payment is 2 per cent of the $1,500,000 which has been collected by the receiver, $1,100,000 of which has been paid to the depositors.

Lawyers' Fee Total $40,000.

A fee of $10,000 was approved for the law firm of Brundage, Landon & Holt, making a total of $40,000 which has been received by this firm from the Sheridan Trust and Savings bank. A payment of $400,000 is now being made to the depositors. Bills payable of $1,429,162 and preferred claims of $256,660 also have been paid. The legal fees are 2.9 per cent of the $2,500,000 collected by the receiver.

A fee of $30,000 was approved for the law firm of Judah, Reichmann, Trumbull & Cox, attorneys for the receiver for the Noel State bank. This is 1.9 per cent of the $1,617,000 collected by the receiver. The depositors have been paid $319,724 and bills payable of $565,393 and preferred claims of $359,430 also have been paid.

The usual fees allowed by the courts in general receivership cases, according to Auditor Nelson, range from 10 to 25 per cent of the money collected by the receivers.

Ex-Cashier Admits Forgery.

A. H. Hein, Bible class teacher and former cashier of the closed Brookfield State bank, yesterday admitted to Circuit Judge Michael Feinberg that he had forged the signature to a $28 withdrawal slip. The withdrawal was made shortly before the bank closed and was made for one of the bank's bookkeepers who was home ill, according to Hein. Last minute withdrawals of deposits by officials, directors and their friends were disclosed in testimony on Tuesday.

The former cashier was denounced by Judge Feinberg for persuading minor bank employés to leave their savings intact while he and his associates were closing out their accounts on the day the bank shut its doors.

"You and your associates are the worst hypocrites in the world," said the judge. "You admit these charges quite blandly, all the time wearing an air of sanctimony no doubt assumed because you are leader of a Bible class in Cicero."

The court ordered a dividend of 10 per cent to be paid depositors of the Mount Greenwood Trust and Savings bank, which closed on Sept. 19, 1931, with deposits of $37,000.

BERLIN DEMANDS HELP OF POWERS IN MEMEL ROW

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 23.—The German government today lodged protests at Kaunas, Lithuania; Rome, Paris, and London against the "illegal constitution of the Edward Simmat directorate and the equally illegal dissolution of the Memel diet."

Germany demands that new elections to the diet must be carried out in full accordance with the Memel statutes and "must not be falsified through any machinations of the directorate."

A further demand is made on Foreign Minister Dr. D. Zaunius of Lithuania to fulfill his promise, made at Geneva, to end the existing state of siege.

Is there any wonder that eyes look jealously at our sale price tags on Rogers Peet suits? We are a little envious ourselves, almost wishing we could wear two suits at a time.

For they are fine suits. The materials are pure wool, good wool and all wool. The styles are smart and as current as March itself. Every suit is hand-tailored with the care you would only expect in a custom suit.

The former prices were from $35 to $75, and most of them were nearer $70 than $35.

And incidentally! Along with these prices we have a special sale of furnishings—shirts, ties, socks and pajamas—at correspondingly low prices.

IF other people are having all the fun, there's something the matter with you. Man or woman, young or old, rich or poor—you can't expect to enjoy sparkling health while poisons clog your system.

To feel fine, you must be internally clean.

Take the saline treatment with Sal Hepatica. You'll begin to have fun yourself. And you'll not only feel a hundred per cent better, but you'll look a hundred per cent better!

Today—at your drug store—get a bottle of Sal Hepatica. Tomorrow morning when you get up, pour two teaspoons or so of Sal Hepatica into a big glass of water—and drink down the sparkling mixture.

Sal Hepatica is not "just another laxative." When you take Sal Hepatica, you are taking the famous saline treatment. For Sal Hepatica gives the same benefits as the saline springs of the great European health spas.

Sal Hepatica does far more than any ordinary laxative can do. It not only cleanses the digestive tract, but it clears away poisons from the bloodstream. It gets at the causes of headaches, colds, digestive disorders, rheumatism, and skin blemishes. It never has a tendency to make its users stout. Get a bottle today!

CONSTIPATION

Whenever you wake up with any symptoms of constipation—take 2 teaspoonfuls of Sal Hepatica in a glass of water. Promptly, gently, the wastes will be flushed away.

HEADACHE

To relieve the intestinal congestion which causes so many headaches, take a teaspoonful of Sal Hepatica in a glass of water and repeat in 15 minutes if not relieved.

COLDS

The first step in clearing a cold is to flush out the system with 2 to 4 teaspoonfuls of Sal Hepatica in a glass of water. Continue before breakfast to keep free of congestion.

BAD COMPLEXION

To keep the bloodstream clear of impurities that often cause blemishes, take 1 teaspoonful of Sal Hepatica in a glass of water—for a week, or as long as necessary.

RHEUMATISM

As an eliminant, flush the system with 2 to 4 teaspoons of Sal Hepatica in a glass of water. Keep free of acidity by taking 1 to 2 teaspoonfuls before meals and retiring.

BRITAIN STEPS TO KASHMIR POWER OVER REBELLION

Indian State Seen Lost to Natives.

BY EGBERT SWENSON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

JAMMU, Kashmir, India, March 23.—The British who have long been accused of designs on the frontier state of Kashmir, the only region in India climatically suited to them, are now very much in charge of it. Lieut. Col. E. J. D. Colvin, British officer, has just assumed the job of prime minister. Two other Britons are said to be slated for two other cabinet portfolios.

As for the Kashmir ruler himself, Sir Hari Singh, the "Mr. A." of the notorious London blackmail scandal, it is history that the British put him on his throne—despite the blackmail scandal.

In fact, he owes his place so completely to the British that the serious nature of the Mohammedan revolt in January and early February is by many attributed to his reluctance to take strong steps for fear of British disapproval.

Revolt Laid to British.

The Mohammedan revolt in Kashmir, in which scores of Hindus were killed, other scores forced to accept the Moslem faith, many women abducted, hundreds of Hindu homes burned and looted, and finally several rioting Mohammedans shot and killed by troops, is said to have had its inception in the Punjab, a province in British ruled India.

The Punjabi Mohammedans, according to the allegations of most Hindus, organized the Kashmir revolt, stirred by resentment at the idea that Kashmir, a state peopled almost entirely by Moslems, should be ruled by a Hindu maharajah.

The reverse is true in the much bigger and more important state of Hyderabad in south India, where the nizam is a Mohammedan and his people are almost all Hindu, but the Punjabi Mohammedans were concerned only with the Kashmir problem at their door. They are alleged to have had the tacit approval of the British government of India in their plottings.

Ruler Blamed by Hindus.

The most ardent followers of the movement drifted across the Punjab border into Kashmir and set off the row. Hindus and Sikhs, the latter a warlike sect, complain that they were stopped when they tried to cross the border into Kashmir to aid their co-religionists, while the Punjabi Mohammedans were allowed free entry.

After the revolt had broken out, Hindus and Sikhs united to accuse the maharajah of handling the situation tardily and inadequately. But they also insist he was prevented from acting vigorously by fear of British disapproval. So the revolt spread rapidly, encouraged by a growing idea among the Mohammedan rebels, that no troops, state troops or British troops, would interfere.

British troops finally went into Kashmir, after frantic Sikhs and Hindus, dismayed by the atrocities visited on their minority brethren in Kashmir, appealed desperately for help from the British government, although accusing it in the first place of having connived with the Punjabi Mohammedans and in the second place of having tied the Kashmir maharajah's hands so that he dared not act to save his own co-religionists.

Premier Takes Rest.

Then, no sooner than the revolt quieted down, came the news that the prime minister, Raja Harikishan Kaul, had fallen ill and gone for a rest, and that Lieut. Col. Colvin has taken over his duties.

Whether it is the first step by the British toward taking advantage of the situation and assuming complete control over the Kashmir state—a step with many precedents in Indian history since the British entered the peninsula—remains to be seen. So far, they say that Lieut. Col. Colvin's tenure of office will last only until complete quiet has been restored.

FALLS IN PATH OF TRAIN.

Harry Claster, 50 years old, 1155 West 83d street, was killed early yesterday when he fell from the 11th street platform of the Chicago, Aurora and Elgin railroad in Maywood and was struck by a Chicago bound train.

ONE PIPE DOES FOR HINDU VILLAGE

The old men of a Hindu village, too poor to afford more than one hookah—bubble pipe—among them. They enjoy their one luxury by setting the pipe bowl in their midst and passing the long stem from mouth to mouth. The part that rests on the ground is the water receptacle. The bowl that is at the top contains the tobacco. The mouthpiece is grasped with the full hand by the smoker, the contraption being rather cumbersome.

Arrested as Swindler as He Leaves Court

George Sprighman, 62 years old, was arrested yesterday as he walked from the South State Street court after obtaining a continuance on a charge of disorderly conduct. He is wanted by Lima, O., authorities, who charge that he got $30,000 from W. M. T. Jamilton of that city in 1929 in an oil stock swindle. Sprighman was arrested with six other men, and police assert that Yellow Kid Weil narrowly escaped being caught with the group when they were found in a north side hotel.

Jailer and Trusty Beaten, but Prevent Jailbreak

Evansville, Ind., March 23.—[Special.]—William Sweeney, local jailer and former city detective, lies seriously injured at his home, having been slugged and beaten in an attempted jail break today. Sweeney and George Grimm, a trusty, who also was beaten, fought with three prisoners until help arrived. The prisoners were Elmer Roberts, Virgil Howard and James Eakins.

MRS. GUNN-JONES' DOCTOR WITNESS IN WILL BATTLE

Dr. Charles F. Loffler, physician, who attended Mrs. Kitty Gunn-Jones, wealthy recluse, in the final years of her life, was cross-examined yesterday by Attorney David D. Stansbury before Master in Chancery Jacob M. Arvey.

He was a witness for Mrs. Louie Thompson, sister of Mrs. Gunn-Jones, who is seeking to break the will in which Mrs. Gunn-Jones left a $500,000 estate to her husband, George W. Jones, whom Attorney Stansbury represents. During the last years of her life, Dr. Loffler said, the testator suffered from acute hallucinations, which were brought on, he said, by the fact that she was "weak in body and mind" as a result of a series of operations and imporper diet.

He gave up her case before she died in 1929 because Mrs. Gunn-Jones refused to follow his directions, he said.

Arrest Gandhi's Adopted Daughter, an 'Untouchable'

AHMEDABAD, India, March 23.—(AP)—Mahatma Gandhi's 18 year old adopted daughter, Laxmi, who belongs to the caste of untouchables, was arrested today in Taluka, Jalalpur, on a charge of distributing unlawful propaganda.

6 REDS FACE DEATH IF CONVICTED UNDER 64 YEAR OLD STATUTE

Atlanta, Ga., March 23.—[Special.]—Attorneys for six communists today argued before a Fulton county Superior court judge a demurrer to an indictment charging them with attempting to incite insurrection in Atlanta more than two years ago by distributing communistic leaflets. A sixty-four year old statute of reconstruction days provides the death penalty in case of conviction.

Charges against the sextet were made after a series of meetings here in 1929 and in 1930 in which, Atlanta police claimed, tear gas bombs were used to keep officers out. The defendants are alleged to have distributed literature alleged to be of "an insurrectionary character."

Former Evansville Brewer Leaves Estate to Widow

Evansville, Ind., March 23.—[Special.]—Charles W. Cook, wealthy former brewer here, whose death occurred about two weeks ago, bequeathed his entire estate to his widow, Emily.

New Captains of Industry

While we fully appreciate our esteemed patronage of today, it is the coming generation which will decide our destiny of tomorrow. These younger men who will assume the role of leadership—the New Captains of Industry and acknowledged Leaders—are the logical nucleus of our future prosperity. RULES HUSBAND DOES NOT OWN BODY OF HIS WIFE

Holds Woman May Leave with 'Other Man.'

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 23.—Litigation affecting "in acute fashion several problems of matrimonial and social life" was settled today by Justice Sir Henry A. McCardie, the "bachelor judge," with a long and pungent decision dealing with wife enticement.

JUSTICE McCARDIE. [Acme Photo.]

Justice McCardie settled the long drawn out "Helen of Troy" suit, in which John Place, a grocer's clerk, sued Charles Searle, a socially prominent Cambridge physician, charging him with enticing Mrs. Gwen Place to leave him. Juries at the Cambridge assizes had twice failed to agree on the case. Justice McCardie gave a decision in favor of Searle and Mrs. Place

No Evidence of Enticement.

Punctuating his summary with the assertion that "concealment is a fertile parent of suspicion," Justice McCardie held that there was no evidence of enticement, since the wife had already made up her mind to leave her husband, who had threatened her with a revolver and knife before he met Searle dressed in night clothes on the night of the separation. Searle took the woman back home and fought her husband before he drove her away.

Justice McCardie's opinion was marked by three outstanding points regarding the present law dealing with matrimony.

"First," he said, "it seems clear that the position between husbands and wives calls for reconsideration by the law in view of the new status of married women.

"Second, the rights of a married woman to form independent friendships and enjoy her own amusements can never be solved by law, but must be determined by standards of loyalty, courtesy and good sense.

Body No Longer Husband's.

"Third, the comfort and happiness of married life rests not with the statutes and decisions of law but with matters beyond and above the realm of law. In the middle of the 18th century the property of the woman became her husband's and her body belonged to him. She was his creature and his possession. Under the married women's property act, her property is now her own. It is recognized that her body is not her husband's but her own.

"The shackles of servitude have fallen from the limbs of married women. It seems clear that under the law a married woman is free to depart when she wishes from her husband's house. He cannot prevent her doing so and the law disclaims his power to do so.

"The fact is that many old decisions require adjustment, if not abolition, in view of the conditions of modern life."

ASSERTS $50 WAS PAID FOR A NEW STORY OF HOLDUP

Court Asked to Dismiss Barnett Petition.

Joseph Baum, one of the fake bandits, who took jewelry from Mrs. Laura B. Price two years ago so that she and the conspirators might obtain $18,000 insurance, was paid $50 to tell a new version of the sham robbery which absolves the alleged ringleader, Maurice A. Barnett, loop jewelry dealer.

That was the charge made yesterday by Assistant State's Attorney Charles J. Mueller at a hearing before Chief Justice Harry Fisher of the Criminal court. Mr. Mueller asked that a petition to set aside the verdict of the jury which found Barnett guilty be referred for action to Judge Harry Miller, trial judge.

First Story True One.

"Baum has told me that his latest story is a frameup," said Mr. Mueller. "Barnett's son paid Baum $50 to make that statement that Barnett had nothing to do with the Price robbery." Baum now admits that his original testimony against Barnett in the trial was true, the prosecutor asserted.

Attorney John L. Fogle, whom Judge Fisher allowed to file the petition over the protests of the state's attorney's office on March 18, asked that the hearing be postponed in order to prepare arguments. Judge Fisher set the matter over for Monday.

Mr. Mueller cited Supreme court decisions to prove that the hearing on the petition should be held before the judge who presided at the trial. Judge Miller sentenced Barnett to 1 to 5 years in the penitentiary on March 15, 1930. The conviction was affirmed by the Appellate and Supreme courts. Barnett received the heaviest sentence because evidence showed he was the brains" of the plot.

Mrs. Price Served Time.

Mrs. Price has served a six months' sentence in the county jail for playing the victim in the robbery. Max Krakow is just completing a like sentence for his share.

In Baum's new version of the robbery, he said that he had laid the blame on Barnett during the trial at Krakow's request because the latter had a family.

BENHAM FREED; 2D TRIAL PANEL FAILS TO AGREE

Jurors Discharged After 44 Hour Session.

Belvidere, Ill., March 23.—[Special.]—The jury trying Albert W. Benham, amateur financier, on charges of operating a confidence game, was discharged at noon today after nearly 44 hours of deliberation. The jury took 34 ballots. The jurors were divided 6 to 6 on the first vote, but they stood 10 to 2 for acquittal on the final ballot.

ALBERT W. BENHAM.

Whether Benham will again face a jury depends upon State's Attorney A. J. Strom. He declared that he was not prepared to say what his course will be. The state's first case against Benham was not prossed when an error was discovered in the indictment and this second hearing resulted in a mistrial.

Borrowed at High Rates.

Benham did an apparently thriving business in borrowing sums at interest rates from 10 to 50 per cent until Belvidere bankers began an investigation in January, 1931. A month later, Benham announced that he was bankrupt, but would repay his loans if given time. Most of his debtors expressed confidence in him.

Benham was indicted on fourteen charges of operating a confidence game and defrauding investors. He went on trial last Feb. 29 on a charge preferred by Mrs. Marie Johnson, a widow here. Flaws in the indictment halted the trial and the second trial began with another complaining witness.

Benham's defense was that short time notes at usurious interest rates were illegal and uncollectable, and that the lender was equally guilty with the borrower and should also be prosecuted. The Illinois Appellate court has ruled to that effect in one case.

Says He Is Penniless.

Benham did not testify. The records showed that $98,000 had been deposited with him. Estimates of his total transactions after leaving the sewing machine factory where he was employed as a shipping clerk have fixed his borrowings at about $400,000. Shortly before he went out of business Belvidere banks reported deposit withdrawals of $310,000 in one week. Benham has not been employed for a year and recently announced that he is penniless.

Hoover's Power Hobbled by Court Ruling on Sears Tariff

New York, March 23.—[Special]—The President may not take advantage of the flexibility provisions of the tariff act to set up new classifications of goods on which duties are to be levied, the United States Customs court held in an opinion delivered here today.

The case was one in which Sears, Roebuck & Co. protested an increase in duty, made by presidential proclamation, on galvanized wire netting which it had imported from Belgium.

The court found for the mail order house, holding that in his proclamation of Feb. 5, 1931, setting up the new duties, President Hoover had set up a new classification of dutiable goods. This, the court held, is a legislative function vested in congress, which congress may not, under the constitution, delegate to any one.

Tariff Act Defined.

The flexibility section of the 1930 tariff act delegates to the President power to raise or lower duties as much as 50 per cent. Any such changes, the act provides, are to be based on comparison of production costs abroad and in the United States of a manufactured article, and are designed to protect American manufactures against low foreign production costs.

The violation of the constitution, the court held in the present case, lay in the fact that the President had not merely raised the duties, but had set up a new classification of goods to be taxed.

The netting in question had previously been classified for duty under one of the "catch all" sections of the tariff act, applying to all metal goods not otherwise classified. The presidential proclamation amended this section, adding paragraphs setting new duties for wire netting of certain dimensions.

Long Fight Reviewed.

The opinion reviews the long constitutional struggle, in England and the United States, to take the power to impose taxes from the executive and to keep it in the hands of the legislative branch.

It mentions the stand of the English patriot, John Hampden, in refusing to pay "ship money" levied by Charles I., and quotes Chief Justice Marshall: "The power to tax is the power to destroy."

"If the power to write new paragraphs into a tariff law may be delegated to the President," the opinion states, "then by every rule of logic congress may with equal propriety similarly delegate to him the power to write new paragraphs into the income tax law, classifying the persons and corporations required to pay income tax and fixing the rate each class shall pay.

"Concede for one moment that the President may name in a law the person or thing to be taxed, and the protection afforded by the constitution is lost to everybody, not alone to customs taxpayers."

Sears, Roebuck & Co. were represented by David D. Stansbury and Wallace & Ryan, Chicago attorneys. The government counsel have informed them of their intention to appeal the riuing to the United States Supreme court.

GILDAY IS HIT BY JUDGMENT; MUST PAY $18,272

A verdict of $18,272 in a breach of contract suit was returned yesterday by a jury against Daniel L. Gilday, gun toting official of the Englewood Law and Order league and dry agitator, who is under sentence of 1 to 14 years in the Joliet penitentiary for assault with intent to murder. The judgment was returned before Judge Samuel H. Trude in the Municipal court.

The suit was brought by Norman G. Nicholson, 6930 South Shore drive, a contractor, who charged that he erected a 14 apartment building at 1058 Catalpa avenue for Gilday in 1925 at the cost of $70,545. The judgment represented the unpaid amount of the construction bill.

Gilday was sentenced on Tuesday by Judge John Prystalski in the Criminal court for shooting and seriously wounding Herman Knol, 17 years old, when the youth tried to guide his tipsy steps one night last November.

How to Escape
FLU
and Grippe

1 Avoid as far as possible the places where germs are most likely to be spread; overcrowded cars and public meeting places; stuffy, poorly ventilated rooms.

2 Be careful of close contact with others and beware of all coughers and sneezers; breathe through the nose, get fresh air but avoid drafts or chilling.

3 Get lots of rest. Drink plenty of water. Keep the bowels open. Take extra precaution to keep in good physical condition, so your system will have normal resistance against germs.

4 Try, particularly to avoid catching colds. Colds lower your resistance to disease germs. At the first sign of any cold, take Bayer Aspirin and remain indoors if possible until your cold is gone. Gargle with Bayer Aspirin dissolved in water at the first touch of sore throat, as this relieves the soreness and usually reduces the inflammation.

5 If you have any reason to suspect even a touch of flu, call your doctor at once.

CHICAGO MOTOR CLUB INSURANCE DIVISION SETS RECORD IN 1931

An indication of the situation in the automobile insurance business is seen in the annual statement of the Inter-Insurance exchange of the Chicago Motor-club, according to E. R. Seely, president of W. C. Kirby & Co., certified public account, who completed the audit yesterday.

"In the face of what looked like depression in 1931," he said, "the exchange sold 78,083 contracts, an all time record, compared with 75,153 in 1930. The exchange, a reciprocal company, returned in cash to contract holders $816,473 during 1931, against $789,030 in 1930. The savings return was greater in 1931 than in any other year of its history.

1,200 PINTS RUM DISAPPEAR FROM U. S. STOREROOM

Dry Agent's Arrest Brings Investigation.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 23.—[Special.]—Federal prohibition officials from Washington and Chicago are here investigating the disappearance of 1,200 pints of bonded whisky from the storeroom in the basement of the federal building.

The whisky, labeled "Log Cabin," was part of the box car load of 1,182 sacks seized at Evansville in 1931 while en route from Ansley, Miss., to Chicago liquor rings.

The room also contained 110 quarts and 178 pints of Scotch and Canadian liquor, cognac, brandies, and wines.

Dry Seized as Drunk.

The federal building storeroom is the one which gained national notoriety six years ago, when it was revealed $225,000 worth of liquor had been stolen.

The present investigation is the outgrowth of the arrest of Patrick Currie, former federal prohibition agent, at a barbecue here last October.

Deputy sheriffs who arrested Currie declared he was intoxicated and that he fired his revolver several times in wild west fashion.

Charles W. Britt, then deputy prohibition administrator, and who has been assigned to another district, asked that efforts be made to transfer the case from the Municipal court to the federal court.

The charges of disorderly conduct and drunkenness against Currie finally were dismissed when the witnesses failed to appear. The witnesses maintained they had not received proper notice of the trial.

George Armstrong, an undercover man for the prohibition department who was with Currie in the barbecue, signed an affidavit that Currie was intoxicated, as charged by the deputies. This report was sent to prohibition officials at Washington.

George G. Bugby, a federal agent, who had charge of the liquor storeroom, reported he had noticed on several occasions there had been a shortage in liquor seized and placed there.

Agent Is Dismissed.

Acting on information from Bugby, government officials wrote to Col. F. J. J. Herbert, then administrator for the area. Later John W. Morrell replaced Britt, and Currie was dismissed.

Investigators from Washington and Chicago arrived two weeks ago. The Washington investigators also were interested in determining why some of the prohibition officials were delinquent in filing certain reports of important liquor raids in Indianapolis.

It was charged tonight by Indianapolis newspapers that confiscated liquor has been used at "wild parties" participated in by politicians of both parties.

FLORIDA PASTOR ON TRIAL TODAY FOR DRY KILLING

Charged with Murder on Liquor Raid.

Palatka, Fla., March 23.—[Special.]—Earl H. McGaha, pastor of the Christian church here who declared that he deemed it not only his duty to report law violators but to assist in the apprehension and conviction of offenders, was to go on trial for his life here tomorrow. He is charged with murder as the result of a raid on a liquor still in the Lake Hewitt scrub section, several miles from here, the day before Christmas, when John W. Malone was shot to death with a gun alleged to have been held by McGaha.

Led Raid on Still.

McGaha, who has been held in jail since the raiding party of three sheriff's deputies led by the militant pastor closed in on the still in the sparsely inhabited region, faces a first degree murder charge, although the charge had been previously reduced at a preliminary hearing to manslaughter.

The minister, who has admitted at previous hearings that if Malone was shot by any one of the raiding party, which were concealed about the still as Malone and a Negro helper approached the plant, it must have been him, is showing the strain of his imprisonment in the county jail.

Church Deserts Him.

Upon his arrest after Malone was shot, McGaha had expected that the proceedings would be a mere formality and that he would be exonerated of blame in the shooting. But he was charged with murder, his pulpit has since been filled by another and, as far as the Christian church is concerned, he is left to make his fight alone. Only a few friends have manifested any desire to help the pastor and solicited funds for his defense.

McGaha, who came here from Oklahome as "the boy evangelist of 10 years age," to conduct a revival series for the local Christian church and who succeeded in getting the appointment as pastor despite objections of a faction of the church, has intimated by letters to the local press and to the state's attorney that he knows more about the matter than has yet been revealed.

DEPUTY ACCUSES CHIEF OF FAKING BOOZE EVIDENCE

Says He Filled Bottle Taken in Raid.

Rockford, Ill., March 23.—[Special.]—Charges were made by Allan Carter, former special deputy sheriff, on the witness stand in County court today that Chief Deputy Millard Stockburger had manufactured evidence in a liquor raid several months ago.

Stockburger, who is the chief aid of Sheriff William C. Bell, elected as a dry law crusader, brands the charges made by Carter as "an attempt to get revenge for fancied wrongs."

Carter, called to the stand by County Judge George T. Liddell after the state had rested its case in the trial of Tony and Guy Lungo on charges of sale and possession of liquor, testified that he had seen Stockburger fill a bottle, obtained in a raid at the Lungo home last Nov. 15, with the contents of a pint bottle of alcohol which he drew from his own desk in the sheriff's office.

Says Bottle Had Been Empty.

The bottle, Carter charged, was empty when Stockburger confiscated it during the raid on Lungo's store.

After filling the bottle Carter said Stockburger allowed the bottle to be sealed and labeled to be used as evidence against the defendants. The alleged tampering was done, Carter claimed, in the sheriff's office shortly after the raid.

Carter's testimony was uncorroborated. Other deputies who participated in the raid and who were in the sheriff's office when the bottle was sealed, contradicted Carter's story.

Under cross-examination by Assistant State's Attorney Max A. Weston, Carter admitted that his relations with Stockburger had not been friendly for several months.

"He accused me of stealing some blankets," Carter testified.

Carter also informed the court that Sheriff Bell had ordered him to return his deputy's star a few minutes before he was subpœnaed by the court to testify.

Stockburger, when called to the witness stand, denied that he had tampered with the evidence in the case. He stated that he had had considerable difficulty in getting Carter to obey orders.

Charges Raiders Beat Him.

When questioned by his attorney, Sam A. Cousley, Lungo, one of the defendants, denied selling liquor to two federal undercover liquor investigators, who called at his home a few days before the raid which was conducted jointly by federal prohibition agents and the sheriff's office.

"The federal men were both drunk when they arrived and I gave them some lemon pop to sober them up," Lungo testified. He declared that when he was arrested two federal men held him, while W. H. Oxenford, a former deputy sheriff who is now under suspension for beating another prisoner, hit him over the head with a flashlight.

The Lungo case went to the jury late today.

HILLSBORO, O., DRY 60 YEARS, BUT IT'S ONLY ONE IN TEN

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Hillsboro, O., dry by a margin of 156 votes in a total of 996 cast, is the only community to vote against repeal of the prohibition amendment in ten cities of varying sizes reported today in the Literary Digest's poll of the country. Hillsboro is often called the "mother of prohibition," because of the women's crusade there 60 years ago which led to the founding of the W. C. T. U. The figures follow:

	Dry.	Wet.
Fresno, Cal.	695	2,209
Pueblo, Colo.	473	999
New Britain, Conn.	290	1,565
St. Petersburg, Fla.	607	1,189
Decatur, Ill.	885	1,933
Terre Haute, Ind.	829	4,845
Burlington, Ia.	300	1,241

Now—Coffee rushed fresh from the roasting ovens

The DATE on each can is your Insurance against Staleness

TO be truly fresh, and rich with flavor, coffee must actually be delivered fresh—packed the moment it comes from the roasting ovens, and rushed swiftly to you!

For we now know that coffee is a fresh food, in the same class with milk and butter... and that, when it's kept too long after roasting, it spoils, just as other fresh foods do.

HERE'S THE REASON: All coffee contains a delicate oil. In freshly roasted coffee this oil carries the flavor and aroma that make coffee so delicious. But, in a comparatively short time after roasting, this oil begins to turn rancid, just as butter does. It becomes seriously toxic. Naturally, it also affects the flavor and aroma of the coffee.

That is why Chase & Sanborn's superb coffee is rushed straight from roasting ovens to grocers, on swift motor trucks. Every can is plainly stamped with an expiration date. And no can remains on any grocer's shelf after its date has expired. It's simply impossible for you to buy a stale can of this delicious dated coffee.

Only SWIFT DELIVERY will guarantee true coffee freshness. So Chase & Sanborn's Dated Coffee is rushed straight from roasting ovens to grocers by swift "fresh-food" delivery system.

Chase & Sanborn's has been famous among coffee lovers for 66 years, because of its rich and delicious flavor... Now it comes to you doubly good... its fine flavor protected by an absolute guarantee of freshness.

BUY A CAN of this delicious dated coffee today. See how much better it is. Once you have enjoyed its truly superb flavor, no other coffee will satisfy you.

TO GUARANTEE FRESHNESS, EVERY CAN OF CHASE & SANBORN'S COFFEE IS STAMPED WITH AN EXPIRATION DATE

The Woman Hater

BY MAY EDGINTON

SYNOPSIS.

Faire Chapelle is the stepdaughter of "Ma" Chapelle, who owns Flaxen's Casino, a cafe of ill repute, near the water front of Port Bai. Faire and Aya, "Ma's" daughter by her first husband, of dubious color, have been trained to assist in Flaxen's. The Chapelles are looked upon as outcasts by respectable island residents and Faire feels their attitude keenly because her father was of unimpeachable antecedents. He had brought her as a little girl into these unsavory surroundings and left her there at his death. She has kept aloof from all that Flaxen's represents.

Sir Philip Persian is governor and commander in chief of the Tama islands, Bai and Rosario. His young secretary and ward, Robert Grand, is involved in an affair with Mira Worcester, a faded beauty. Her husband has become suspicious. Sir Philip is anxious to save the boy from a scandal. Malise Bookes, the governor's aid-de-camp, asks Faire, as a favor to the governor, to clear Mira by proving it was she who'd been meeting young Grand secretly, threatening to close Flaxen's and have the Chapelles deported unless she consents. Sir Philip is furious with Bookes when he learns that Faire was forced to accept Mira's guilt. He sends for Faire to try to make amends. He arranges to have her return to her father's people in England. Mira Worcester sails on the same boat with Faire. In London Faire is met by her older widowed sister, Sheba, now Lady Rosewood, who owns a famous beauty salon. Sheba takes Faire into the business. Malise Bookes is sent home to London. He had been in love with Sheba, but she had rejected him. Mira has been spreading malicious gossip about Faire.

INSTALLMENT XXII.

TRAILED BY PAST HORRORS.

"I knew it!" Bookes said to himself. And he thought of his dinner with Mira last night, and wished, more violently than he was wont to wish anything, that he had indeed gone into her flat with her when he took her home, that he had taken her by the shoulders and shaken vows of silence out of her—too late?

"What is worrying you, Sheba?" he asked in a direct protective male voice that denied his private feeling of a worm.

"I overheard a client talking to a masseuse in the salon today. Afterwards I asked the masseuse."

"But, my dear! Don't all women talk to their beauty specialists and their hairdressers?"

Sheba's thin red mouth curled: "We hear everything! Everything! And then more. But we train ourselves to forget. Only, today, I shan't forget."

"I am sorry you are worried," he murmured. And he got up.

"Don't go. Sit down."

He sat down again. No, he did not want to leave her lovely compelling presence.

"Mira Worcester, whom I haven't seen since her return, though she has been into the salon," said Sheba, "is telling, or half telling, which is worse, a story about Faire."

"Indeed! What can she say?"

"The governor practically deported her."

"Mira would try to make a good story out of anything. All sacrificed to the bon mot."

"Perhaps," said Sheba quietly. "But did he? Is it true?

For a minute Bookes sat silent. Then he got up and leaned an arm on the mantelpiece, half turned from Sheba. "What the hell!" he thought in anger and remorse. He answered: "Not quite like that. Persian was anxious for her to leave—but as much for her own sake—as——"

"If I am quiet, how dare Mira say a word."

"She is supposed to have been having a crazy affair with a boy named Grand——"

"Persian's late ward. Yes. Persian's very keen on the boy making a good thing of life."

"How much can you tell me, Malise?"

"Hardly a thing, Sheba."

"The details leave nothing to the imagination——"

"As told by Mira."

"As told by Mira. It is true, anyway, that Faire was sent off suddenly in the governor's steamer to catch a boat at Jamaica, and that he provided her with money? She told me herself about the—loan—of money."

Over and over Bookes was cursing himself for his loose talk with Mira last night. "Why did I ever hint Persian was interested in Faire?" he thought. And yet, was not that a fairly satisfactory construction? In case that dinner table talk with Mira should also come to Sheba's ears as, "Malise Bookes says this and that," he decided to state:

"Of course, Persian was terribly—interested—in your sister. There was that aspect."

"But the story about the boy?"

"I don't think I can tell you, Sheba. It's official secrets, you see."

"You mean Philip Persian wanted to whitewash his own?"

"There is such a thing as political expediency."

She said coldly, "That does not satisfy me as to how Faire was involved."

"Sheba, ask her."

He uttered this with a full sense of security that Faire would not speak. With her, not only was a bargain a bargain but there was more in it than that. There was Philip Persian.

"I will ask her," Sheba answered.

Then Faire came into the room.

As Bookes looked at her he had a lively realization of the fool that he had been. He ought to have known that this proud smiling girl was no tool for the piece of dubious work he had so confidently promised Persian to do in Port Bai. His judgment should have separated her instantly from the other Chapelle women. But he had allowed himself to be ruled by the willful fevers that the island bred in him and had done the unforgiveable thing: by threat he had forced a girl to destroy her reputation.

And he had gained nothing, not even kudos with Persian.

He tried to express contrition in his attitude as he took the hand she held out to him.

"Malise is a very old friend of mine, Faire my darling," Sheba remarked slowly.

The girl poured herself out a cup of tea. "How unexpectedly soon to meet you again, Mr. Bookes?"

"Poor Malise," said Sheba, watching them both with her clear eyes, "has been sent home in disgrace for offending that ill-tempered man, Persian."

"He thought," said Malise, looking at her composedly, "that I had bungled a very nasty job he had given me to do."

Her face colored like a rose. And Bookes confirmed to himself, "My God! Yes! she does love Persian!" He did not mind; the feverish desires of the hot island having cooled, leaving him only the sanity of his long love for Sheba Rosewood. And now he made another, more definite movement of departure. This time Sheba let him go.

As he took Faire's hand again his eyes apologized to her humbly. "It is very different here in a sane world again, isn't it?" he said steadily.

He went out.

"Now, darling?" said Sheba.

As they had sat together in this water lily room on the evening of Faire's arrival, eagerly and gropingly trying to pick up the long foregone sisterly intimacy, so now there was again between them that sense of having much to ask and to tell. So Sheba said without preamble:

"Mira Worcester is telling people some things about you, darling."

"Mira Worcester! How dare she speak! If I am quiet, how dare she say a word!"

Sheba held Faire's hand. "A few people—such people as listen to Mira—are saying you were simply shipped off home as a subject of unsavory scandal after an affair with Philip Persian's secretary. They're saying that you and your stepmother and stepsister were a byword in Port Bai."

"Are you trying to make me tell you, Sheba?"

"But I want to make Mira eat her revolting lies."

"Listen, Sheba, it is true that I met Bobby Grand at an empty bungalow, and was seen there with him at night; and—and swimming in the lake before the bungalow by moonlight. If you heard that, it is true."

"You loved him, Faire?"

"No."

"Well," said Sheba slowly but in a hard voice, "other girls have got into mischief before now for the sheer love of danger."

"It wasn't love of danger."

Sheba paused. "Why had there to be an open scandal?"

"O, Sheba, my dear, that is what I can't tell you."

"Very well."

Sheba became ineffably gentle and courteous after that. She had that in her character which looser women said was a cruel thing. She was not cruel—only disdainful—but she had the streak of the Puritan that her mother, and Faire's, had been. Her beautiful manners, which imposed on her reticence in return for reticence, forbade her to question Faire further. Also they forbade her—because of the girl's withdrawn look—to tell her plainly the stories that had begun to circulate about this sister of Lady Rosewood's who had appeared so suddenly from nowhere. She had heard—told by her really dearest woman friend—of the appalling Chapelle ménage as detailed by Mira Worcester. Puritan though she was, Sheba was very much a woman of the world. She knew why country house invitations for August and September had not included her newly found sister. She had known what it meant when her really dearest and loyal friend asked her bluntly at a luncheon à deux: "But, Sheba, what are you going to do with the girl?"

Girl, 13, Victor in Declamation Test of Schools

An Exciting Session Marks Finals for County.

BY KATHERINE KELLEY.

Pupils of Cook county's rural schools proved yesterday that declamation contests are just as exciting nowadays as when their parents gathered on a frosty night in the little country school house to recite Patrick Henry's "Liberty or Death" and "Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight."

Four boys and four girls took part in the contest in Fullerton hall at the Art institute. Their immediate ambition was to win first place in the annual declamatory contest of the rural schools before the conference of officers of the 175 achievement clubs in the county.

As each contestant gave his own interpretation of "Uncle Sam," written by Francis G. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction, the hall thundered with the applause of the fellow pupils, teachers, and parents who packed the hall even to standing room. Even the sixth hearing of the same subject failed to detract from their enthusiasm, and there was continuous clapping when a girl was named for first place.

She was Leona Ravesloot, 13 years old, of South Holland, an eighth grade pupil at Roosevelt school. Second place went to Wayne Lindahl, 12 years old, of Morton Grove, a pupil in the 7th grade at Morton Grove public school, and third place to Roberta McEwen, 14 years old, of Flossmoor. The winners were awarded medals.

While the declamatory contest was in progress judges were choosing the winners of the health poster contest for which cash prizes were given in cutout work and painting. Eleanor Noffs, 13 years old, of Bellwood, a pupil in McKinley school, was awarded first place for her poster painting, "Sunshine Is Free for All." William Kaiser, 14, of Des Plaines, a pupil at Feehanville school, won second, and Harold Bultge, 13, of Lansing won third.

First prize in the cutout poster went to Ruth Moeberg, 10 years old, of Schaumburg; second place to Lavergne Welter, 11, of near Lemont, and third place to Franklin Diekman, 12, of South Holland.

Further achievement of the rural youngsters was "Looking at the Future," a musical comedy produced by Morton Grove public school, which was broadcast following the conference over W-G-N.

The contests were conducted through the office of Edward J. Tobin, county superintendent of schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Marks Lewin of 5439 Greenwood avenue celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary yesterday. They were married in Chicago at the first orthodox Jewish church built here. Mrs. Lewin is one of the few living pupils of the Jones public school, the oldest school in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Lewin remember both Chicago fires and take much pleasure in reminiscing on how they lived at the lake front for several weeks after these conflagrations.

Put Japanese Subtitles in Chaplin Film

'City Lights' Will Be Sent to Orient.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., March 23.—Charlie Chaplin has cabled his studio here to prepare a set of Japanese titles for his last silent "City Lights" and the studio is now at work with Japanese interpreters doing the work, as the completed film is to be shipped to Tokio in readiness for Charlie to receive it when he arrives there in April.

The comedian is returning home from Europe via Asia and the word is that he is accompanied by his brother, Syd Chaplin, who has not been in Hollywood since shortly after making "Charlie's Aunt" in silent more than six years ago. Among other orders mailed by Charlie to his studio chief, Al Reeves, here is one ordering a yacht to be obtained and outfitted for the comedian's use this summer.

The aviators who fly stunt scenes for movies have organized a union of their own. Its name is Association of Motion Picture Pilots. There are only 16 members of the organization and the entrance requirements are strict. Not only must a pilot be a good, dependable pilot, but he must be so good that a movie company can assign him to death defying chances with full expectation that he will escape accident.

One of the better known woman screen writers, an authoress of many successes who asked that her name not be told because her film superiors might lack humor and fire her, was telling of a recurrent bad dream. "You know how it is at Paramount," she said. "One writes a story, but before it can get to Mr. B. P. Schulberg, who runs the studio, it must first pass an assistant supervisor and then, if approved, must be passed on by a supervisor. If both okay it Mr. Schulberg can see it to determine if he likes it or not.

"In my nightmare," the writer said, "I dreamed the assistant supervisor got a secretary so that I would have to rewrite my story a third time, one for her, one for the assistant and then for the supervisor before Mr. Schulberg got a glance at it."

One of Eric von Stroheim's most treasured keepsakes is a letter addressed to him by Edgar Wallace, the late British author who died suddenly in Hollywood last month. The letter was written by Wallace shortly before his death, but never was delivered until after his remains had been sent to England. Walter Huston, close friend of Wallace and also a friend of Von Stroheim, visited Wallace often during his fatal illness here and happened to see the note on Wallace's desk after the author had died.

Official Contract

By Charles True Adams

(International bridge authority; author of "Official Contract at Sight")

Aside from the human element we have one disturbing equation in contract bridge, which will stop any one from ever building a perfect system that will work without thought under any given situation. That is the problem of distribution. Build as you will on high card trick holdings and along will come Old Man Distribution and kick all your plans into a top hat. Take yesterday's play-a-problem, for instance:

NORTH.
♥—7,6,5,4,
♣—A,K,Q,5

WEST [dealer].
♠—K,9,8
♥—A,K,Q,3,2
♦—5,4

EAST.
♠—A,Q,J,10,5
♥—J,10,9,8
♦—A,3
♣—4,3

SOUTH.
♠—7,6,4,3,2
♦—K,Q,J,10
♣—J,10,8,2

West opened the bidding with one heart. North overcalled with two clubs and East made a jump shift forcing bid of three spades. South overcalled with four diamonds. West bid four spades and North bid five diamonds. East doubled and all passed.

West opened the ♥ K, dummy played the 4, East the 9, and declarer trumped with the ♦ 10. South then led the ♣ J which dummy overtook with the ♣ Q, dummy leading back the ♥ 5 which South trumped with the ♦ J. South then led the ♣ 2 which dummy took with the ♣ K. Dummy led back the ♥ 6 which South trumped with the ♦ Q. To the next trick South led the ♠ 2, dummy trumped with the ♦ 2 and led back the ♥ 7 which South trumped with the ♦ K. You will note, of course, that the ♦ K-Q-J-10 are of no more value to South than the ♦ 9-8-7-6 are to the dummy, since the only card above the 6 outstanding is the ace which tops any diamond of North and South. To the eighth trick, then, South led the ♠ 3 which dummy trumped with the ♦ 6. Dummy then led the ♦9 which East took with the ♦A. East then led the ♠ A which dummy trumped with the ♦ 7. Dummy then led the ♦ 8, clearing that suit, and to the twelfth trick the ♣ A. To the thirteenth trick dummy led the ♣ 5 which South took in his own hand with the ♣ 10 for six odd—the game and an extra trick doubled.

Count the high card tricks between North and South and East and West and see if the result conformed with the general theory of high card trick holdings. It certainly does not. It is interesting to note that West could have made five hearts although East could not make five spades as three rounds of clubs would force East and would allow South to make the long trump and one more club. Here is tomorrow's play-a-problem.

NORTH.
♠—K,J,8,5,2
♥—A,Q,9
♦—8,3

WEST.
♠—Q,10,9,7,4
♥—7,3,2
♦—6,5,2
♣—9,5

EAST [dealer].
♠—A,6
♥—J,10,8
♦—K,J,10,4
♣—K,Q,10,6

SOUTH.
♠—3
♥—K,6,5,4
♦—A,Q,9,7
♣—8,4,3,2

Bid and play this hand and then compare the result with that printed tomorrow.

COLDS FLU -- GRIPPE

make handkerchief washing dangerous

Don't expose yourself or others to infection ...use only KLEENEX Disposable Tissues

WHO can think of washing a handkerchief used during a cold, grippe, or flu, without a shudder?

And this job is not only repulsive. It's dangerous! Thousands of germs must be handled. They contaminate other clothing—spread germs wherever they touch.

It is quite unnecessary that you should expose yourself to this danger, or ask others to do so.

Use Kleenex and destroy

The modern handkerchief to use during colds is Kleenex! A soft, absorbent tissue—gentler than a handkerchief—and less expensive than laundering!

Therefore, you use it and destroy it. No self-infection. No spreading germs every time you use a handkerchief. No washing.

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets help arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, people rarely suffer from indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Try Olive Tablets, the substitute for Calomel.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. All druggists. 15c, 30c, and 60c.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like.

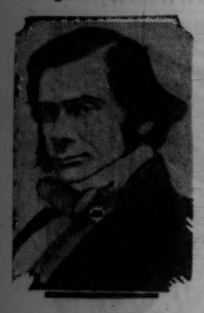
Many Battles of Huxley Told in Ayres Book

Fascinating Picture of 19th Century.

"Huxley," by Clarence Ayres (Norton). Published today.
"Huxley," by Houston Peterson (Longmans). To be published April 8.

THOMAS HENRY HUXLEY [grandfather of today's Julian Huxley, the famous English scientist, and Aldous Huxley, the equally famous novelist] was one of the great influences of the 19th century. Charles Darwin was one of the most intimate and best loved of Huxley's friends when his "The Origin of Species" was published in 1860. It at once became the most cataclysmic book of the age, of any age. It is true that the theories offered in the book had been anticipated and even embraced by many other scientists, and antiquated and inadequate as the book now seems it must be recognized that Darwin's generation as well as those following owe him an incalculable scientific debt. It was Huxley, however, who defended, elaborated, and clarified in a modern and scientific way the doctrine of evolution.



THOMAS HUXLEY.

With Huxley's voluntary defense of Darwin shortly after the appearance of "The Origin of Species" there was introduced one of the most dramatic intellectual fights of the 19th century. Huxley was known as "Darwin's bulldog." He debated with scientists, noblemen, and men of the church. When the Bishop of Oxford sneeringly asked him if he was willing to accept the fact that he was descended from an ape on his grandfather's or grandmother's side he replied that "as ancestors, apes are preferable to bishops." The fight lasted, with interludes, until the end of his life and included Gladstone as a later antagonist. But Huxley won finally as he won each separate debate.

Takes Rank as Scientist.

Huxley was engaged eight years to Henrietta Heathorn, an English girl living in Australia, before he felt able to marry her. In the meantime at thirty-one years of age he was naturalist to the Geological Survey, professor in the School of Mines, and the Fullerian lecture at the Royal institution. With the publication of "Oceanic Hydrozoa" Huxley took his place in the front rank of English scientists, a place that he never relinquished.

Huxley's long life was a continuous struggle for truth. For the most part unaggressive he nevertheless was courageous and possessed of the most inviolable personal and scientific integrity. He fought for science and education. His activities were so varied and so fruitful that it would take pages to describe all the pies in which he had his finger.

Hampered continually by ill health his life nevertheless was one of the most active and significant in his era. Practically every honor England had to offer her famous scientists was given to Huxley. Besides his innumerable and valuable reviews and articles that appeared in the Nineteenth Century Review, the Quarterly Review, and the Fortnightly Review, he made significant contributions to science in "Man's Place in Nature," "Crayfish," "Physical Basis of Life." His collected essays [in nine volumes], his short autobiographical essay, his biography of John Tyndall, and his scientific Memoirs furnish the material for a comprehensive picture of Huxley. That he should have been able to write as much as he did with his other urgent duties and responsibilities is an indication of his prodigious intellectual energy.

Fascinating View of Times.

The Ayres volume is not only a fascinating picture of a fascinating man, but it is also a cross section of the nineteenth century. Many of the most distinguished men of the age cross the pages, including Darwin, Herbert Spencer, John Tyndall, Lubbock, Spottiswoode, Lyell, Tennyson, Booth, and Carlyle. The scientific and philosophical controversies of the day are brought to light in this book, and even George Eliot, with her passion for positivism, is presented. It was an age increasingly scientific. The emphasis was slowly beginning to be put on a scientific understanding of life, an emphasis that led to both splendid and disatrous results in our own day. And Huxley, with his twentieth century mind and his eighteenth century wit, was the prophet of the nineteenth century.

Houston Peterson, the distinguished author of "Havelock Ellis: Philosopher of Love" and "Melody of Chaos," has written a dramatic interpretation of Huxley's character. The book is divided into the significant periods, indicated chronologically, of the scientist's intellectual development. This book is the April choice of the Scientific Book club and will be published on April 8. Both books are marked by careful scholarship and interesting vital presentations.

Kenwood Club Has Preview of Fashion Show

The board of the Kenwood Social Service club met at Mrs. Albert S. Cummins' Georgian house on East 50th street yesterday for a luncheon and miniature fashion show, a sort of preview for the press of the benefit fashion revue which the club is to give at a bridge party and supper dance on the afternoon and evening of April 5 at the Shoreland hotel.

The fashion show was only one of the pleasant features of the party which included a "depression" menu served at spring flower decked tables, and appetizers contributed by Kenath Sponsel, husband of the publicity chairman for the benefit.

After luncheon four of the eight members who are to model in the show made quick changes into some of the lovely spring gowns from the exhibiting shops and marched in true mannequin fashion before the admiring guests. Among the outstanding garments was a Chanel blue dress and jacket which Mrs. Kimball Burr wears so effectively that she's decided to purchase it; a creamy lace evening dress flowered in lavendar that Mrs. Berthold Cronson will model; a raisin colored dinner dress worn by Mrs. Carl Defebaugh, and a tailored navy blue dress with a yellow polka dotted collar modeled by Mrs. Wilson Killough.

The fashion show on the 5th will be one of two benefits given annually by the club to raise a yearly quota of $10,000 for the maintenance of its infant welfare station.

Scientist Returns to Old "All at Once" Theory of Creation

Cambridge, Mass., March 23.—(AP)—A return to the idea that the universe was created all at once, as set forth in the Bible, was suggested today by Prof. Ernest J. Opik of the Tartu university observatory, Esthonia.

Prof. Opik, striking at the widely-accepted theory of stellar evolution in his speech at the dedication of the astrophotographic building of the Harvard college observatory, startled his hearers by suggesting that the age of the universe had been grossly overestimated. He said observed facts indicated that the present universe could hardly have existed longer than 3,000 million years, an estimate that represents an enormous reduction in the conception of the age of the universe held by many scientists.

A large body of scientists have inclined, in recent years, to the opinion that the age of the universe should be measured in hundreds of billions of years.

Dr. Harlow Shapley, director of the Harvard college observatory, who presided at the conference at which a group of distinguished scientists were speakers, said at the close of Prof. Opik's address, that he, too, had been entertaining "some disturbing thoughts about stellar evolution." Dr. Shapley conceded there was strong support for the theory of instantaneous creation and an age of only a few billion years.

Being Blue Has New Meaning for Springtime

Color Conscious Shopper Knows the Reason.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

HOW to be gay with the blues . . . a state of mind reached by clothes conscious shoppers who are assembling spring wardrobes that feature all the enchanting new shades of blue for suits, coats, frocks, hats, and accessories. Even those who usually see red are completely submerged in the waves and waves of blue that practically engulf the town. Brown eyes, green eyes, or blue eyes all look fashionably blue this year, under blue hats. Shoes and gloves and scarfs and handkerchiefs all sing the song of the blues.

The smart thing to do, in case you lack enthusiasm for all blue clothes, is to select blue accessories . . . you can then wear a beige ensemble with deep blue pumps, gloves, and matching handbag . . . your hat could be made of rough dark blue straw. Another good alliance is pale gray contrasted with any shade of blue, with accessories assembled in the same manner. Any shade of blue, especially blue costume accents, can be selected now, and be worn with early spring clothes as well as providing good summer contrast later in the season with all kinds of summer colors, such as flesh, eggshell, yellow, and white.

A New Blue Color Arrives.

Not content with the present lavish supply of indigo colors . . . another colorist with a Christopher Columbus complex has gone down the sea with his dye pots and caught another fresh shade called clearwater blue . . . don't be misled trying to visualize this shade, comparing it to any ordinary blue water . . . it's much too different for that and much too clear in tone for comparison with any clouded lake or river water. It's a soft, incredibly clear blue, closely resembling the old powder blue shade, but with an added intensity of the blue . . . since a good description is so impossible the best alternative is to ask to see it.

Handbag designers were the first to use it . . . and the newest bags of this color have just been received and pulled out of their tissue paper wrappings. Besides making the fashion headlines as something very new they are perfect contrasts for the new navy blue and brown costumes, as well as ideal feminine gifts for Easter giving.

Most of these new handbags in clear water blue color are of exceptionally supple, finely grained calfskin . . . some are squareish in shape with self-covered frames . . . the carrying straps combine a narrow strap of the leather, laced through the links of a frosty silver chain. Another long bag has two square shaped sapphire [simulated] stones for a clasp . . . while yet another uses dull silver for an oblong metal closing device.

Lined and Fitted Exquisitely.

These are lined and fitted exquisitely after the manner of French originals . . . perfectly matched blue moire silk is used for lining, change purse, and numerous pockets and the back of the mirror. The change purse can't be lost, for it is linked to the source of supplies with a strong but dainty silver chain. With all this luxury of color and style and size for an almost unbelievable low price you will be surprised and delighted with an added new bag gadget . . . a narrow bob comb in pale gray or tortise shell shade.

And if you are one of the particular shoppers who must have fabric bags there are some good looking new ones just unpacked . . . made of a smart, rough, diagonal wool Rodier fabric . . . a new shade called nautical blue fashions one that goes completely marine with a small tab embroidered with a white sailboat. Other colors are of course available to match or contrast your smartest ensembles . . . and all are priced for slender budgets!

Seward W. Pulitzer Weds Vanderbilt Descendant

New York, March 23.—(AP)—Seward Webb Pulitzer, grandson of the late Joseph Pulitzer, founder of the New York World, married Wilma Boldermann of San Mateo, Cal., today. The ceremony lacked the usual pomp of weddings involving members of the Vanderbilt family—Mrs. Pulitzer is a direct descendant of the original Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt—and was attended only by members of the two families. A small reception followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Pulitzer, whose romance started on shipboard while they were returning from abroad, will leave soon for California to visit Mrs. Pulitzer's father, who was unable to come east for the wedding, and then will sail for a honeymoon of several months in Hawaii.

Usual Spring Opera Season Is Restored at Covent Garden

[Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, March 23.—England's opera lovers will have their Wagner season at Covent Garden this spring after all.

Such a storm of protest was aroused when the usual international opera season was canceled last month that today the Covent Garden Opera syndicate announced a reversal of its decision. There will be four weeks of Wagner festival, beginning May 9, to include the two cycles of the "Ring" and also "Tristant," "Meistersinger," "Tannhäuser," and "The Flying Dutchman."

Sir Thomas Beecham will conduct in place of Bruno Walter, who directed recent German seasons in London. The singers, however, will include Frieda Leider Lotte Lehmann, Maria Olszewska, Lauritz Melchior and Friedrich Schorr, all of whom have appeared at Covent Garden before. As usual, the orchestra, chorus and minor singers will be British.

Today's decision is fresh proof of the drawing power of Wagner music in London, provided the operas are sung by outstanding artists. The French and Italian seasons, which usually followed the German at Covent Garden, appear to have been canceled definitely.

Hoover Suggests Vallee Try Song on Trade Slump

Washington, D. C., March 23.—(AP)—Rudy Vallee, stage and radio crooner, reported today that during a visit at the White House President Hoover had suggested he write and sing a new song with a prosperity theme.

The singer caused a flutter among some feminine members of the executive office personnel. Several stenographers waited in the lobby, while he—with Mrs. Vallee—chatted with the president and two of his secretaries, Walter H. Newton and Theodore Joslin. Vallee said that during a period of repartee in the president's private office, Mr. Hoover had remarked he would "rate a medal" if he would "write a song to drive away the depression." The singer did not say whether he intended to try for such a reward.

Foreign Savants Give Addresses at Goethe Anniversary

WEIMAR, Germany, March 23.—(AP)—Savants of eight nations this afternoon began a two day cycle of addresses testifying to the universality of the genius of Wolfgang von Goethe, commemorating the hundredth anniversary of his death. Representatives of the universities in London, Paris, Stockholm, and Cracow dwelt upon Goethe's influence upon their countries. Tomorrow Dr. Carl Schreiber of Yale university will be on the program with representatives of Spain, Holland, and Hungary.

Easter Bonnet Is Combination of Old and New in Fashions

BY RUTH DE YOUNG.

THIS is the story of the Easter bonnet, that topmost bit of elegance a feminine heart never neglects. Along with flowers and eggs, it is one of the popular traditions of the festival Sunday—the day of religious fervor, human vanity, sociability, and curiosity—when the earth itself bursts forth from the penitential restrictions of Lent.

Some few spring chapeaux have already blossomed forth on the heads of society—we remember the smart turbans and sailors which Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, Mrs. Adlai Stevenson, Miss Roberta Harvey, Miss Rue Winterbotham, and Miss Janet Ayer have worn the last few weeks at important functions—but it is Sunday when the great array of 1932 bonnets will bloom among the silk toppers, canes, gardenias, and orchids of the annual Easter promenade.

"And they're swell this year," remarked an old time State street doorman yesterday who admits he's a critic on women's apparel. "Style is back. Ten years ago it was dead when we had those flappers. Standing here every day for 24 years watching women come and go, I've seen a change on the way and now it's here. Hope the weather man's going to be good to all these new bonnets."

Becomes Sign of Springtime.

The history of the Easter bonnet is two sided, like the traveler's shield. It is religious to begin with, dignified by the oriental custom of many generations. Then in time it gathers to itself from the western pagan sources its present frivolous aspect as the harbinger of spring.

On the first Easter morn Mary stood outside the garden of Gethsemane wearing a simple veil, unquestionably the first Easter headdress. Today it is still a symbol in Italy and Spain, where women lay aside their hats for mass and don instead a scarf of lace—always black—and usually in the form of a mantilla. The same custom prevails for audiences with the pope.

But the first modern Easter bonnet, believed by some to be vanity, by others an emblem of spring's commencement, was probably an international affair in its conception with the development of railroads, curiously enough, playing an important part. It is the product of Anglo-Saxon superstition touched into world favor by the wand of Gallic style.

Old Customs Survive Today.

Easter, you know, was a pagan festival honoring the goddess Eastre, long prior to the Christian era, and among the Anglo-Saxon peoples represented rejoicing over winter's death at the arrival of spring. When, as a converted people, they came to acknowledge its spiritual significance in the observance and history of the Christion faith, many of the quaint old customs still clung to the celebration.

One of these was the obligation of putting on new garments to obtain love's favor for the coming year—to escape those especial pains and penalties to which one wearing old clothes was liable. This folly was as much a part of the Easter observance in early England as the kindred custom of watching for the sun to dance or of tasting tansy pudding and old herring, in order to be happy and gain the heart's desire. It was followed as rigorously as the old rite of eating hot cross buns on Good Friday to keep the house from burning down.

Meanwhile on the continent the custom of going veiled to church on Easter Sunday continued—until the elegant days of the second empire, when Paris became the light hearted urban daughter of a pleasure loving race. This brought an era of great extravagance in fashions. The star of democracy rose, never to set, and the new railroads were responsible, more than any other single factor, for this leveling of the classes. Lent, even among the serious minded bourgeoisie, took on the manners of a carnival.

Easter Hats Flourish in Paris.

By the same railroads which carried Paris to the world, some of the ancient rites of the old Anglo-Saxon Eastre came to Paris. The capital city's milliners, seking novelty after novelty, caught hold on the ancient tradition of wearing new apparel on the festival Sunday to tempt feminine caprice. Easter in the church was the season for rejoicing and renewal. How easy then and how appropriate to turn it into spring's commencement in the world of fashion.

Some of those second empire bonnets were beautiful, some were not. But ever since that time the hat has assumed an increasing importance in woman's life, especially in association with the Easter celebration. The hat originated, you may remember, as a covering for man to show his superiority. In fact, the costliest bonnets we wear this Sunday can scarcely vi with the hats Milan men once wore, the manufacture of which gave rise to the "milliner."

Janet Kirk to Be Bride of Robert Ripley

North Shore Engagement Is Announced.

BY JUDITH CASS.

ANOTHER interesting north shore romance has come to light with the announcement by Mrs. Willing D. Kirk of Glencoe of the engagement of her daughter, Janet, to Robert Hampton Ripley, son of Mrs. Robert H. Ripley of Indian Hill road, Winnetka. Miss Kirk attended Rosemary Hall at Greenwich, Conn., and then went to Miss Risser's in Rome, making her debut in the late fall of 1929. Mr. Ripley is a graduate of the Hill school and of Duke university.

Miss Ruth Crossett, who returned yesterday from Pasadena with her mother, Mrs. Edward Clark Crossett, has decided that her marriage to Edward S. French will be held in Chicago in the latter part of May, instead of in June at the Crossetts' summer place at Wianno, Mass.

The change of plans will be welcomed by a great many of the bride-to-be's friends who would miss the opportunity of attending the ceremony if the wedding were held in the east.

Miss Betty Crossett and her father will be back from California around the 8th of April. Carolyn, the youngest daughter of the family, will be at home tomorrow for the Easter vacation from the Shipley school in Vermont.

Reception at Art Institute.

At the opening of the First International exhibition of etching and engraving this afternoon in the print galleries of the Art Institute the following group will receive: Walter S. Brewster, president of the Print and Drawing club, and Mrs. Brewster; Lee Sturges, president of the Chicago Society of Etchers, and Mrs. Sturges; Mrs. Potter Palmer, Mrs. Alfred E. Hamill, Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson, Mrs. Charles H. Schweppe, and Mrs. Bertha E. Jaques. The hour of the reception is 4 o'clock and tea will be served.

The most popular place in Lake Forest this afternoon will be the new little dress shop that two popular young matrons of that fashionable village are opening, for they are having a fashion show and a tea from 3:30 to 6 o'clock, with a number of their friends assisting at the tea and others modeling the new spring outfits.

Mrs. Howard Peabody and Mrs. Everett Wyman are the latest recruits to the ranks of Lake Forest business women and their place of business is part of the interior decorating shop conducted by Mrs. John N. Lee (Lydia Beckwith). Modeling at the opening will be Mrs. Stanley Morrill, Mrs. David Peck, and Miss Betty Histed, who gained experience in that line recently at the Lighthouse Volunteer Aids' fashion show in a South Michigan avenue shop; Miss Margaret Chapman, Mrs. Franklin G. Clement, and Miss Katherine Weary of Winnetka, and pouring and assisting will be Mrs. John A. Chapman, Mrs. John C. Evans, Mrs. Lithgow Mitchell, Mrs. Edward K. Welles, Mrs. Stewart Prosser, Mrs. Benjamin Bryan Jr., Mrs. Morrow Krum, Mrs. Kenneth Templeton, Mrs. Robert J. Dunham Jr., Mrs. Albert Williams, and Mrs. Stuart Logan.

Colonial Dames to Unveil Tablet.

The Colonial Dames will unveil a tablet on the London Guarantee building—the site of old Fort Dearborn—next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Carroll H. Sudler, president, will do the unveiling and Mayor Cermak will acknowledge the gift in the name of the city.

The tablet will be placed on the Wacker drive side of the building and will take the place of the old plaque on the building which formerly occupied the same site. Mrs. Edgar J. Goodspeed, chairman of the patriotic service committee of the Colonial Dames, is in charge of arrangements for the unveiling. The tablet is the work of Bernard Fraser of Lorado Taft's studio.

Announcement comes from the English Speaking union that the luncheon it was to have given the early part of this month for Dr. Jacob Viner will be held next Thursday in the Palmer house ballroom. Dr. Viner will speak on "Britain's Economic Future."

There's nothing like being forehanded in the matter of setting dates. The Chicago committee of the Arden Shore association has marked off Dec. 10 on the winter calendar as the night of its annual benefit ball. The affair will be held at the Stevens, and the committee is calling it a "Shadows of Paris" ball.

Friends of Opera Fund Campaign.

It's a long, uphill road the women of the guarantee fund committee of the Friends of Opera have to climb to raise the money Samuel Insull asked their organization to raise to keep opera in Chicago, but in spite of the difficulties and discouragements they encounter they are going ahead and progressing slowly but surely.

At yesterday's meeting they reported pledges amounting to $3,900, making their total $42,650, and the grand total secured thus far $316,450. The meeting was held in the lovely French drawing room of Mrs. William A. Yager's apartment at 1430 Lake Shore drive, and this reporter hardly could listen to the reports so entranced was she with the really marvelous Aubusson rugs that covered the floor.

The tea table, too, was a delight to the eye as well as to the palate, with pale rose and gold tissue runners and Empire figurines in gold and white ornamenting it, and the most delicious salads in aspic as well as the usual sandwiches and cakes and tea and coffee to refresh the workers after the business meeting. Mrs. Arthur Meeker and Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick poured, and Mrs. Charles King Corsant presided at the meeting.

Plans Trip to Garden Meeting.

Mrs. Charles L. Hutchinson, who spent the early part of the winter in Europe, is planning to go to Georgia

Brief Reading Clarifies Laws of Childhood

Training Is Simplified by Knowledge.

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

Often I'm asked at what age a child should be able to button all his buttons and lace his shoes. Or be perfectly trained in his habits of elimination. Or be trained not to touch things when he's visiting.

The answer is, "It almost all depends"—depends on the individual child, on the clothes he wears, the kind of home training he has, the sort of house he lives in, and the circumstances existing at the special time. Much as I would like to, even if I had the time to write, personally, full suggestions, I could not be other than general.

No hard and fast rule can be laid down as to when certain skills and controls should be acquired. The wisest things for mothers to do is to inform themselves by brief reading so that they understand something of the laws that govern the growth and development of the child.

We have arranged various booklets, etc., to help in this direction. Some deal with this matter of elimination habits and also of training the sense of touch. There's the "play" booklet which has references to brief reading of tremendous importance to mothers of children under 3 in regard to muscular control and play materials, etc. And our longer "Child Management" leaflet covers the guidance of children up to 5—and beyond A stamped, self-addressed envelope will bring each of these to you. If asking for more than two, please send extra stamped and addressed envelope.

Parisiennes Casually Do Rejuvenation Act with New Ermine or Gauze Scarf

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—After looking at the new Paris styles rolled out before one's eyes by the kilometer, the current clothes worn by everybody pall upon the eye. We are all sick unto death of what we have in the way of clothes, yet mighty suspicious about the new styles until they are o. k.'ed by the experts.

However, there are scarfs and such knickknacks that can be adopted toute de suite and that will make old outfits bearable until new spring things can be chosen without fear of making mistakes. The Parisienne does this simple act of rejuvenation every year, and this spring scarfs are so clever and so smart there need be no hesitation.

Many smart women are coming out in Paris with new fur scarfs that they can wear over coats or suits, and later on over the street dress. The Mainbocher scarf, shown in our sketch, is one that is selected by some of the most distinguished. It is not so ordinary as the fox scarf, and serves the same purpose. It is made of ermine, in the form of a fichu, with pointed ends that are knotted in front. The width of this scarf at the shoulder line particularly recommends it to the particular woman, as it suggests the cape, which is so fashionable, and at the same time is more practical.

For the simple dress the Parisienne chooses some such scarf contraption as the striped gauze scarf shown in the center.

Carrots Afford Tasty Surprise on Dessert List

Make Irresistible Appeal as Cake and Torte.

BY MARY MEADE.

Carrots are perhaps one of our commonest vegetables and because of their availability throughout the twelve months, we find them frequently on our domestic bill o' fare. They arrived in America some time during the 16th century and have been in cookery use ever since. Though we are prone to reckon with them most of the time as a buttered vegetable, or else as a salad ingredient, carrots can make an irresistible appeal to a sweet tooth.

When one wants the element of surprise in her desserts, offer the guests a carrot cake or carrot torte. Carrot pudding is another good offering. Most people eat them, lick their chops, all the while wondering what on earth they are eating! The first recipe is that of the cake, and this is baked in a spring form. The woman who introduced me to it said that she sometimes calls it "Guess cake," so to distinguish it from the carrot torte recipe in your files, we'll call it that, too.

GUESS CAKE.

1½ eggs
2¼ cups of powdered sugar
2¼ cups of finely grated carrots
Rind and juice of one lemon
Whipped Cream

Beat the yolks until light and thick. Add the sugar gradually, continuing the beating. Add the lemon juice and rind, and the finely grated carrots [use the fine sheet of your grater]. Combine all the ingredients well. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Bake in a greased spring form in a moderately slow oven [315 to 325 degrees] for fifty to sixty minutes. Remove from the pan and serve hot or cold with whipped cream.

The virtues of the carrot torte cannot be too highly extolled. You will particularly like the flavor of the almonds used in combination with the carrots.

CARROT TORTE.

1 pound of almonds
1 pound of carrots
1 pound of sugar [2 cups]
8 eggs
Rind of one large orange
1 tbsp. of orange juice

Cook the carrots, chill, and grate. Blanch the almonds and chop fine. Beat the egg yolks until light and thick. Gradually beat into them the sugar. Add the juice and rind of the orange. Then add the carrots and nuts, and combine all the ingredients well. Lastly, fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in a torte pan [which has been greased] in a moderately slow oven [325 degrees F.] forty-five to fifty minutes. When the torte is cold, cover it with sweetened whipped cream and place for two hours in the refrigerator prior to serving. Serve cold.

Mrs. Lumsden to Address Woodlawn Women's Club

Mrs. A. R. Lumsden of 7610 Essex avenue, treasurer of the second district of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, will speak on "Adult Education" before the Woodlawn Women's club at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning in St. Paul's Unitarian church, 60th street and Dorchester avenue.

Girl Asks for Chance to State Case to Fellow

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Wonder how often girls are cheated out of proposals because "the young man" is afraid he cannot do the supporting handsomely enough on his income?

Take the case of "Green Eyes." She has earned her living for eleven years, has spent quite generously on herself and on the home she shares with her mother. The latter is also in business. The girl's background, her clothes and her ready pocketbook give the impression of money there, whether it actually is or not.

The man is an ideal sort of chap, fine, morally and physically. He has been paying considerable attention to the girl for three years now. There is no doubt he likes her. But he doesn't mention the word marriage to her. He told a common friend that she is the only girl he would like to marry, but he could not afford to marry a girl used to so much.

His income is quite above the average—plenty for two to live on, without splurge. The girl willingly would give up her job and go in for home making in the regular old-fashioned way, babies and everything included, but the man doesn't ask her to. And there they stand.

She pleads: "How can I, with decorum, let him know that I love him and would marry him on a good deal less than he has? How can I tell him luxuries mean less to me than his companionship?"

Why don't you men, so troubled, give the girl a chance to state her side of the case? Why don't you give her a break to show the real stuff of which she is made? There are countless numbers of girls who'd swap luxuries for a man's devotion any day of their lives.

And why don't you girls confronted with such a situation come right out in the open with your pronouncements? Throw this thing called decorum to the winds after a man's attentions prove his taste for you, and argue your case. There's nothing undignified in setting your position right when you know it has been misrepresented.

Good morning!

How's tricks?

Supposed you'd want to know how Wheeler and Woolsey are getting along so I moseyed over to the State-Lake to find out.

They're doing right pert, though I will say that as a comedy "Girl Crazy" is no bonanza. It is a somewhat laboriously compiled piece without rhyme or reason, and with everything in it but the kitchen stove. I'd get blind staggers trying to write a detailed account of all that occurs. The action starts in New York with Mr. Wheeler as a customerless taxi driver and Mr. Wolsey as a jobless gambler, and it concludes in the far west—with Bertie as a sheriff and Robert-y as a hypnotist!

The W's have descended upon the great outdoors 'n' outwest through the medium of young Danny Churchill's [Eddie Quillan] father's determination that Danny, who is "girl crazy," shall do time on a ranch far removed from wine and women. The g. c. hero decides to make the best of things. The b. o. t. are on Broadway, according to his advanced ideas, so he brings Broadway to Custerville, turns the old sagebrush plantation into a dude ranch, and imports girls, orchestras, waiters, bartenders, and other necessities and luxuries from the Great White Way. Slick Foster and Mrs. Slick—who is a heap slicker than Slick—arrive by taxi, and you know who is the driver of their machine!

The taxi driver's pesky little sister appears uninvited on the scene—that the picture may have some imitations by Miss Mitzi Green. Her takeoffs on George Arliss and Edna Mae Oliver are clever. Bing Crosby and Roscoe Ates—not so good.

The W's are as amusing as the script permits them to be. They and their abettors inspire a smile here and a chuckle there. But at no time does the audience break out into that uncontrolled "stomach laugh" which spells prosperity for a comedy.

Kitty Kelly is clever as the wise, wise Mrs. Foster. Dorothy Lee is her usual mechanical baby doll self as the fluff brain who goes for Jimmy Deegan. Arline Judge is charming in her unobtrusive rôle of the postmistress for whom the g. c. hero falls before his New York friends arrive. Eddie Quillan does well what little he has to do as Danny. Stanley Fields, as a bold, bad sheriff hater who reverently takes off his hat and spouts poetry whenever the west is mentioned, and wholeheartedly sends custodians of the law to meet their maker, is sort of comical.

One of the opening scenes shows you a graveyard where, under properly epitaphed tombstones, repose an army of those who were too zealous in the cause of right. This sight made the corners of my mouth turn up.

"Girl Crazy" features several unremarkable tunes by George Gershwin. Direction and dialogue are not bad. Photography's excellent.

[My sakes, wasn't it slushy yesterday?]

See you tomorrow!

Youngsters' Interest in Beauty Matters Should Be Encouraged

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

So many, many 13 and 14 year olds are sending in for my booklets on skin care. I take it as a good sign, indeed. The youngsters are awake to the possibilities that are theirs to prevent, or minimize the suffering that formerly attached to the 'teens and its blemished skins.

Their mothers need not worry should they come upon these booklets surreptitiously sent for and tucked away. There is nothing in them but good solid advice about keeping the face clean, eating the right kind of food, and about getting the right sort of exercise.

This generation of informed parents realizes that girls and boys can be spared that embarrassing period of spotted complexions that uneducated parents believed to be something the youngsters had to grow out of. The majority of young girls and boys need go through no such period of embarrassment. And if parents are not willing to take a hand, it is well that the youngsters themselves want to.

Just take the simple business of keeping the face clean. It's imperative that hands be washed frequently and often and the face ditto during this over-active gland period. I do not recommend face creams for young girls, and I hope you mothers are strict about keeping their young faces on soap and water diets alone.

But teach them how to wash their faces properly. Get them a good toilet soap. Make them stick to their own wash cloth and towel. And insist upon the clear, warm, water rinsing and the cold water rinsing after each soap and water application. That's the surest way to insure the complexion against later troubles.

I have before me a letter from a 13 year old school girl with at least a dozen questions about makeup and about the kind of cream and face lotion she should use. Rouge, lipstick coloring and even eye-shadow are inquired about. That sort of thing mothers should discourage, not only for the moral effect but for the health and beauty of the young skin. Let the youngsters have all the hygienic knowledge and experience you possess about skin care, but make them go back upstairs and take the makeup off with soap and water every time you catch the young experimenters trying to get away with it.

North Shore Engagement Is Announced.

in April for the annual meeting of the Garden Clubs of America.

Mrs. Howard Elting returned yesterday from Dresden, where she has resided most of the winter with her son, Howard, Jr., who is stationed there in the diplomatic service.

Dr. and Mrs. Paul B. Magnuson (Laura Thompson) are back from their 6 months' wedding trip abroad and will be at their apartment at 219 Lake Shore drive until about May 1, when they'll move out to their country place at Dundee.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McKay, who moved east recently, have taken an old house almost 200 years old at Overlea, Greenfield Hills, Fairfield, Conn.

Mrs. Joseph H. Defrees, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Butterworth at Santa Barbara, has motored with them to Coronado Beach where they have joined the Leroy A. Goddards, who have been there all winter.

More News Notes About Travelers.

Mrs. William M. Spencer of 1430 Lake Shore drive and Mrs. F. Edson White of 70 East Scott street are expected to return on Sunday from New York.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Blossom Jr. of Lake Forest, who have been with the senior Blossoms in Pasadena since December, are planning to prolong their stay in the west until some time in May.

Winfield Durbin, son of the Fletcher Durbins, is one of the Williams college boys who will spend the Easter vacation in Bermuda.

Young John Andrews King of Lake Forest returned yesterday from school at Middlesex, Mass., where he is preparing for Harvard.

Crowells Home for Vacation.

David Crowell is one of the Evanston boys who is at home for the spring vacation—he goes to Lawrenceville—and his older brother, Lucius Crowell Jr., is at home from the Chester Springs branch of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, where he has been pursuing the study of art since he left Williams. This handsome and talented young man already is making good in his chosen line of work for during the last few months he has had several paintings exhibited in the east and he was represented in both the American artists' and Chicago artists' shows at our own Art institute this winter. David Watrous, who goes to Shattuck, is spending the spring vacation in Evanston with his relatives, the Crowells.

Miss Marian Sykes of Evanston is arriving at home today for a prolonged vacation from Smith college, for she has been in the City hospital in Troy, N. Y., for the last five weeks after a double mastoid operation and last Saturday she had a wire from the college informing her that she had been elected to Phi Beta Kappa and suggesting that she take the rest of the year to recuperate from her serious illness. Her mother, Mrs. Bernard G. Sykes, who has been in Troy with her daughter, is returning today, also.

Mr. and Mrs. Anson W. Hard of 350 Park avenue gave a farewell dinner party at their home last evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Henry White, who will sail in a few days for Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Davie have been making a late season stay at Aiken and other southern resorts.

Mrs. F. Bailey Vanderhoef and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Young returned on the Monarch of Bermuda from a two weeks' sojourn in Bermuda.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—Mrs. Hoover accompanied the President to the south lawn of the White House this afternoon while he planted a cedar tree from Ferry farm, scene of the George Washington legendary cherry tree incident. Ferry farm is to be converted into a national camp for Boy and Girl Scouts. Others in the small group witnessing today's ceremony were Mrs. James C. Colbert and Miss Belle Colbert, the present occupants of Ferry farm.

Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. Lamont have been joined by their daughter, Mrs. Charles Eskridge Saltzman of New York, to remain over Easter. Mr. Saltzman will come Friday and will be accompanied by Mrs. Saltzman on his return Sunday.

Mrs. William Howard Taft has gone to Charleston, S. C., for the early spring.

The President of the United States Chamber of Commerce and Mrs. Silas Strawn returned to their apartment in the Shoreland today from a short trip abroad. Mr. Strawn came in time to attend the annual meeting of the chamber which opened today.

First International Exhibition of Etching Opens at Institute

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The first international exhibition of etching and engraving opens this afternoon in the print galleries of the Art institute. There has been an international etching exhibit at this same time in the institute for further back than some of us like to remember, but those exhibits were under the auspices of the Chicago Society of Etchers and took the name of the society. For the first time this exhibit has come into the hands of the museum officials and been equipped with a formal title.

There are some five hundred prints hung out of an entry of more than three thousand. Several countries, including the United States, are represented on the walls. Perhaps England has the strongest contingent. The exhibit is typically a museum exhibit, a little heavy, a little sober, and embued rather obviously with a need for pointing the trend of the times. Hitherto this exhibition has been a friendly affair, with faces so similar their loss would be noticeable directly. The present exhibit surprises us by the presence of a familiar face. It is full of strange gravity.

There is much good work on the walls; much that is scholarly. If we miss the birds and children, beasts and sailing boats, fish and flowers that hitherto have delighted us, perhaps the loss is not as great as it appears. Perhaps etchings are for albums and not for the walls; perhaps they are for students and not for the man on the street. It is difficult to judge. Truthfully, however, it may be pointed out that this is in fact a "new" etching show; the Chicago Society of Etchers' exhibits have vanished.

The jurors who selected this exhibit were Earl Horter, painter, of Philadelphia; Horace M. Swope, trustee of the City Art museum of St. Louis, and Henry S. Francis of Cleveland.

The Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Logan first, second, and third prizes were given respectively to "Portrait of a Lady," by Robert Austin [English]; "Capri-S. Stefano," by Louis Rosenberg [American], and "Junk Shop," by Earl Horter. Honorable mentions were awarded to "Between Tides, Dieppe," by Stanley Anderson; "Illustration No. 9 for Song of Songs," by Edy Legrand; "Anais No. 2," by Gerald Brockhurst; "Harley Street," by Ian Strang; "Notbrücke in Berlin," by Walter Klinkert, and "Pianist," by Armin Landeck. The exhibit will continue to May 15.

Many a man, sincerely believing that he is paying a compliment to his wife, appoints her executrix of his estate.

Few men, however, realize the labor and worry that such responsibility brings. But widows know — women who have spent hours studying investments, trying to arrive at satisfactory decisions involving thousands of dollars. They have gone through the difficult tax questions; they know the unending worry of caring for an estate.

This heavy burden can be easily avoided. Any widow may feel secure in the knowledge that her husband's estate is receiving careful and experienced attention. Through a trust company, she can be concerned as much or as little with the administration as she desires.

At the Harris Trust and Savings Bank, each detail of investment, taxes, and other technical matters is in the hands of trained men, backed by the knowledge and judgment developed through our fifty years of banking and investment experience.

Why not discuss this vital matter with your husband tonight?

CHILE PUTS BAN ON GASOLINE FOR PRIVATE AUTOS

Fuel Is Rationed Under Emergency Decree.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SANTIAGO, Chile., March 23.—Strict rationing of gasoline throughout Chile is being enforced under a decree signed by President Montero The rations are distributed under government supervision, gasoline having been decreed as an "article of emergency," obtainable only by tickets issued by a special commission which will be directly responsible to the presient.

"This law is of a sweeping character, but it is dictated to prevent the outflow of gold except where it is absolutely necessary," President Montero declared. "Chile is unable to sell her commodities abroad and therefore there is only a limited amount of foreign exchange available to pay for imports. If we are to remain on the gold standard our only policy is to live according to our income."

Preference in Rationing.

The sweeping character of the law is demonstrated by the fact that red, blue, white and yellow tickets are to be issued to consumers, according to the importance of their occupations, and their rations will be doled out to them according to the color of the ticket.

The use of gasoline is granted preferentially to ambulances, firemen and police, omnibuses, taxis, railways, transport trucks, cars used exclusively for commerce, industry and agriculture, and government, diplomatic and other special cars.

The decree will cut the sales of gasoline at least in half and will permit them only for business or necessity, virtually eliminating from the streets all privately owned passenger cars. The effect of the law will also be felt by the automobile industry, as it will further stifle the sale of cars and injure the already depressed tire industry.

Controlled by Two Firms.

Gasoline is sold in Chile exclusively by two foreign firms—the West India, which is a subsidiary of the Standard Oil of New Jersey, and the Shell-Mex, which is British owned. These two firms had previously served notice that they would import no more gasoline and would necessarily have to raise the price of this fuel until the government permitted them to exchange Chilean pesos for gold to pay for it. For nearly a year these firms have been prohibited not only from remitting profits abroad, but from paying for the gasoline they imported.

As a result of this threat of increased prices and cessation of imports the government decided on the rations scheme as the best solution of the problem. Under the agreement the oil companies will be given sufficent exchange to bring in a supply adequate for the permitted use as listed in the decree. This means that they will import no more than such an amount, as they would be unable to obtain gold for a further quantity.

CHAMBERS CALLS SIX TO HEARING ON SMOKE EVIL

Six persons and business concerns were notified yesterday by Frank A. Chambers, chief city smoke inspector, to have representatives in his office today to answer complaints that dense smoke had come from chimneys on their properties. Those notified are:

Selz & Southam, 533 East 61st street.
J. J. Harrington, 141 West Austin avenue.
Steele Wedeles company, 312 North Dearborn street.
William O. Trainer, 307 North Michigan avenue.
Rosenberg & Lurie, agents, 188 West Randolph street.
J. F. Diffenderffer, agent, 3057 Harrison street.

"The Mellon institute has estimated," said Mr. Chambers, "that the per capita cost of smoke and air pollution throughout the country is $16, or a total gigantic sum of $2,000,000,000 a year paid to dirt, destruction and disease."

FRENCH BALLOT FIGHT TO CENTER ON HARD LIQUOR

Candidates Urged to Legalize "Pastis."

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 23.—In America it's loud speakers, movies and pistol shots that make election propaganda. But in France, particularly the south, it's all done with aperitives. It may be bad for public health, but it brings results and some gold to the treasury.

The legislative elections in France this spring will be featured by a big campaign in favor of "pastis"—an appetizing drink similar to pre-war absinthe, which for centuries has been the favorite beverage in Provence and along the sunny shores of the Mediterranean. Since prohibition of absinthe was effected during the war, a large number and variety of mixtures have been created to replace this famous drink which was so much appreciated by pre-war generations.

In 1922 the chamber of deputies passed a law authorizing the consumption of absinthe "ersatz" providing the alcoholic percentage did not exceed 40 per cent, and that they did not contain more than 150 grams of sugar This proportion of sugar is just what the Midi people won't have and a number of public demonstrations have just been held in Marseilles, Avignon and several other towns.

As a result, a number of deputies—twelve Socialists, and even former Premier Edouard Herriot, mayor of Lyons—have prepared a motion which shortly will be submitted to the French parliament, and the deputies from the south will have to watch their step when the discussion of the project comes if they want to be re-elected.

Of course, since 1922, the good bourgeois folk of Marseilles have not been drinking milk. They simply did what is being done in America—brewed their own home made "pastis"—but what worries them is that they cannot sip the yellow liquid quietly on a café terrace as in the good old days.

They cannot even drink it peacefully in the numerous little booze joints in the quaint and narrow little streets of old Marseilles. Once in a while some hard boiled custom agents come down from the north and fine the "bistros" pitilessly.

FISH ATTACKS AMERICANS WHO HELP SOVIETS

International bankers, ministers, and college professors who are giving soviet Russia moral and financial support are contributing to possible ruin of the industry of the middle west and are helping to lower the American living standard, Congressman Hamilton Fish said yesterday.

Speaking before the noon meeting of the Association of Commerce at the Hotel La Salle yesterday, he said, "Every one of these men and women whose financial or moral help in this country has been aimed to help Russia put over the five year plan is really achieving the ruin of the middle west. Success of Russia's plan of economic expansion must mean the loss to the United States of its foreign trade in wheat, lumber, oil, and cotton. This will directly effect the middle western states."

Congressman Fish attacked the international bankers, charging that for a temporary profit the bankers are really working to destroy the world market of free American labor. There is little danger from communism in America as far as politics or morals are concerned, he said, the chief danger being in labor and trade. At present there are aproximately 500,000 communists in the United States, he said.

CHILDREN INJURED IN ACCIDENTS AID SAFETY CAMPAIGN

A dozen or more boys and girls, none older than 10 years, who are convalescing in the Children's hospital from injuries suffered in automobile accidents, wrote papers yesterday on the causes and prevention of such accidents.

Each of the patients described the mistake which had sent him to the hospital and each expressed opinions as to how similar accidents might be avoided in the future. The essays will be turned over to the Chicago Safety council in the hope they will help in saving other children from death or injury.

LYONS, JOLLEY LEAD SOX TO 13 TO 5 VICTORY

LET'S SEE, DOES BATTALINO WIN ON THURSDAYS?

Ring's Mystery Man Faces Petrolle.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 23.—There should be a very interesting show of brutality in the Garden ring tomorrow evening when Billy Petrolle fights Bat Battalino for the logical contendership or runner-uptcy of the lightweight class. Regardless of Battalino's sincerity in this bout, which is something that no man but Battalino and his manager, Peter Reilly, can know anything about, Petrolle is certain to make a fight of it and the contest will be at least 50 per cent honest, which is the passing grade.

Petrolle has been responsible for a revival of the lightweight class as a paying division of the generally moribund business of prize fighting, serving, in a small way, as the Babe Ruth or the Jack Dempsey of his field. He has brought the customers trooping to the ringsides, or any way to their radios, by his homely enthusiasm and his casual willingness to fight any one and he certainly has returned indirect dividends to Battalino, Sammy Fuller, Ray Miller, Billy Wallace, and others of his weight or thereabouts.

Petrolle retired once a few years ago, despondent over physical damage and public nonappreciation, but has come back to a second career more handsome than his first, and if there is any justice he should win the title this year.

Petrolle Is Better Puncher.

Battalino and Petrolle are about alike in their tireless vigor, but Petrolle is the better puncher and then, also, it can be assumed that he will be trying at all times to win. At any rate, the winner of the fight, after the usual period of sulking, challenging and bickering, will meet Tony Canzoneri for the championship.

Battalino is a strange, mischievous character. He won the featherweight title from Andre Routis, a Frenchman who belonged to Mr. Reilly. When the fight began Mr. Reilly was handling a bucket and sponge in Routis' corner. When it was over he was in Battalino's corner. The bout took place in a minor league setting and, as far as the metropolitan boxing experts were concerned, was a sneak punch. It happened while they weren't looking and when Battalino thereafter went bouncing hither ..nd yon, losing no-decision fights to obscure hams, the opinion naturally arose that Battalino was a featherweight Johnny Wilson, or an Al McCoy, which is to say, an awful thing.

Imagine the consternation, then, when Battalino came into New York to fight Kid Chocolate, one of the most stylish featherweights of his time and, instead of dropping the title in a quiet, gentlemanly way, fought the little blue-gum Cuban all over the ring and gave him the first real beating of his life, all this, incidentally, at a fine gambling price laid by the honest bookmakers who do business in the Garden lobby.

Tut! Tut! How Could You?

A suspicious character, having lost a bet on Chocolate that evening, might almost have been willing to suspect Battalino and Reilly of establishing a false reputation for awfulness or terribility or some such, in those no-decision bouts which Battalino had been losing hither and yon.

Still unconvinced, the customers again went to see Battalino licked the night he met Fidel La Barba in the Garden, and again he fought with all the speed, courage and bearing of a champion and won with the bourse betting against him. After that he beat Earl Mastro of Chicago, and by this time there was no more doubt that Battalino was a great little fighter and a fine champion. Dempsey, himself, was no more commanding in his division than Battalino was among the featherweights.

He grew too heavy then, and there now took place an amusing incident in Cincinnati where Battalino and his friend, Freddie Miller, both more or less formally attached to Pete Reilly's establishment, were excused from the ring for making a mockery of the sacred ideals of pugilism. Battalino, one of the best little fighters of his time, went down twice, and the referee, a suspicious character, sullied Bat Battalino's fair name with a public accusation.

The motive suspected was that Battalino, having outgrown the title, wished to keep it under Mr. Reilly's management, and the scandal of it all was much enjoyed, although I cannot

San Antonio, Tex., March 23.—The San Antonio phase of the White Sox exhibition schedule is secure. Our lads upset the San Antonio Indians for the third and last time here this afternoon, by a rousing score of 13 to 5.

Although the clash was in no sense a competition after the fourth inning, there were contained therein a few episodes which, we hope, will lend some cheer to Sox partisans, even though they be not deceived by the Chicagoans' spring calendar.

There was, for instance, Ted Lyons, who had done no pitching this spring. Ted started the game and allowed no hits in three innings and suffered no man to reach first after he had given a walk to the first batter to face him. Only nine men faced Ted, the one lapse being taken up by a futile attempt at base thievery.

And Then There Was Jolley.

Also there was Vic Frasier, also doing his first formal pitching since his spell of flu. Vic held the Indians hitless for his first two innings, but in the sixth the local boys made their first hit of the exhibition and three more besides for a total of two runs.

Then there was J. Smead Jolley, the catcher. For six long innings the large receiver fretted on the bench until advised that he could make an entrance. In the seventh J. Smead doubled and drove in two runs, after which he scored on a double by Johnny Watwood. And in the next inning Smead knocked another double to drive in two more runs. He caught Jim Moore during the last three innings and made no mistakes.

The Sox made thirteen hits in all, and they were pretty well scattered through the extensive array of batting talent pushed forward by Manager Fonseca, no man making more than two of the large total. Besides Jolley, Jack Hayes, Watwood, and Frank Grube were the two hit performers. Hayes and Watwood included doubles in their accomplishments.

Tomorrow, Fort Worth.

Tomorrow the Comiskeys will spend the day in the routine matters pertaining to the breaking of camp. Tomorrow night they will go to Fort Worth, where on Friday they will open a two game series against the Texas league outfit in that city.

Though in the same league, the Fort Worth organization should be able to furnish a little stiffer opposition than the Sox encountered in their three games against the Indians. But the Sox are prepared to fight like everything, the big build-up idea being to knock over all comers. The big strain will not develop, however, until April 6, when the Chicagoans will risk their prestige against the Louisville team of the American association.

HELEN HICKS—A CHAMPION WITHOUT A CLUB

BY HARVEY WOODRUFF.

Miss Helen Hicks, women's national golf champion, after a brief winter campaign in Florida, has laid aside the clubs with which she acquired her honors last summer at Buffalo when 20 years old.

Those clubs have been laid aside permanently. Miss Helen will swing no others until a new set, now in process of making, is tried out in England in May before she and seven others of America's best woman players engage in the first Curtis cup international matches, May 24. A few days later our Yankee girls will take part in the British national championships.

Miss Hicks is spending two weeks of her period of relaxation before the British tests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Waud, 220 East Delaware place. She explained to a small group last evening that this rest, to be followed by a visit at Philadelphia with Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, whose sequence of national titles Miss Helen stopped, was to avoid becoming "overgolfed," or what in less genteel sports such as pugilism and wrestling one would call "going stale."

She'll Practice in England.

To this writer's query about lack of practice, Miss Hicks replied: "We'll have plenty of time in England. We arrive about May 9 or May 10. That gives us two weeks before the matches. When we were there two years ago we almost stepped off the boat to play in what they called a Scotch mist, but which we could call rain. For most of us girls I think two weeks will prove better than two months' practice. We'll be fresh and ambitious.

"Last year I played a hard winter and spring campaign. Then I played only four times during the summer up until two weeks before the national at Buffalo. Probably my game at that time never was better. At any rate, I realized the ambition I had held ever since I began to play seven years ago."

"But with a brand new set of clubs?" I ventured timidly to a speaker sure of the soundness of her arguments.

Clubs Mean Little to Her.

"Well," Miss Hicks replied, "the clubs I used in the national of 1931 I had used only about that long. In fact, the putter with which I did the best putting of my career was loaned for the occasion. As a matter of fact, I have it no longer. The person who loaned it to me asked it back after the tourney, both as a souvenir and because of its balance. Of course, I hated to surrender it, but what could I do under the circumstances?

"But I hope you'll cut out that little hesitation at the top of your putting backstroke which you were trying in Florida this winter," remarked one of those present.

"That was just a little experiment," the youthful champion replied. "Bobby Jones, with whom I played in a mixed foursome at Atlanta on the way north, didn't like it either; that is, for my game."

"How about retaining your honors this season?" I next asked in true reportorial fashion of the young woman who was credited with eliminating the most dangerous British menace at Buffalo. This opponent was Miss Enid Wilson, defeated by Miss Hicks in the semi-finals, 2 and 1. Miss Wilson had defeated the American girl in England two years ago and will be a member of the British women's team.

"Is that a fair question?" parried the champion. "When you're coming up, you have everything to gain and nothing to lose. When you're champion, you're expected to win again. If you lose, people say your game has fallen down, while it may be your opponent is 'hot' that day or you may have an off day. It's like you race track men say that everybody's trying to beat the favorite. Surely, I'll play all the golf I know, but some one, Glenna or several others, may have better shots in their bags."

Beats Champion Four Times.

In five meetings Miss Hicks has defeated Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare four of five times, but not until 1931 did such triumph come in a national title event.

Then this reporter, who has tried to play golf for 25 years and still ranks as a dub, seeking pointers, asked, "To what do you ascribe your success?"

"First, I began early," Miss Hicks replied, "because father's health became poor and he needed a companion on the links. An older brother played a good game. Now this may have been a factor. As a youngster, I always played with men. Of course they beat me. Then when I began to play in tournaments, which is the only time I play with women except in mixed foursomes, I found I could beat many of them. It gave me confidence. Perhaps it had psychological effect. At any rate, I always feel confident. I believe I'm called a steady player."

"Humph," I thought to myself, "that won't help me any. I've always played with men, too, and they beat me, and so do most women."

A Cigaret Now and Then.

"Keep in training during a tournament?" I asked.

"I don't smoke regularly when playing. A cigaret in the locker room after a match sometimes is refreshing."

"Any cocktails?"

"Mother asked me never to take drinks after a mixed foursome because it didn't look well, she thought. I'll not say I never take a highball and I'll not say I do."

Then we fell to talking of basketball, which Miss Hicks played in high school, and swimming, tennis, and other sports in which she is interested.

Miss Hicks' visit to Chicago synchronizes with the convalescence here of Morrison Waud, captain of the Princeton golf team, who is home recuperating from an attack of pneumonia. Perhaps the reader's curiosity is whetted as was ours when we asked Miss Helen if she were engaged.

"No," she replied.

"Expect to be?" we persisted.

"O, I hope to be some time, but I don't know to whom," she answered.

Acquaintance of Miss Hicks and young Waud originated on the links, her home being near Princeton, where she is an honorary member of the college club.

Miss Hicks plans no extensive campaign this season. Her fixed dates are the British contests, American national championships, and an invitation tourney for women at Cleveland with a mixed foursome attachment. It is reliably reported that Capt. Waud of the Princeton golf team will be partnered at Cleveland with the woman's champion.

GOLDEN GLOVERS LOOK LIKE NEW TEAM IN DRILL

They're the Same Boxers, but What a Change!

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The end of the training grind is at hand for the Chicago Golden Gloves team. And if you could see these 24 boys as they wind up work at the Illinois Athletic club you wouldn't recognize them as the same youngsters who fought in the finals at the Stadium, March 9.

Chicago won't see its boxers in the intercity tests this year, but they can take the word of the coaches that the boys have improved in their two weeks of drill. Perhaps their ability to box and punch has not changed much. Indeed, it would be difficult to develop these boys into ring masters in such a short time, but it is certain that they are in condition.

Boys Could Fight Tomorrow.

Two weeks of road work and gymnasium drills have given each one stamina and endurance to carry on for three rounds without letup. It is the plan to have all the boxers within a pound of fighting weight when they start for New York. Undoubtedly they will pick up a bit while en route, but drills Saturday and Sunday in New York will put them on edge for the bouts in Madison Square Garden Monday night.

Some of the boys are so near their best condition that the coaches yesterday ordered a rest for them. Gene Klopack, the big heavyweight, who is scrapping with Walter Karpinski for the runner-up berth, missed his first afternoon in ten days. However, Gene went several rounds on the big bags and on the mats.

Johnny Baltzer, whose normal weight is 109 pounds and who doesn't have a worry on that score, also was rested as far as the gloves are concerned. Joey Roman, who is at 126 pounds; Bud Ginter, the bantamweight, and Vernon Miller, light heavyweight, also joined the group which did not box.

Henry Rothier, lightweight champion, weighed out at 135½ pounds yesterday. Rothier is not very tall, but he is exceptionally strong. His husky arms have beaten a steady tattoo on all his spar mates for the last two weeks. And when it comes to determination, Henry is positive he'll lick New York's best.

Travel on Special Train.

Charley Neigo, middleweight champion, is another who need not worry about making weight. He's down to 155 pounds, his normal weight. If anything, Neigo could use a couple of more pounds when he steps into the ring against Mark Hough, New York's colored titleholder.

Chicago's squad will take a final workout tomorrow morning. Lunch will be served at the Illinois Athletic club at 11:15, after which the boys will break camp, hustling over to the La Salle street station to board a special train, a section of the Twentieth Century, which will leave at 12:40 and land the team in Grand Central station 20 hours later.

The team's headquarters in New York will be at the New Yorker hotel. They will train at the Daily News gymnasium on Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Cubs' Big Guns Pop Feebly, But Beat San Francisco, 6-5

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

San Francisco, Cal., March 23.—The attack of the Cubs was rather meek again today, but they won just the same. The Seals have a habit of getting tangled up in their fielding at the wrong time and they performed in that fashion sufficiently to permit the major leaguers to escape with a 6 to 5 decision behind the pitching of Guy Bush, who made his first effort over the nine inning route. The Mississippi gentleman was staggering noticeably at the finish.

GUY BUSH.

Although swinging their bats against nothing more than an unknown pitcher who has yet to make a reputation, the Chicagoans could accumulate only eight hits. None of these went to either Riggs Stephenson or the costly young Stanley Hack. The eight of today added to those gathered in the previous exhibitions in the Bay district gave the big leaguers a total of 53 hits, which isn't much when you realize 16 of them were in one battle, and 12 in another that listed 11 innings. It's a simple explanation of why Manager Hornsby is sitting up nights trying to figure where an outfielder of long distance hitting attainments might be obtained.

Welcome, Mr. Davis—Bang!

Davis, a tall youngster who started against the Cubs, didn't appear to have a definite idea of what it was all about. He was given a thorough lesson in the first inning, four Cubs scoring. Hack walked and stole second and Herman walked. Cuyler bunted and Davis not only threw late but wild to third, Hack scoring, Herman taking third and Cuyler second. Both dashed to the plate on Moore's single to center. Moore moved to second on Stephenson's out and traveled home when English singled past first base.

The Cubs scored another run in the third on Herman's double, Cuyler's infield out and Moore's fly. Then the major leaguers gave a fielding exhibition in the Seals' half which they didn't want the folks at home to hear about. It gave the opponents two runs. Hack kicked a grounder by Penebsky, Davis fanned, and Garibaldi walked. Frazier bounced to Herman, who made a slight mistake, throwing the ball into the grandstand. Penebsky scored, Garibaldi pulled up at third and Frazier at second. Garibaldi registered on Sulik's fly to Cuyler.

Wera's single and Penebsky's triple gave the Seals another in the fourth.

Both Score in Eighth.

Both factions varied the monotony by scoring in the eighth. The Cubs got theirs with the help of an error. English survived on Wera's boot at third, went to second on an infield out, and home on Zack Taylor's single through short. The Seals' run also was slightly tainted, Bush walked Oana, who hiked around to third on Keesey's single to right. A wild pitch let him get to the plate.

A pinch batter was ushered up in the ninth and caused Bush some very uncomfortable moments. The pinch man, Hunt, doubled to left for Davis. Garibaldi slashed a single past English and Hunt raced home. Frazier was out on a popup, but Bush brought on additional complications by plunking Sulik in the back with a pitched ball. Then Hack came up with Oana's hot grounder to end the affair.

Tomorrow's program will feature the Missions instead of the Seals, and Manager Hornsby will send another of his first string pitchers over the nine inning route.

UNITED STATES NET STARS BEAT FRENCH, 3 TO 2

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—The international indoor tennis match between France and the United States was won by the American forces tonight, when Frank Shields of New York defeated Christian Boussus at the Seventh regiment armory. The score was 6-1, 6-4, 10-8.

These victories, in conjunction with Gregory Mangin's triumph over Boussus Monday night and the doubles victory of George M. Lott Jr. and John Van Ryn over Jean Borotra and Antoine Gentien Tuesday night, clinched the series for the United States at 3 to 2.

Jean Borotra closed the three day carnival with a spectacular victory over the United States' newest indoor champion, Gregory Mangin, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Oxford's Golf Team Wins Over Cambridge, 9 to 6

STANNES-ON-SEA, England, March 23.—[Special.]—Oxford's golf team today defeated Cambridge, 9 matches to 6. In one of the matches Charles Sweeney defeated D. A. Drayson, 4 and 3. Immediately after the matches Sweeney was elected captain of the Oxford squad.

Hinchman Flunks; Ruled Ineligible for Ohio Baseball

Columbus, O., March 23.—[Special.]—Lewis G. Hinchman, Ohio State football captain elect, was ruled ineligible for baseball today, according to athletic officials.

Hinchman, son of the Pittsburgh scout, William Hinchman, plays third base on the ball team. His present ineligibility, caused by a failure in an accounting course, is expected to have no bearing on his football status next fall, for he plans to make up the deficiency during the summer quarter.

Olympic Chance Is Denied Swimmer to Save Hearing

Iowa City, Ia., March 23.—[Special.]—Hopes for a national championship and a place on the American Olympic swimming team faded today for Wentworth Lobdell of the University of Iowa when physicians ordered him to remain out of the water or jeopardize his hearing.

WENTWORTH LOBDELL.

The Rockford, Ill., diving star was entered in the national meet and was one of the favorites for the title, but will be forced to withdraw.

Lobdell has been defeated only once in his collegiate career. This defeat was for the national title two years ago. During his competition he has been constantly handicapped by injuries and ill health. While a freshman at the university he underwent a double mastoid operation. Later sinus trouble developed and he was kept out of the water at frequent intervals.

DANIELS, MACK'S DISCOVERER, DIES FROM EXPOSURE

Norwich, Conn., March 23.—(AP)—The man who introduced Connie Mack to major league baseball died today.

He was Charles F. Daniels, 83, believed to have been the last survivor of the original staff of National league umpires. Injuries and exposure suffered when he fell on a country road during a snowstorm Monday caused his death.

Daniels acquired Mack—a likely looking youngster playing with the Meriden team—while he was managing the Hartford club, then in the National league. The transaction cost him "next to nothing," he once said.

An umpire for 25 years in the American association, the National league, the Eastern association and the College association, Daniels received from $5 to $10 each for his earlier games. In his first year with the American association, he was chosen to umpire the deciding game of the world series between St. Louis and the Philadelphia Athletics.

LONDON, England, March 23.—[Special.]—Primo Carnera, Italian heavyweight boxer, tonight knocked out George Cook of Australia in the fourth round at Albert hall.

LEXINGTON FIRE SENDS 4 TROTTING MARES TO DEATH

Lexington, Ky., March 23.—(AP)—Four trotting mares were burned to death tonight in a fire which destroyed a stock barn on the farm of J. O. McAlister, who estimated the loss at $15,000.

One of the horses destroyed, Calumet Belricka, a four year old, was a well known racing mare, having a two year old record of 2:05 and a three year old record of 2:03½.

The other three mares, Lotta Watts, 17 years old; Ophie Creek, 12, and Lela Haryester, 9, were in foal.

WILLARD WANTS TO BOX DEMPSEY, JACK JOHNSON

Los Angeles, Cal., March 23.—(AP)—Jess Willard, former world's heavyweight champion, today announced that he contemplated a return to the ring to engage in exhibition bouts.

Recently Willard admitted that his various real estate and meat market ventures had failed and that he was earning a mere living.

His managers said he would go into training immediately and that they hoped to match him with Jack Dempsey, to whom he lost the title, and Jack Johnson, from whom he won the crown, in four round exhibitions.

The former champion has been away from the ring for nearly ten years. He is now 49 years old and weighs 300 pounds, about 50 pounds heavier than when he was actively engaged in the ring.

Adobe Post Is First to Work Out for Derby

POENSGEN AND APPLEBY WIN IN BALKLINE MEET

New York, March 23.—(AP)—Albert Poensgen of Germany, the defending champion, and Francis S. Appleby of New York were victorious tonight in the opening matches of the world's amateur 18.2 balkline billiards championship tournament.

Poensgen defeated another German entry, Charles Foster, 400 to 318, in 22 innings. He had a high run of 86 to Foster's 35. Appleby, a former national champion, took 40 innings to defeat Worth O. Bergherm of Saginaw, Mich., 400 to 153. Appleby's best run was 72, Berkherm's was 30.

LITTLE MEN WITH BIG WALLOPS ARE NEW YORK'S HOPE

Boys in Lighter Divisions Menace Chicagoans.

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Reports from Orangeburg, N. Y., where Billy Hogan is in training for the intercity bouts between New York's Golden Glove champions and those representing Chicago at Madison Square garden next Monday night, are that Billy has never looked better. Hogan is metropolitan and state lightweight champion and won a Golden Glove in the New York News tournament.

He scaled 136 pounds today and is working along smoothly under the careful eye of Gus Wilson, former trainer for Georges Carpentier and Jack Dempsey. Gus' interest in the little Piedmont grocery clerk surpasses that which he had for Carpentier, and during the weeks of hard campaigning through this year's Golden Gloves tourney Gus never missed coming down from his Orangeburg camp to watch Hogan in his bouts.

He'll Join Squad Saturday.

Having seen Billy come through and finally turn in a smashing finale to his campaign by beating Bobby Carlton, colored star, for the Golden Gloves title, Gus is now intent on having Hogan in the best shape of his career, so he can cap his activities with a victory over his Chicago opponent.

Billy will continue to work at Orangeburg until Saturday, when he will come to New York and finish off his training with his teammates, who are working out in the Daily News A. A. gym on the second floor of the News building.

The news that Hogan will be in top shape for next Monday night only strengthens the opinion of the coaches that the little men on this year's squad are the classiest lot of youngsters who have ever represented New York in the inter-city matches. In addition to their Golden Gloves titles, many of the lads who will step in against Chicago are eastern champions.

Defoe Best Bantam.

In the flyweight division Lou Salica, metropolitan champion, Julie Katz, state champion, and Charlie Villareale, who was one of the three New Yorkers to turn in a win against Chicago last year, put up the strongest fighting front the 112 pounders have ever had. Johnny Defoe, probably the best of the 118 pounders though he holds no other title than his Golden Gloves championship; Teddy Sharigan, state 118 pound title holder; Jimmy Martin and Mickey Falabella form a quartet of bantams who are the class of the eastern field.

If New York can stick out its chest and boast of a probable victory in any class, it's in the 126 pound division, where two colored lads, Richard Carter and Sedgewick Harvey, will provide the stiffest competition Chicago warriors have run into in the five year history of the inter-city series.

Here are two amateurs who are powerful punchers, ring-wise veterans, and clever, shifty boxers. Carter holds the state featherweight title and the invariable history of eastern tournaments is that Carter and Harvey are the finalists, for these boys can step out with regularity and beat every one else in their class.

Harvey Loses This Time.

The luck of the draw was such that they opposed each other in the Mecca Temple semi-finals, Harvey being eliminated after three spirited rounds. This earlier meeting is all that stopped them from coming down to the Golden Glove finals together.

Bobby Carlton and Sal Resinol, supplementing Hogan in the 135 pound ranks, round out a corps of little fellows who are not only the greatest who have ever represented New York but, man for man, are comparable with anything the eastern amateurs have seen in the last ten years.

Morocco Wins at St. Johns; Wave Top 2d

Bayard, Fla., March 23.—[Special.]—Morocco, steady 7 year old plater from the stable of E. McCuan, scored a decisive victory over his six rivals in the fourth race, principal event on the program at St. Johns Park race track today. Wave Top was second and Observation third at the end of the mile and an eighth journey over the sloppy course. The winner was held at odds on and paid $3.60. His time was 1:57 1-5.

Wave Top showed the most early speed and sprinted into the lead on the backstretch. Morocco was rated behind the pacemaker, with Observation in third position.

Morocco Draws Away.

When straightened out for the final test, Morocco drew away from his rivals and finished three lengths in advance of Wave Top.

In a driving finish, R. F. Coppage's Bozo scored a head decision in the mile and an eighth gallop of the third. Winnie Jo finished second in the field of eight.

Top Hattie disposed of Cockrill in the stretch drive to gain the minor award. The winner was the favorite and returned $3.60. The time was 1:57 3-5.

Chief's Camille Splashes In.

Chief's Camille, clever mud-runner from the stable of G. L. Arvin, splashed her way to a brilliant four length victory over Harum Scarum and 12 other platers in the six furlong dash of the second. Jockey Clancy, aboard the winner, opened up a safe margin in the early part and drew away in the stretch.

Harum Scarum closed gamely in the final drive to save the place. Baal, an outsider, finished third. The winner returned $7.20 and was timed in 1:16 3-5.

KIECKHEFER AND HALL SPLIT TWO BILLIARD BLOCKS

Augie Kieckhefer and Allen Hall broke even yesterday in the fifth and sixth blocks of their 12 block, 600 point three cushion billiard match at the Kieckhefer recreation. Kieckhefer now holds the lead, 300 to 276, in 255 innings. Hall won in the afternoon, 88 to 50, in 56 innings. Kieckhefer triumphed at night, 50 to 41, in 41 innings. High runs in the afternoon were: Hall, 8; Kieckhefer, 5, and at night, Kieckhefer, 8; Hall, 5.

The seventh and eighth blocks will be played at Mussey's Wabash avenue billiard room today, the ninth and tenth at Kieckhefer's tomorrow, and the last two blocks at Mussey's on Saturday.

PERCY WILLIAMS STARTS WORK FOR OLYMPIC SPRINTS

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 23.—(AP)—Determined to duplicate his achievements at Amsterdam in 1928, when he won both sprint titles, Percy Williams, Canada's premier sprinter, has started light training here preparatory to the Olympic games in Los Angeles this summer.

For the next six weeks Williams will gradually work himself into early season condition and in May will go to Seattle to train with a number of University of Washington athletes under Coach Chet Emundson. At the end of May he hopes to be in tip-top shape and ready to participate in the British Columbia track championships here in June.

THIRD HOLY NAME BOWLING MEET OPENS APRIL 9

The third annual Holy Name society bowling tournament will open April 9, at Samuelson's arcade, Irving Park boulevard and Crawford avenue. The five Baumet brothers, Chicago team, entered the meet yesterday. Three are from Epiphany parish and the other two are from St. Veronica's.

Among the suburban bowlers who will compete are Elmer Scott of La Grange, E. J. Vondrasek of Cicero, and Matt Sheil of Waukegan. Scott, who is secretary of the St. Francis Xavier branch, announced that four teams from that parish will compete in the turnament.

I. A. C. TO ENTER TEAM IN A. A. U. TRACK EVENTS

The Illinois Athletic club will enter a team in the Central A. A. U. track and field championships at the 124th Field Artillery armory Wednesday night.

Among entrants are George Hutson in the dashes; Robert Rogers and Jimmie Hatfield in the hurdles; Gordon Harper in the pole vault; Joseph Tigerman in the one mile walk; Joe Sivak, conference mile champion, in the two mile event and 100 yard run; Dale Letts in the 600 and 1,000 yard run; and Lee Sentman in the hurdles.

City playgrounds are sending entries. It is expected that more than 300 athletes will participate. Entries close Saturday with Racine Thompson, chairman of the Central A. A. U. track and field committee, 11304 South Michigan avenue.

Iowa May Send Relay Teams to Kansas Meet

Iowa City, Ia., March 23.—[Special.]—University of Iowa track athletes may open the outdoor season at the Kansas relays April 23, it was announced yesterday by Coach George T. Bresnahan. The Hawkeye coach has entered a half dozen men in the Kansas events. The Hawkeye runners will probably concentrate on the half mile and mile relays, after having won second place in the former event last year. Iowa holds the meet record in the mile relay with the time of 3:20, established in 1926.

Colonels Sign Rookie Who Hitch Hiked to Camp

Mobile, Ala., March 23.—[Special.]—Max Kron of New Albany, Ind., a second baseman, who hitch hiked his way to the Louisville club's camp here, has been signed, it was announced today. Kron will be sent to the Asheville club of the Piedmont league, the Colonels' farm.

Montana Approves Cent Tax on Shotgun Shells

Helena, Mont., March 23.—[Special.]—The proposed federal tax of one cent per shotgun shell today was approved by Montana's fish and game commission. Montana will receive more than $40,000 a year if the proposed tax is put into effect.

Iowa Board Delays Action on Assistant Grid Coaches

Iowa City, Ia., March 23.—(AP)—The University of Iowa athletic board discussed the selection of an assistant football coaching staff today, but adjourned without giving the identity of the men under consideration to aid Ossie Solem. Dr. E. H. Lauer, athletic director, said the assistants would not be named until he had conferred again with Solem. He asserted, however, that there will be "new blood added to the coaching staff."

Farm Bureau League to Approve Schedule Today

Bloomington, Ill., March 23.—[Special.]—The Illinois Farm Bureau Baseball league will hold its spring meeting here tomorrow. The schedule will be approved, new members admitted, and the 1932 organization perfected.

PURDUE DELAYS APPOINTMENT OF NEW TRACK HEAD

Lafayette, Ind., March 23.—[Special.]—No efforts will be made for some time to obtain a successor to Earl Martineau, Purdue track coach, who has resigned to accept a position as back field coach with Fritz Crisler at Princeton, it was announced today by N. A. Kellogg, director of athletics.

Martineau has been granted a leave of absence from track coaching duties here in order to attend the spring football session at Princeton, and during his absence the track squad will be handled by Homer Allen, freshman coach.

Martineau explained he will leave April 4 for Princeton for spring practice and will return on May 1 to direct the track squad through the final stages of the outdoor campaign.

Mrs. Lee Fields, Swim Star, Gets Divorce on Cruelty

Los Angeles, Cal., March 23.—[Special.]—Accusing George F. Fields, her 23 year old husband, of cruelty, Mrs. Lee Fourrier Fields, prominent woman swimmer, was granted a divorce today. Mrs. Fields, who is 38 years old, met Fields while training for the Olympic swimming events last year. She said Fields ridiculed her because of her age.

MUSCULAR—RHEUMATIC PAINS

DRAW them out with a "counter-irritant." Muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness—generally respond to good old Musterole. Doctors call it a "counter-irritant" because its warming action penetrates and stimulates blood circulation and helps to draw out infection and pain. It gets action and is not just a salve. But do not stop with one application. Apply this soothing, cooling, healing ointment generously to the affected area once every hour for five hours. Used by millions for over 20 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. All druggists.

To Mothers—Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

MUSTEROLE
BETTER THAN A MUSTARD PLASTER

Scotch Shoot Their Game, Have It, Too

BY BOB BECKER.

While American sportsmen are thinking over the waterfowl situation and conservation departments are getting another year's game programs under way, many of the game breeding experts are making comparisons between our system or raising game and that practiced in the British Isles or almost any part of Europe. The comparison gives an idea of what can be done in this country if just a crude system of game management were put into effect in some of our states.

The whole lesson can be summed up in this statement: The Scottish moors support about one grouse per three acres, on the average, and one per acre as a maximum. The Wisconsin sand plains support about one grouse per 40 acres.

System vs. Aimlessness.

The first situation is the result of businesslike and sensible management. Our one grouse per 40 acres is the result of no scientifice game growing program.

Another and more complete picture can be obtained by this comparison made recently by a game survey authority: In Scotland the human population density figure is about 161 to the square mile. Wisconsin shows a population density of about 52 to the square mile [the assumption being that about one-third of the area of each country is grouse cover].

With these figures as a starter, a well known game expert points to the fact that by intensive management Scotland can and does raise approximately 213 grouse to a square mile as against Wisconsin's 16. Abroad they can shoot 160 birds to the square mile and still leave plenty of seed stock, whereas Wisconsin can make a kill of just one bird per square mile, when and if there is a grouse season.

Easy to Improve Situation.

There is a long distance between these two figures, the amount of game raised and the sport available. It is pointed out that game in this country still can belong "to the people" and yet be managed to produce a much bigger yield than we have today.

It would not be necessary to raise as dense a stand of birds in this country as Scotland produces in order to provide plenty of sport. Just a crude form of management will do the trick. And this work can be carried on cheapest by the landowner, who naturally could expect to be compensated for growing game birds as a side crop.

Menlo Park Next Stop for Phar Lap, Tourist

San Clemente, Cal., March 23.—[Special.]—Phar Lap, which arrived at the Hamilton Cotton ranch here yesterday from Agua Caliente, Mexico, was on his way to the Ed Perry farm at Menlo Park, near San Francisco, today. When he reaches Menlo Park, Phar Lap will have traveled more than 12,000 miles since last December. Phar Lap will be shipped to Chicago to compete in the stake races there soon.

Beulah Park Track to Open 3 Day Meet April 21

Columbus, O., March 23.—[Special.]—A three day racing meet of runners has been scheduled for the Beulah park oval near Grove City, to begin April 21.

Purple to Send Swim, Mat Teams to Meets Today

Two Northwestern athletic teams, swimming and wrestling, leave today for national intercollegiate meets this week-end. The swimming championships will be held at Ann Arbor, Mich., and the wrestling at Bloomington, Ind.

Coach Tom Robinson has nominated eight men for the trip to Michigan, while five members of the Wildcat wrestling squad will compete in the mat tournament.

The Purple aquatic stars hope to break Michigan's hold on the national title which the Wolverines won at the Lake Shore Athletic club, Chicago, last year. Previous to the 1931 meet Northwestern won the championship twice in a row.

Northwestern's 400 yard relay team, which set a new national intercollegiate mark in the meet with Stanford Tuesday, is a favorite to win that event. The Purple quartet includes Troup, Wilson, Highland, and Wilcox. Other members of the Northwestern team are Rog Debenham, free style; Ken Willard, diving: Hub Murphy, back stroke, and Frank Lennox, breast stroke.

Wes Brown, conference champion in the 175 pound division, and Jack Riley, heavyweight star, head Northwestern's contingent in the wrestling championships at Indiana. Other Wildcat grapplers are Jack Spencer, 134 pounds; Bob Garrigan, 145 pounds, and Bud Brewer, 158 pounds.

TUFFY GRIFFITH AND CHICAGO GIRL TO WED MONDAY

Miss Helen Hayes Will Marry Heavyweight.

Tuffy Griffith, Chicago heavyweight boxer, obtained a license yesterday to marry Miss Helen Hayes, 48 North Long avenue. The ceremony will take place next Monday morning at St. Thomas Aquinas church. After the wedding ceremonies Tuffy and his bride will leave for St. Petersburg, Fla., for their honeymoon. They will return the latter part of next month, when Tuffy will resume training for a bout early in May.

Jackie Fields, welterweight champion, will feature Frank Mastro's boxing talk tonight at 10:30 o'clock over a Chicago radio station. Mastro will interview Fields about the Billy Petrolle-Bat Battalino bout at New York tonight. Jackie is signed to defend his title against the winner, April 15, at the Chicago Stadium.

Lew Massey, Philadelphia junior welterweight, will replace Benny Bass, former junior lightweight champion, against Harry Dublinsky, Chicago boxer, at Philadelphia next Monday. At a meeting of the Pennsylvania athletic commission yesterday Bass' suspension for fouling Frank Bojarski at Pittsburgh last week was upheld and Massey was substituted.

The Knights of Pythias will be guests tonight at the Belle Plaine Athletic club, 3943 Lincoln avenue, when tryouts will be held for Belle Plaine representatives in the Olympic ring trials and Central A. A. U. championships at Loyola university gymnasium April 5 to 8. Marshall Richey, Belle Plaine club president, has said that his organization will enter 14 boxers in the tournament at Loyola gym. Tony Muscarello, 1931 Golden Gloves featherweight champion, tonight must defeat Mike Dragel, west side Golden Gloves qualifier, to earn a place on the Belle Plaine team. Tony Sutton, former Golden Gloves star, and Matt Dour will fight for the light heavyweight position on the team.

Ray Tramble, Chicago middleweight, engaged in several rounds of limbering up exercises in his first drill at the Arcade gymnasium yesterday for his ten round bout with Jack Kilbourne, 160 pound champion of Australia, at White City next Monday night. This match will be Tramble's first Chicago encounter in three months. He knocked out Johnny Burns and won a decision from Sammy [Kid] Slaughter at Indianapolis and then left for West Palm Beach, Fla. While at West Palm Beach he knocked out Russ Rowsey, Joe McGowan, Clyde Chastain, and Johnny Pilc. He returned weighing 165½ pounds.

Upon his arrival in Chicago from Toronto, Canada, today Jack Dempsey will be notified that he has until Saturday to petition for a rehearing of the judgment Judge Francis Wilson of the Appellate court handed down last week holding the former heavyweight champion responsible for approximately $100,000 in expenses incurred by the Chicago Coliseum club in 1926 when he repudiated a contract to fight Harry Wills. The opinion reverses a judgment in the Circuit court and remanded the case for a new trial. If Dempsey's petition is not filed by Saturday Attorney Ralph Rosen of the Coliseum club said the case will be taken back to the Circuit court to prove damages.

WISCONSIN AND CHICAGO ENTER ARMOUR RELAYS

Wisconsin and Chicago have entered teams in the Armour Tech relay carnival, which will be held at the University of Chicago fieldhouse on April 2. Michigan, Northwestern, Purdue, and Missouri will also have teams competing.

Entries are also coming in from the smaller colleges, Grinnell, Butler, Carleton, Lake Forest, Knox, and Monmouth having entered squads.

Shaw and Murphy of Wisconsin and Nelson of Butler, all 6 foot 5 high jumpers, should have an interesting fight in that event.

The meet is sponsored by the Armour Tech Athletic association, a student organization, under the direction of John J. Schommer, athletic director of Armour Tech and Big Ten football and basketball official. The association will donate proceeds to the Chicago Olympic fund.

GARIBALDI TO MEET KWARIANI ON FRONTON MAT

Kola Kwariani and Gino Garibaldi, heavyweight wrestlers, will meet next Tuesday night at the Rainbo Fronton, Clark street and Lawrence avenue.

They were signed today by Promoter Joe Coffey to appear in the semi-windup of his show that features George Zaharias against Hans Kampfer, German youngster.

The winner of the Zaharias-Kampfer match probably will meet Jim Londos when the latter comes to town some time in April.

CARDS WHIP INDIANS, 8 TO 1.

Bradenton, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—Showing their best attack of the spring, the St. Louis Cardinals looked a little like world champions as they bombarded two Indianapolis pitchers for 16 hits and defeated the American association Indians, 8 to 1.

Flint Rhem's pitching was the bright feature of the game for the Redbirds. He worked five innings and held the Indians to two singles. Ray Starr finished the game and yielded three hits in four innings. Score:

Indianapolis [AA]	000	000 100	1 5 1
St. Louis [N.]	001	140 11*	8 16 1

Batteries—Wingard, Cooney and Riddle; Rhem, Starr and Wilson, Mancuso.

TIGERS LOSE TO GIANTS, 6-1.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 23.—(AP)—Elon Hogsett and Orlin Collier, Detroit hurlers, held New York to seven hits, but dropped an exhibition game, 6 to 1, here today.

Bill Terry, Giants' first baseman, drove in four of his club's runs, while Fred Fitzsimmons and Andy Mitchell limited the Tigers to one. Score:

Detroit [A.]	001	000 000	1 7 1
New York [N.]	002	001 30*	6 7 0

Batteries—Hogsett, Collier and Susce, Hayward; Fitzsimmons, Mitchell and Healy.

OAKS POUND PIRATES, 9-3.

Oakland, Cal., March 23.—(AP)—Led by their sensational rookie shortstop, Joe Burke, Oakland Pacific Coast leaguers pounded two Pittsburgh Pirate pitchers for 16 hits and a 9 to 3 victory here today.

Burke cracked out a triple, a double and single in five trips. Ervin Brame, big right hander, started for the National leaguers and proved easy for the Oaks, who found him for all nine runs and 12 hits in six innings. The defeat was the first for Pittsburgh in eight games. Score:

Pittsburgh [N.]	101	100 000	3 9 1
Oakland [P.C.]	040	014 00*	9 16 1

Batteries—Brame, Swetonic and Brenzel; Thomas, House and Kochler, Pool.

MACK USES SHEARS.

Fort Myers, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—Connie Mack wielded the pruning knife on the Athletics today and ended, temporarily at least, the big league dreams of three young pitching hopefuls. Robert Chandler, Eddie Wight Trask, and William Brigham, Mack announced, will part company with the rest of the A's when they break camp Monday.

Mack said he would try to place the three with minor league clubs, but not with any idea of recalling them in the future. If he finds jobs for them they will become the property of the teams that take them.

PHILLIES GET REST.

Winter Haven, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—Two frustrated attempts to play ball in one day were enough for the Phillies today, so they got a good rest.

Their scheduled game with the St. Louis Browns was called off when a furious storm broke. The visitors climbed into buses and headed back to West Palm Beach. An hour later the sun was shining brightly, so Burt Shotton lined up two teams for an intramural game. Came the deluge again after one inning, and the players headed for shelter. Just about the time they had dressed, the sun smiled brightly again and the rest of the day was perfect.

INDIANS TEST SKULLS.

New Orleans, La., March 23.—(AP)—Cleveland Indian infielders today had a long session under Manager Rocker Peckinpaugh on how to catch base runners napping.

Johnny Burnett and Johnny Hodapp, fighting for the second base job, and Eddie Morgan and Bruce Connaster, rivals for first base, vied in the workouts.

The Indians' sparring mates, the New Orleans Pelicans and the Toledo Mudhens, were on the road and there was no exhibition game here today.

SENATORS BEAT ORIOLES, 10-6.

Biloxi, Miss., March 23.—(AP)—Five innings of good pitching by the veteral Alvin Crowder and consistent hitting by his teammates later in the game gave the Washington Senators a 10 to 6 victory today over the Baltimore Orioles.

Crowder allowed but two hits with one run as a result of an error by Cronin. Young Mike Delaney, however, walked four in the seventh and Baltimore brought in as many runs. Trailing, 5 to 4, in the eighth, the big leaguers found the ball and got seven hits and six runs. Score:

Baltimore [I. L.]	000	100 401	6 6 3

Shamrocks in Season's Final Here Tonight

The American Hockey league season closes tonight with two games. The league leading Shamrocks meet Tulsa at the Stadium and the runner-up, Kansas City, plays the Fliers at St. Louis.

The Shamrocks, already secure in first place, will be seeking their ninth consecutive victory in tonight's game. Although the youngest team in the league, the Shamrocks have a margin of victories over every other club.

In addition they lead the league in team scoring with 117 goals and have the three high individual scorers in Pewee Wiseman, Jack Riley, and Donnie McFadyen. Wiseman is one point up on Riley with 16 goals and 18 assists, against Riley's 17 goals and 16 assists. Defensively, the Chicagoans are second, behind Kansas City.

Shamrocks Draw Bye.

The Shamrocks draw a bye in the American league play-offs by dint of their first place position, and will meet either Kansas City or Duluth early in April for the championship. If they win the title, they will issue a formal challenge to the National league champions for the Stanley cup. The board of trustees for the Stanley cup has already accepted the American league challenge.

Manager Babe Dye's team owes its present high estate to a sensational march in which it lost only three games and tied two out of 22. It was four games behind Kansas City when the drive started and is now two games in front.

Buswell and Taylor will probably start at defense for the Shamrocks tonight. Curly Headley will be saved as much as possible because of a bad side, which has handicapped him for some time. Tip O'Neill has not been in the last three games because of a had shoulder and probably will be McCusker, who is ill. Lineups:

Byrne in Net.

Paddy Byrne will be in the goal for Tulsa. Byrne, last year's leading American league goalie and for a brief spell in midseason a rival for Mike Karakas' job, is substituting for Red McCusker, who is sick. Lineups:

LAYTON BEATS PALMER, 100-61, IN CUE MATCH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., March 23.—Johnny Layton of Sedalia, Mo., a former world three cushion billiard champion, today opened his Milwaukee series of exhibitions by defeating Ray Palmer in a 100 point match, 100 to 61, at the Plankinton arcade. Layton won the first block this afternoon, 50 to 25 in 46 innings, getting a high of 9. He captured the second block tonight, 50 to 36 in 41 innings, with 7 as his best run.

Layton will play Max Shimon, former national amateur champion, tomorrow, at 3 p. m. and at 8 p. m., and will close his stand against Art O'Neill Friday in two exhibitions.

Lady of Sorrow Wins Western C. Y. O. Title, 9-8

Our Lady of Sorrow won the western division championship of the C. Y. O. Girls Basketball league last night by defeating the Victorian A. C., 9 to 8. The game was played in Providence gymnasium, 3141 West Van Buren street.

Four Soccer Teams to Play Matches Sunday

Four National Soccer league clubs will meet on the west side Sunday. The Bricklayers and Maccabees play a first round Peal cup match at Kupenheimer stadium, while Sparta and the Carpenters play a league match at Sparta field.

Hopkins Five Needs a Bit More Drill—It Loses, 31-0

Minneapolis, Minn., March 23.—(AP)—A rare occurrence in basketball—a shutout—was a feature of the state Demolay tournament here today, when Rochester beat Hopkins, 31 to 0. The Hopkins players missed eight free shots.

PRINCETON'S COACHES.

PRINCETON, departing from precedent in appointing Fritz Crisler of the central states as head football coach, has gone the full limit in naming his assistants. They are Tad Wieman, once of Michigan, and Earl Martineau, once of Minnesota.

H. O. CRISLER.

The Wake, at the time, congratulated Old Nassau on securing a man of Crisler's type. That he should have assistants of his own choice instead of those named by an athletic board shows Princeton athletic authorities are decided to give Crisler full rein in righting the gridiron situation there if it may be righted. That is only fair to the new coach. It also puts the issue squarely up to the new coaching régime.

That such a situation could arise would a few years ago have been considered impossible. Princeton was a member of the once termed "Big Three" of Princeton, Harvard, and Yale. This trio was the ne plus ultra of football. They were sufficient unto themselves.

For years it was "Big Three" graduates who went forth to teach other boys how to play football. These graduates seldom adopted coaching as a permanent profession, as has since become the vogue, but were part time coaches whose salary supplemented a start in some other business. Of late years have come schools of physical education, usually in our western colleges, to produce and develop coaches and athletic directors.

With rise of western football came recognition of western coaching methods. Harvard and Yale already had pointed by-paths to Princeton, but had not gone nearly so far. When Arnold Horween, who prepped in the west but played at Harvard, was appointed Crimson head coach, he took Duke Dunne of Michigan with him to Cambridge as line coach. Yale was willing to learn of Notre Dame tactics from Adam Walsh and of Michigan strategy from Benny Friedman.

Princeton graduates possibly will welcome the change, as any change appears to them desirable after the last year or so. Moreover, there was friction in the Tiger camp. At the same time if this western group fails to produce results there is bound to be a storm of criticism from the standpatters, who prefer Princeton men as directors of Princeton athletics.

The Wake knows of no better qualified trio for the experiment. If Crisler, Wieman, and Martineau cannot produce football at Old Nassau it is because Princeton has become a hopeless "educational institution"—that is, hopeless in an athletic sense—and that's what some of its alumni fear. The new coach is a builder. We expect greater results his second year than this fall.

Dorothy and Her Paper Cutter Get Release Today

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Mrs. Dorothy A. Cutler, 33 years old, of West New Brighton, Staten island, whose antics caused considerable commotion during the international indoor tennis matches at the Seventh Regiment armory last night, was confined today to the observation ward at Bellevue hospital. Officials of the hospital said her condition was improving and that she probably would be released tomorrow.

In the course of a doubles match between the French tennis players, Jean Borotra and Antoine Gentien, and the Americans, John Van Ryn and George M. Lott, Mrs. Cutler rose from her seat in the gallery and brandished a paper cutter at M. Borotra. Several spectators, who were afraid she might hurl the slender knife at the tennis player, seized her and attempted to quiet her. She became only the more intractable, however, and threw the armory into an uproar with her shouting and struggling.

She was finally removed by a policeman and taken to the East 67th street station where she produced a wad of newspaper photographs of Borotra and explained that she was simply demonstrating her admiration for him. Later she was taken to Bellevue.

Hawks Must Battle Leafs to Decision

When the Blackhawks meet the high scoring Toronto Maple Leafs next Sunday night at the Stadium, a new rule, inaugurated by the National Hockey league's board of governors at a recent meeting, will go into effect.

The new rule specifies that, although the games between teams finishing second and third in their respective divisions will be decided on a home and home basis, total goals to count, the games must go to a finish and, if, because of a tie, they go into overtime, the contest will end automatically with the scoring of a goal.

The Blackhawks indulged in light practice yesterday with the entire squad participating.

This morning at 11 o'clock the team will practice again at the Stadium, and as hundreds of fans have expressed a desire to see the Hawks in practice prior to the opening Stanley cup game next Sunday, the management has decided to throw open the doors.

If the Hawks win the Toronto games, they have the choice of where the first game will be played with the winner of the Detroit Falcons-Montreal Maroons series and they have elected to play the first game away from home on Thursday, March 31, which will bring the second game to the Chicago Stadium, Sunday, April 3.

BARNEY SPINELLA LEADS TEAM TO 2,683 PIN SCORE

Detroit, Mich., March 23.—(AP)—The Barney Spinella Recreations of Brooklyn topped the score on the opening team shift of the American Bowling congress tournament tonight when they totaled 2,683 on games of 837, 974 and 872. The easterners were paced by their backer, Barney Spinella, considered one of the five leading bowlers in the country. Spinella rolled 597, despite two errors.

After starting with 183 Barney tumbled 210 pins as his second effort and in the windup he found the pocket for 204. Spinella's creditable showing in the team event will give him a fair start in his bid for a third A. B. C. all-events championship.

Bill Totten, a member of Spinella's team, picked up the seemingly impossible 4-6 split in the second frame of his first game.

Second Amateur Swim Meet to Be Held Saturday

The second of the series of swimming meets for the Cook County Amateur Athletic federation's championships will be held Saturday night at the Turnverein Lincoln pool. Miss M. Meany of the Victorian Athletic club and Genevieve Abrams, J. P. I., will race for the 100 yard free style title.

Eight Prep Fives Launch Drive for State Title Today

Champaign, Ill., March 23.—[Special.]—Survivors of a field of 811 teams which competed in the Illinois State High School association district tournament, eight sectional championship basketball teams will play the opening round of the state finals in the University of Illinois gymnasium tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Tomorrow's pairings follow:

3 p. m.—Canton vs. Springfield.
4 p. m.—Lawrenceville vs. Rantoul.
7:30 p. m.—Benton vs. Kewanee.
8:30 p. m.—Hillsboro vs. Morton [Cicero].

The winners of the Canton-Springfield and Lawrenceville-Rantoul games will open the second round Friday evening, followed by the winners of the Benton-Kewanee and Hillsboro-Morton games.

There should be color in the opening game between Canton and Springfield. Mark Peterman for years coached Canton, which won the 1928 championship after five previous appearances in the finals. Peterman deserted Canton for Springfield and last year his new team was eliminated in the sectionals by one point. Archie Chadd, Peterman's successor, has developed a strong team.

SIX RECORDS WILL BE AT STAKE AT KANSAS RELAYS

Lawrence, Kas., March 23.—[Special.]—When university, college and junior college track athletes get off their marks at the tenth annual Kansas relays in the University of Kansas Memorial stadium here the afternoon of April 23 six intercollegiate relay racing records will be endangered. Of these six national records three were set at the Kansas relays of 1931.

Of the six relay distances included on the Kansas relays program for April 23 here are the intercollegiate records:

440 YARDS [:41.1]—University of Kansas at Kansas relays, April 18, 1931.
880 YARDS [1:26.5]—University of Kansas at Kansas relays, April 18, 1931.
1 MILE [3:14.3]—Stanford university at Stanford vs. Southern California, May 2, 1931.
2 MILES [7:42]—Georgetown university at Penn relays, April 25, 1925.
4 MILES [17:37.8]—University of Illinois at Kansas relays, April 18, 1931.
DISTANCE MEDLEY [10:20]—Yale university at Penn relays, April 23, 1915.

Of the six collegiate records four were made in 1931. The longest standing record, that of Yale in the distance medley set at the Penn relays in 1915, may receive a serious challenge by Indiana at the Kansas relays next month as Coach E. C. Hayes has indicated he will enter a team in that race. Indiana will be anchored by Henry Brocksmith, miler who set a new Big Ten conference indoor mile record this spring, 4:12.5.

GIVES CHESS EXHIBITION.

The regular Thursday evening simultaneous chess exhibition will be given tonight by Herman Hahlbohm, former western champion and present leader in the city championship tournament at the Chicago Chess and Bridge club, 25 South Dearborn street.

Let's See—Is It Battalino's Night to Win?

say there was any public indignation. The public does not seem to resent such matters either in prize fighting or in politics.

Down with Sharp Practices!

Now Battalino is reinstated, eligible to fight in all well regulated jurisdictions, but it need not be thought that the authorities look too lightly upon offenses against the sporting code, for the National Boxing association only yesterday sent out from Cincinnati a ringing proclamation to the effect that dishonest practices must go. The N. B. A. has adopted a resolution to this effect, so it will be seen that henceforth there will be very little likelihood of unscrupulous behavior in the ring.

In reinstating Battalino for the the present series of lightweight bouts the New York commissioners told him he would have to sever his relationship with Mr. Reilly, whom they deemed to be bad company for a growing, impressionable boy of 24. Mr. Reilly therefore will not be allowed to hold the bucket and sponge for him tomorrow night. He will only be allowed to sit with him in the dressing room until ring time.

RIDING CLUB IS PICKED TO WIN IN POLO FINALS

Capt. Maxwell Corpening, ranking polo player of the middle west, is expected to lead the Chicago Riding club's team to victory over the North Shore Polo and Hunt club squad Saturday night in the finals of the Metropolitan Indoor Polo league's tournament at the 124th field artillery armory, 52d street and Cottage Grove avenue.

Victory for either team will give it the right to represent the Metropolitan league in the class B division of the world's championship matches to be held in New York in April. The 124th field artillery squad qualified in the class C division last Saturday by defeating the 6th corps area squad, 6 to 5, in an overtime match.

Capt. Corpening's squad is rated a favorite over the North Shore squad because of his own superior riding ability and accuracy. He is rated a six goal player by the National Polo association's handicapping committee.

Olympia Fields and the Culver alumni squads will meet in the first match of the evening between the low goal squads.

VEENKER SAYS HE HAS NOTHING TO SAY ON BADGERS

So New Football Coach Remains in Dark.

Davenport, Ia., March 23.—[Special.]—"I have nothing to say about the Wisconsin situation," George Veenker, head coach at Iowa State college, said here today after President Glenn Franks had issued a statement that Veenker had not been selected as football coach at Wisconsin.

"I have been out of touch with the situation for the last few days," Veenker said, "since I have been traveling in Iowa and Illinois addressing members of the Iowa State alumni on the occasion of the 74th anniversary of the school's founding."

Veenker also intimated that he had received no word from the Wisconsin authorities since his visit to Madison last week. And since President Frank issued such a statement, he thought his name would be dropped from the candidate list.

Veenker will start spring football practice at Ames tomorrow.

SPEARS AFFIRMS STAND.

Eugene, Ore., March 23.—[Special.]—Dr. Clarence W. Spears, University of Oregon football coach, who recently rejected an offer to coach at the University of Wisconsin, said today that several friends in Wisconsin have asked him to reconsider the announcement that he will remain as coach here.

Dr. Spears, who left here today on a fishing trip, is reported to have told Badger officials again last Tuesday that he does not intend to leave the University of Oregon.

MRS. HILL'S 81 LEADS MID-SOUTH GOLF TOURNEY

Southern Pines, N. C., March 23.—(AP)—Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City, toured the wind swept Southern Pines Country club course in 81 today to take a two stroke lead in the battle for the mid-south golf championship. The western champion went out in 41, despite a bad 7 on the second hole, where she was trapped, and then she whipped the cross winds on the inward nine for a 40.

Berniece Wall, Oshkosh, Wis., was in second place with 83. Her 38 on the second nine was the best nine hole score of the day, but she needed a 45 going out.

The remainder of the field was strung out well behind the two leaders. The final 18 holes will be played tomorrow.

Katherine Braggaw of West Orange, N. J., was in third place with 43—45—88. Mrs. Tom Wallace of Tulsa, Okla., had 99, and Mrs. E. B. Morrow of Baltimore, 91.

IOWA STATE IS SPORTS LEADER IN BIG 6 LOOP

Ames, Ia., March 23.—[Special.]—Iowa State athletic teams, with two firsts, one second, a tie for second, and two fifths in individual sports, lead the Big Six conference all-sports rating to date this year.

The two championships were won by the two mile team which was undefeated in five conference races last fall, and the swimming team which this year scored its third victory in the last four Big Six meets.

The football team, coached by George Veenker, lost only to Nebraska in the Big Six conference. The Iowa State wrestlers share second honors in conference ratings with Kansas State, while the basketball and the indoor track teams accounted for the fifth places.

500,000 ILLINOIS MOTORISTS FAIL TO GET LICENSES

$5,000,000 Fees Overdue; Few Arrests.

BY HAL FOUST.

Approximately a half million Illinois automobiles are being operated without 1932 license plates. The motor vehicle law specifies that the registration fee for the new year shall be paid by Jan. 1, nearly twelve weeks ago. The delinquent fees total more than $5,000,000.

At the office of Secretary of State Stratton yesterday, 840,925 passenger cars and 113,956 trucks had been registered to date. In 1931, taxes were paid on 1,411,261 passenger cars and 207,896 trucks. On March 23, 1931, the figures had reached 990,221 passenger cars and 137,449 trucks.

Few Arrests Made.

Few arrests have been made in Illinois for failure to display 1932 plates. No drive against the 1931 plates is expected until after the primary election on April 12. Indiana state police are impounding automobiles until the licenses are paid. Several Illinois cars were seized last week-end.

"We're doing the same as Indiana is doing," said A. R. Millard of Secretary Stratton's office. "The Illinois police are impounding Indiana cars found without 1932 licenses. We have notified all states that they are at liberty to arrest Illinois cars with 1931 plates and we are holding foreign cars with last year's plates."

In ten minutes on the Michigan avenue bridge yesterday morning fifty-seven automobiles with 1931 plates were counted. Thirteen were without any license plates. The drivers seemed as unconscious of any law violation as a man drinking a highball in his home.

All Models and Sizes.

The unlicensed cars included expensive limousines and roadsters. Antiquated and unkempt models, weather stained from all night outdoor parking, carried their portion of the 1932 plates. The presence or absence of this year's license numbers seemingly was no indication of the owners' ability to pay.

The 1931 plates crossed the bridge faster than a reporter could note the numbers. A list of the numbers jotted down in ten minutes follows, with the names of the persons to whom the licenses were issued:

1-902-842—A. C. Price, 4915 North Seeley avenue.
645-026—Martin F. Stenson, Morton Grove.
1-146-372—S. R. Claggett, 911 Eastwood avenue.
1-342-233—Kurt J. Salomon, 7533 Cornell avenue.
645-936—Virginia B. Stagg, 218 Vine avenue, Park Ridge.
1-179-463—Dave Edell, 920 Wilson avenue.
624-602—Sol Swirs, 1347 Independence boulevard.

The purpose of the state license is twofold. The numbers are for identification. The revenue used to pay interest and principal on the $160,000,000 road bond issues. A surplus revenue is used for maintenance.

The passenger car license fee ranges from $8 to $25, depending upon the horsepower of the engine. It is a tax for using the highways. While many thousands are delinquent in payment of this tax, hundreds of Illinois residents are reported to be evading the excise by purchasing their plates in some other state where the fee is lower. By this means, some Chicagoans escape the city wheel tax, but a more common practice of dodging the municipal excise is to purchase a cheap village tag from some suburb.

STUDENTS TOLD BY KENTUCKY TO BEHAVE ON VISIT

Lucky if They Escape Jail, Group Warned.

New York, March 23.—(AP)—Warned at a massmeeting to beware of "Kentucky chivalry," forty New York students, including twelve women, climbed into buses today and set out for a visit to the coal strike districts of eastern Kentucky to do "sociological research."

A request for police protection telegraphed ahead to County Attorney Walter B. Smith at Pineville, Ky., brought reply that his "advice to these rattle brained college students is for them to stay out of eastern Kentucky."

Allen Taub, counsel for the international labor defense, addressing the massmeeting on the Columbia university campus, warned the group to beware of "Kentucky chivalry" and reminded them that Waldo Frank, writer, was beaten and ejected from the state.

"Lucky If They Escape Jail."

Forest Bailey, counsel for the Civil Liberties union, told them they "would be lucky if they stayed out of jail." Joseph Lawson, Kentucky miner, accused mine operators of "starving miners to death and killing their children."

Students from Columbia university, the College of the City of New York, New York university, Hunter college, Union Theological seminary and Sarah Lawrence college comprised the group. They are to be joined at Knoxville, Tenn., Friday by about 75 students from other colleges.

The national college committee of the National Student league arranged the excursion. Donald J. Henderson, president and instructor in economics at Columbia, explained the purpose is purely sociological research.

Warned to Behave.

Pineville, Ky., March 23.—(AP)—Warning that no communistic activities and no incendiary speeches will be tolerated during the visit of students to the southeastern Kentucky coal fields was issued by city and county officials here today.

The visiting students will be "accorded the freedom of the county," Walter B. Smith, county attorney, said today, "but the moment they identify themselves with the 'Red' movement, they will be filed with other exhibits we have in jail here. We will not tolerate any communistic activities in Bell county."

JOSEPH LEITER ILL AT WINTER HOME IN SOUTH

Joseph Leiter, Chicago capitalist, is ill at his winter home in New Orleans, friends here were advised last night.

The nature of his ailment was not described, but it was stated that Mr. Leiter went under the care of physicians several weeks ago. However, it is not believed that his condition is immediately alarming.

Mr. Leiter, it is understood, expects to start for Chicago with Mrs. Leiter tomorrow. The capitalist has spent the entire winter at his New Orleans home, and at his shooting lodge on Pilot island, at the mouth of the Mississippi river. He attended the races last Saturday and watched his horse, Prince Hot Spur, run third in the Louisiana Derby.

Douglas St. G. Huntington, Former Chicagoan, Dies

Douglas St. George Huntington, formerly of Chicago, died Tuesday at Versailles, France, after a long illness, according to cable messages received by friends here last night. He was a son of the late Maj. Henry Alonzo Huntington, former literary editor of THE TRIBUNE, and known to an older generation of Chicagoans. Mr. Douglas Huntington in 1927 married Mlle. Marie de la Londe, daughter of the Comtesse Henry de la Londe of Versailles. Mr. Huntington will be buried at Versailles.

DANISH REDS TRY TO STIR UP RIOT IN PARLIAMENT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

COPENHAGEN, March 23.—Communists demanding relief for the unemployed caused a near riot today in the folketing [Danish parliament]. From the public gallery they showered cards, issued to the unemployed enabling them to purchase foodstuffs at 10 per cent rebate, to the floor of the house. The communists resented the rebate as an "insult to the unemployed." Five communists were arrested and others were ejected. This evening rioters attempted to stage a demonstration at the city hall. They were dispersed by police.

Engineer Asks Divorce; Charges Poison Threat

Reginald van Norden, 30 years old, 6018 Winthrop avenue, an electrical engineer, said to be the son of Dr. Reginald van Norden, bone specialist now lecturing in Vienna, Austria, yesterday filed suit for divorce from Mrs. Dolly van Norden in the Superior court. The bill charged cruelty and alleged that on the day of the separation two weeks ago Mrs. van Norden threatened to poison her husband. The bill was drawn by Attorney S. C. Rinella.

2 STUDENTS KILLED AND 3 OTHERS HURT WHEN AUTOS COLLIDE

Easton, Pa., March 23.—[Special.]—Two Princeton university students were killed and three others severely injured in a head-on collision between two automobiles on the Freemansburg-Easton highway near here this afternoon.

The dead students were William H. Zink Jr. of Steubenville, O., and Francis H. Trimble of Benavon, Pa. Both were sophomore men.

Those injured were E. Bruce Hill of Pittsburgh, who suffered a broken back; N. V. Coyle of Pittsburgh, injured internally, and Burton Dunn, who escaped with minor hurts. Dunn was the driver of the car in which the other students were riding.

All five of the Princeton men were on their way home for an Easter vacation. Dunn told the police that the driver of the other car, Russell Saylor of Easton, was traveling on the left hand side of the road. Saylor, who escaped injury, insisted, on the other hand, that the student car was on his side of the highway and that he was unable to get out of its way.

Both Dunn and Saylor were detained pending further inquiry into the accident.

CUBA MOBILIZES POLICE TO BREAK GENERAL STRIKE

[Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.]

HAVANA, March 23.—Reserve police will be held in stations beginning tonight at midnight as one of the measures taken by the authorities to prevent a general strike and public disorder said to be scheduled for tomorrow by labor organizations here.

The police have been making wholesale arrests during the last few days and have rounded up all labor chiefs of organizations known to have communistic tendencies. Many proclamations calling on labor unions to stage a general strike in protest against continued suspension of constitutional guarantees on the island and alleged mistreatment of labor and also to support 15,000 tobacco workers now out on a wage strike were seized by the police in various union headquarters. Many arrests were made.

The authorities state that they are of the opinion that the leaders of the movement have been rounded up and are now in prison, and that the scheduled disorders will not take place.

HARRY T. WATTS, IOWA NEWSPAPER EXECUTIVE, DEAD

Des Moines, Ia., March 24.—(AP)—Funeral arrangements were being completed today for Harry T. Watts, business manager of the Register and Tribune and an employé of the newspapers since 1905, who died late yesterday from a cerebral hemorrhage.

He was stricken early Wednesday morning while dressing. Watts was vice president of the Major Market Newspapers, Inc., and was active in national advertising and newspaper associations.

He was born in Audubon, Ia., Jan. 21, 1886, and attended the University of Chicago, where he was graduated in 1905. Surviving are his widow, Annetta E. Watts, five children, and a brother, Charles E. Watts of Pocahontas, Ia.

Henry R. Hall, U. S. Trade Chief in Mexico, Falls Dead

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, March 23.—Henry R. Hall, president of the American Chamber of Commerce here, fell dead today at the American hospital. He had gone to the hospital to visit a friend and while there suffered a heart attack. Hall was born at Manchester, Mo., in 1860 and came to Mexico in 1904. Two months ago he celebrated his golden wedding anniversary.

Lady Crittall Dies of Burns; Wife of Ex-House Member

LONDON, March 23.—(AP)—Lady Crittall, the wife of Sir Valentine Crittall, former Labor member of the house of commons, died today of burns received in a fire in the laundry room of her home in Essex. She was washing the clothing of the household when there was an explosion which blew out the windows and enveloped her in flames.

Gun Toting Charge Against Sam Hunt Is Continued

The new gun toting charge against Sam Hunt, Capone gangster, who was arrested on the south side Tuesday with a revolver in his pocket, was continued to April 6 by Judge Jay Schiller in the South State street court yesterday. Meanwhile the gun will be examined by ballistic experts. Hunt is appealing a conviction for defacing numbers on a gun. His brother, Joseph, who was arrested with him, will also appear on April 6 on a charge of disorderly conduct.

STRIKE SPREADS IN OHIO FIELDS; SNIPER AT WORK

Guard's Machine Gun in Action.

Athens, O., March 23.—[Special.]—Machine guns spoke in the newest flareup in the southern Ohio miners' strike in protest of further wage cuts today, when an Ohio National Guardsman returned the fire of a sniper while guarding the entrance of the Lick Run mine of the Manhattan Coal company, near Nelsonville, in the Hocking Valley. More miners walked out today as the strike spread to the eastern part of the state.

The shots of the sniper went wild, but the guardsman returned the fire with more than 40 rounds from a submachine gun. Apparently no one was injured.

The mine, encircled by heavily wooded hills and in a remote region of the mine district, has been under guard, although there has been no picketing.

Strike Spreads East.

The strike spread today to the bituminous region of eastern Ohio, where more than 1,000 more miners walked out. Miners already on strike included 950 men of the Dillonvale Mine No. 1 and the Pine Fork Mines No. 1 and No. 2 of the Hanna Coal company, while 150 men struck at the Eastern mine of the Ohio-Pennsylvania Coal company, near Bergholz. A thousand more men employed at the Unionville mine of the same company were prepared to walk out.

In the meantime Adjt. Gen. Frank D. Henderson and Capt. Fred L. Smith, state director of aeronautics, took off from Port Columbus during the afternoon for Athens to locate an emergency landing field near the mines to be used by the state air force in the event of martial law being declared.

Automobile Is Blown Up.

Scranton, Pa., March 23.—[Special.]—Violence again marked the outlaw strike of 25,000 anthracite miners today, despite efforts of state, county, and city police authorities to curb it.

Insurgents were blamed by police for bombing an automobile at Dickson City. The automobile of Florian Kurchera, a miner, was blown to pieces a few minutes before he came out of his home to go to work. Windows in a number of nearby homes were broken.

Scranton police arrested twenty-five pickets when they refused to remain away from the Baker colliery of the Glen Alden Coal company, which is operating here.

Meeting Broken Up.

At Wilkesbarre, Pa., this afternoon, followers of Thomas Maloney, leader of the rebel strikers, broke up a meeting which was being addressed by David Fowler, international organizer of the miners' union, who recently returned from the fields of the west.

Certain members of the Stanton colliery local union, of which Maloney is a member, called the session in an effort to have seven hundred miners employed at the colliery return to work.

Woman Dies of Injury from Fall Due to Hunger

Ella O'Brien, 41 years old, died early this morning at the Chicago hospital of injuries suffered Tuesday night when she fell on the rear porch of Miss Mary L. Griffin, 5300 Hyde Park boulevard. The woman, who sold pins and other articles for a living, had just been fed by Miss Griffin. Nothing beyond her name is known for identification purposes. She wore two black coats, one trimmed with fur, a flowered velvet dress, and a brown felt hat. She was about 5 feet 4 inches tall and weighed 160 pounds.

Explosive Expert Dies of Suffocation in Mine

Auburn, Ill., March 23.—(AP)—Frank Reaber, an explosive expert, suffocated tonight while working alone in a remote section of the coal mine where he was employed. Rescuers worked for several hours to recover his body, part of a passageway having caved in. Investigators said they believed the accident was caused by Reaber's error in exploding a blast of dynamite.

VOTE TRUE BILL AGAINST WOMAN IN BANK FRAUD

The grand jury was reported yesterday to have voted a true bill charging Mrs. Agnes Steen, former manager of checking accounts and bookkeeper at the Parkway State bank, 1950 North Clark street, with the embezzlement of $30,000 from the bank. An indictment will be returned today, it was reported.

Albert C. Svoboda, cashier of the bank, testified before the grand jury against Mrs. Steen. He informed the jurors that she had confessed to him and other bank officials that she had transferred money to her account in another bank and covered up her peculations through her management of checking accounts in the Parkway State. The grand jury was not given a copy of the confession.

Mrs. Steen's whereabouts during the day remained a mystery. She was not found at her home, 3625 North Keeler avenue. At the state's attorney's office it was reported that she was under surveillance by the American Surety company, which will indemnify the bank against loss through the embezzlements.

This was denied by J. T. Malia, an official of the surety company, who said he understood that the state's attorney's office was watching Mrs. Steen. He added that no civil suit for recovery of the money would be instituted against Mrs. Steen, since he felt that she would turn over whatever property she possesses to make restitution.

HEALTH BOARD INCREASED TO FIVE MEMBERS

The city council yesterday passed an ordinance introduced by Ald. James B. Bowler [25th] increasing the number of members of the board of health from three to five. Ald. Bowler explained that the increased membership was made necessary by the state law which requires that one member of the board must also be a director of the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium.

Mayor Cermak, as soon as the ordinance was passed, submitted to the council the appointment of Frank Brobrytzke, 639 Deming place, one of the sanitarium directors, to the board of health. It was approved. Members of the board, except President Bundesen, serve without pay.

7,000 New Schools Built Under Spanish Republic

MADRID, March 23.—(AP)—Fernando de Los Rios, minister of education, told the national assembly today that Spain's educational system had been greatly modernized and expanded under the republic. He said 7,000 schools have been built since the establishment of the republic last April, as compared to the monarchy's average of 500 annually.

Oakland, Cal., March 23.—(AP)—Winfield Hale, 48, wealthy aerial sportsman who was found dead beside the wreckage of his airplane in Ecuador, was making a 15,000 mile solo flight through Central and South America. He left here last January, traveling by easy stages across Mexico and Central America to the Canal Zone. He was forced down in Nicaragua a few days ago and repaired the plane himself. He held a private license.

DANZIG LINKED TO POLAND FOREVER, NEW CHIEF SAYS

[Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.]

WARSAW, March 23.—"Danzig is the port of Poland and is permanently connected with the Polish republic," Dr. Casimir Pappee, the new Polish high commissioner of Danzig, declared on taking office today.

"Danzig's union with Poland is not temporary and it cannot be given up by one party. Danzig can only exist and grow as a Polish port. The free city was created to serve that purpose and must be governed so as to fulfill the obligations imposed upon it by the treaty of Versailles.

"Polish-Danzig relations are far from satisfactory. They present a picture of a chaotic maze of complaint, dispute, and litigation that obscures the true meanings of these relations."

The new high commissioner appealed to Danzig's common sense and good will for loyal coöperation.

NICARAGUA TOLD IT MAY HAVE TO BOSS ELECTION

U. S. Against Plan to Limit Vote.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson notified the Nicaraguan government today that the United States cannot supervise the elections in Nicaragua this coming November if they provide only for the election of a constituent assembly to reform the constitution and the election of a president.

In event the regular election for the naming of a president, vice president, one-half the membership of the chamber of deputies and one-third of the senate is held as now scheduled this government will lend its supervisory assistance, Mr. Stimson said.

The position taken by the United States is that the cause of peace and domestic stability will be forwarded in Nicaragua if that government drops the constituent assembly idea for the present and goes ahead with its regular election. In event the state department advice is disregarded, it is probable, it was said, that American marines would withdraw before the end of this year, inasmuch as their presence would not be needed there if this country declines to supervise the election. The present plan is to remove all marines by the end of the year.

"It was further pointed out," the state department said, referring to Mr. Stimson's note, "that a situation might be created through the election of a constituent assembly and the dissolution of the regular congress which would jeopardize the induction into office on Jan. 1, 1933, and the constitutional authority of the president elected at the same time.

"No way has been indicated as to how this difficulty—which frankly appears insurmountable—can be overcome. Moreover, it appears to be somewhat doubtful whether in view of the pertinent provisions of the Nicaraguan constitution a constituent assembly could legally be chosen during the present year.

"The secretary of state is therefore confirmed in his view of the unwisdom of considering such action at this time. The United States is not prepared to supervise the election of a constituent assembly."

PULLMAN IS HIT BY SHRINKAGE IN RAIL TRAFFIC

1931 Report Shows $2,378,632 Profit.

Leading commodity and securities exchanges, including the New York and Chicago stock exchanges and the Chicago Board of Trade, will be closed tomorrow in observance of Good Friday. The Chicago live stock market will remain open. Banks also will be open. The major exchanges will reopen Saturday.

BY O. A. MATHER.

With American railroads last year buying the least equipment in thirty years and with passenger traffic sharply reduced by the general depression, Pullman, Inc., which has both manufacturing and sleeping car divisions, had one of the leanest years in its history.

The steam railroads bought only 4,909 freight cars and 6 passenger cars from the commercial car building shops, according to the annual report issued by David A. Crawford, president of Pullman, whereas their average annual purchases in the last ten years have been 76,839 freight and 626 passenger cars. As a result the manufacturing division of the company incurred a deficit of $3,025,410 in 1931, compared with net profit of $10,046,109 in 1930.

Passengers Carried Drop.

Moreover, total passengers carried by the carrier division declined to 22,934,921, and the average loading per car dropped to 9.65 passengers, which was the lowest average in thirty years. This shrinkage, Mr. Crawford says, appears to reflect lowered per capita mileage in the class of business and tourist travel that uses Pullman cars, rather than any large scale change in travel habit. The carrier division produced net earnings of only $3,263,619, compared with $5,691,077 in 1930. Finally, investments yielded only $2,526,522, compared with $3,324,424.

The result of all operations was that Pullman, Inc., last year earned $2,378,632, equivalent to 61 cents a share on 3,875,000 capital shares. However, dividends of $3.75 a share were paid, with the result that the company was forced to draw on surplus to the extent of $12,149,865. Net earnings for 1930 were $16,943,081, equivalent to $4.37 a share. In addition to paying dividends partly out of surplus last year, the company appropriated $5,000,000 to write down its holdings of government and marketable securities, including investment in its own stock, which was purchased in the latter part of 1929 and in 1930 for offering to employés.

Aids to Business.

Various means to make Pullman travel more popular are described in the report. These include experiments on devices to air condition cars.

"In coöperation with the railroads, 104 week-end excursions in Pullman cars were operated at reduced rates during 1931, affording usage for cars that otherwise would have remained idle and contributing to the comfort and popularity of such excursions by rail," the report says. "It is noteworthy that in these excursions an average loading of 29.5 passengers per car was attained, compared with an average loading of less than 10 passengers per car in regular service. Further extension of the principle of coöperation with the railroads in offering fare attraction to create rail travel is planned for 1932.

Use Is Doubled.

"In the face of an unparalleled decline in passenger travel, the sale of single occupancy sections in 1931 almost doubled the number of such transactions in the previous year and added nearly $1,000,000 to gross revenue."

Mr. Crawford says that reductions in wages and salaries will effect a savings of approximately $2,800,000 in labor cost this year on the basis of the 1931 scale of employment. The financial statement of the company shows it to be in strong position. At the end of 1931 current assets were $32,393,850, current liabilities were $14,058,044, and surplus was $112,565,684. Total assets and liabilities were $334,230,589.

PENNROAD EARNINGS

Philadelphia, Pa., March 23.—(AP)—The annual report for 1931 of the Pennroad corporation which will be submitted to the annual meeting of stockholders at Wilmington, Del., tomorrow, shows the net income for the year and credited to earned surplus was $4,495,046, an increase of $26,281 compared with 1930. The increase, the report says, was accomplished by a decrease in expenses, particularly taxes and general expenses. Pennroad is affiliated with the Pennsylvania Railroad company interests. The report states that the prospects for 1932 indicate that the returns on investments will be lower than in 1931. The earned surplus at the end of 1931 stood at $8,266,213.

Strawn Back; Says British Conditions Are Better Now

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 23.—Silas H. Strawn of Chicago, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and chairman of the American committee of the international chamber, returned from Europe today on the S. S. Bremen.

Mr. Strawn said conditions in France and England were better, and particularly in England, where conditions generally seem to be on the upgrade. As to the meeting of the council of the international chamber in Paris, he said:

"At no previous meeting of the council in my experience have I seen the members of that body so willing to meet the realities."

Faster Trains Called Reply to Motor Transit

BY SCRUTATOR.

When railroad schedules are altered with the change from standard to daylight saving time both the Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee and the Chicago South Shore and South Bend railroads will clip a few more precious minutes here and there from the running time for various trains.

Those two roads and their sister to the west, the Chicago Aurora and Elgin railroad [Sunset line] for six years have been racing each other for first honors in speed among all electric interurban railroads in the country. No other interurban line in the country has been able to touch them for several years.

Speeds Fastest Trains.

The Sunset Line hasn't waited for the change to daylight saving to put into operation its latest economy in time. This month it has speeded up two of its fastest trains, so that they now consume only 57 minutes between Aurora and the Wells street terminal in Chicago, a distance of 39.4 miles.

The new "Cannon Ball Limited" leaves Aurora at 8 in the morning and arrives at the terminal at 8:57. After leaving Wheaton at 8:17 no stop is made until the train reaches Laflin street. The "Chicago Loop Flyer" leaves Aurora at 9 o'clock, Wheaton at 9:17 and reaches the Chicago terminal at 9:57. In the evening a new fast train leaves the terminal at 4:55, stops at Wheaton at 5:34 and arrives in Aurora at 5:54.

The story of the development of these three interurban electric lines has been the story of gradually increasing speed. Today South Shore Line trains run from Chicago to South Bend in an hour and fifty-three minutes. Seven years ago three hours was required for the same run. In about the same period the average speed of all trains on the North Shore line has been improved about 30 per cent.

Part of Business Getting.

Charles H. Jones, general manager of the South Shore Line, expresses the opinion held by other leading electric railroad executives in this area when he says that in order to get passenger business in the future a railroad will have to offer speed, comfort, and convenience. In these three things he sees the only hope of railroads successfully competing with passenger automobiles.

"I think we have experienced the worst that the automobile can do to us in the congested metropolitan districts," says Mr. Jones. "But here, as well as elsewhere, we have got to remember that we must offer something that the individual cannot get in an automobile.

"Our efforts in the future will be in the direction of greater speed. The railroad, with its exclusive right of way, must capitalize on its ability to go faster than the automobile that is retarded by traffic congestion.

"There is a practical limit to speed, but railroads have not yet approached it. I see no reason why equipment and right of way cannot produce maximum running speeds of from 90 to 100 miles per hour with safety and comfort. Allowing for stops, that should enable trains to average more than sixty miles per hour."

For Lighter Equipment.

The natural development of the passenger train, in Mr. Jones' opinion, is toward lighter equipment, propelled by electricity and altered in design to reduce wind resistance.

Cars will be built largely of aluminum alloys to reduce weight and facilitate stopping and starting. Electrification will give greater pickup, faster acceleration and make possible smaller train units.

H. M. Lytle, vice president of the North Shore Line, also predicts that passenger trains of the future will be lighter and speedier. He points out that the North Shore Line's fastest trains now average 65.3 miles per hour in the open country and consume only an hour and forty minutes between Chicago and Milwaukee.

NET EARNINGS OF CUNEO PRESS $891,486 FOR YEAR

Cuneo Press, Inc., yesterday reported net earnings of $891,486, after all charges, equivalent to $4.80 a share on the 170,700 shares of common stock outstanding after provision for preferred dividends. This compares with $1,347,212 net profit in 1930, which was equivalent to $6.96 a share on common.

Depreciation charges were increased to $951,415, compared with $832,530 in 1930, while nonoperating revenue showed a decline of $308,807. The Dec. 31 balance sheet shows current assets of $3,094,329, including cash and marketable securities of $760,728, against current liabilities of $1,150,332. The current ratio of 2.69 to 1 compares with 2.27 to 1 at the close of 1930.

John F. Cuneo, president, said in his report that from all indication the present $2.50 annual dividend rate on the common stock should continue throughout the current year. The company is establishing a new plant in Philadelphia, which should be in full operation by May 1, he added.

Four Railroads Report Feb. Operating Results

New York, March 23.—(AP)—February net operating income of roads reporting today with 1931 comparisons included:

	1932.	1931.
Lackawanna	$ 479,236	$ 411,655
St L San Fran	1,133,286	244,595
Western Pacific	174,183	124,505
N Y Ont & W	152,655	84,735

Estimates by officials of the Baltimore and Ohio indicate that net earnings in February, April and May will be considerably ahead of a year ago.

American Smelting Cuts Refined Lead Price Again

New York, March 23.—(AP)—Another reduction in the price of refined lead was announced today, American Smelting Refining company naming 3 cents a pound, a reduction of 15 points and a new low price. With this revision lead is off ¼ cent a pound from its recent level.

PANAMA SHIPS WIN AGAINST S. P. RAILWAY

I. C. C. Ruling Hits Inland Cities.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—Hope of the transcontinental railroads that the interstate commerce commission would grant the application of the Southern Pacific lines for authority to meet intercoastal shipping competition via the Panama canal, thus paving the way for other railroads to obtain similar relief, was blasted today. The commission announced denial of the application.

The interstate commerce act forbids the charging of a lower rate for a longer than for a shorter haul over the same route and in the same direction, but authorizes the commission to permit so-called violations by specific orders.

Would Meet Ship Competition.

The transcontinental rail lines have unsuccessfully sought permission from the commission since 1920 to meet water line competition via the Panama canal by reducing their rates to Pacific coast terminal points, but not to intermediate points.

Advocates of such permission, both railroads and shippers, have charged that refusal of the commission to grant the applications of the railroads has had the effect of bottling up the middle west. Thus, it is charged, all of the benefits of the Panama canal, which they assert was built at the expense of the entire public, go to the eastern and western coastal regions.

The Southern Pacific lines operate a water-rail-water service between north Atlantic ports at New York and Baltimore via Galveston or Houston, Tex., to the Pacific coast, the water movement being between the Atlantic and gulf ports. The Southern Pacific lines sought authority to meet the competition of the Panama canal intercoastal steamship lines by establishing rates about 10 per cent higher than the all-water rates which would make the rail and water rates substantially lower than the present rates.

No shippers or receivers on the Atlantic or Pacific coast appeared in support of the application, while Lower California coast interests favoring the shipping lines and intermountain points to which rates would not be reduced, opposed the applications.

Lower than Present Rates.

"In many cases," said the commission, "the rates proposed by the applicants herein are substantially lower than the rates maintained at the present time and considerably less than the rates from and to intermediate points."

The commission was not persuaded, it said, that the rates proposed by the Southern Pacific would be reasonably compensatory, as required by the law. Compensatory rates, in the opinion of the commission, would be so high that they would not attract any substantial volume of business from the Panama canal lines.

In a concurring opinion Commissioner E. I. Lewis of Indiana said the case served the very good purpose of emphasizing the commission's recommendations to congress last December; that congress look into the question of regulating the rates of the water lines operating through the Panama canal and also ascertain whether air, water, and motor carriers were in effect being subsidized by the government.

The Sunset-Gulf route of the Southern Pacific, declared Commissioner C. D. Mahaffie of Washington, D. C., hast lost to the canal lines practically all the transcontinental traffic it formerly handled. He dissented, favoring grant of the applications.

To Join Southern Pacific.

Washington, D. C., March 23.—(AP)—The St. Louis Southwestern railway next month will definitely become a part of the Southern Pacific company, with the consent of the interstate commerce commission.

The order permitting the acquisition of the road, known as the Cotton Belt, April 13, was issued today by the commission after the Southern Pacific had accepted the terms and conditions on which it had previously been tentatively given authority to control that southern carrier. The order was voted on March 14, however, and provided that the acquisition should take place at the end of 30 days.

By acquiring the Cotton Belt the Southern Pacific will have entrance into every major Mississippi river port north of Vicksburg except St. Paul, but including St. Louis and Memphis.

Cites Railroads' Losses.

New York, March 23.—(AP)—If the railways can recoup half of the traffic lost since 1929, they will be able, in view of operating economies effected in the last two years, to earn more than they did in the palmy days of 1929, according to an estimate prepared by W. W. Colpitts, railway expert.

Mr. Colpitts, who presented his estimates in an address before a meeting of the Security Owners' association here tonight said, furthermore, that it was not too great a stretch of the imagination to assume that railway traffic would return half way back to the 1929 volume "before very long." The speaker is a member of the engineering firm of Coverdale & Colpitts.

With half the lost traffic restored, Mr. Colpitts estimated that the country's railroads could earn in a year aggregate net operating income of $1,311,000,000.

Approves Loan to Finish Work on French Steamship

PARIS, March 23.—(AP)—The finance committee of the chamber of deputies reserved itself today and approved the government measure for a 68,000,000 franc [roughly $2,720,000] loan to the French line. The money will be used partly to complete the new liner.

U. S. MAY CALL WORLD PARLEY ON SILVER VALUE

Baruch Urges It as Boost for Trade.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—Bernard M. Baruch of New York told the house committee on coinage, weights, and measures today he saw no reason why the United States should not take the initiative in calling an international conference on silver.

Following Mr. Baruch's testimony, the committee announced that it intends to seek opinions from economists of eight nations on the advisability of an international silver conference. Letters, it was stated, will be sent immediately to leading legislators, economists, and bankers in England, France, Canada, Germany, Mexico, India, China, and Sweden, as wel as to such American authorities as Owen D. Young of the General Electric company and Otto H. Kahn of Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

In his testimony today Mr. Baruch declared "it seems to me that cooperative action among the principal governments affected tending to the purchase and segregation of silver as a commodity would increase the market price of silver and thus—to the extent that oriental wealth is represented by silver—increase the buying power of that region."

"I believe," he said, "that anything we can do to retrace the steps of excessive deflation and restore the purchasing power of all countries is the right thing to do so long as it is absolutely insured against excessive inflation."

SHARES OF R. K. O. WILL BE REDUCED BY $9.95 A PIECE

New York, March 23.—Stockholders of the Radio-Keith-Or heum corporation at a special meeting held in Baltimore today voted to reduce the capital represented by issued shares of common stock without par value to $10. The former value was $19.94 a share. Joseph A. Bower, De Witt Millauser, and Frederick Strauss were elected directors. The board was reduced to nineteen members from twenty-three.

Stockholders of the F. G. Shattuck company today approved a reduction in the stated value of the capital stock to $15,152,000 from $19,975,000. The $4,850,000 surplus thus created will be used to write down good will to $1.

U. S. SEEKS LOAN OF $100,000,000 ON 90 DAY NOTES

Washington, D. C., March 23.—Ogden Mills, secretary of the treasury announced last night that up to 2:30 o'clock Monday [eastern standard time], the government will accept offers on $100,000,000 ninety-one day treasury bills, bearing no interest. The bills will be in denominations of $1,000, $10,000, $100,000 and $1,000,000, and each offer must be in multiples of $1,000. The offers are to be made at the federal reserve banks and not at the treasury department. The bills themselves and any profits made from their sale will be exempt from all taxation.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL REGISTERS STEADY EARNINGS EXPANSION

Steady expansion has occurred in the earnings of the Illinois Central railroad during each of the first three months this year, and net operating income in each month has run well ahead of the corresponding 1931 results despite a further shrinkage in gross.

A substantial upturn in coal traffic, combined with the favorable influence on costs of the 10 per cent wage cut, produced excellent comparable operating results for March, it is understood, net operating income for that period being estimated at about $1,200,000, against $583,000 for March, 1931.

February income figures of the company have not yet been issued, but it is estimated that net operating profit for last month was in the neighborhood of $900,000, a total below normal for the month but nevertheless comparing favorably with the lean net operating profit of $108,000 reported for the corresponding period of last year.

For the first quarter net operating income of the road is placed at approximately $2,700,000, against actual net operating profit of $1,096,000 reported for the corresponding period of last year.

CUBAN INTERESTS AGAIN BALK AT SUGAR PROPOSALS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, March 23.—Viriato Gutierrez, chairman of the national sugar stabilizing institute, today led alone an almost hopeless fight to persuade the majority of Cuban and American sugar manufacturers that the European and Peruvian proposals are advantageous and should be accepted. They include automatic curtailment of output, continuance of the Chadbourne plan and adhesion to the international pact.

The institute held a brief and stormy meeting this morning adjourning to let Gutierrez act independently. Late this afternoon he announced, "complete failure so far, even after stressing the fact that the institute's word is now pledged to reduce the output to 2,500,000 long tons should Europe and Peru accept that interpretation."

Representatives of over 75 per cent of the sugar interests told him, he said: "The interests represented are determined to make no further sacrifices, nor to consider the slightest reduction in output in supporting a plan which we have already expressed ourselves as considering extremely dangerous and harmful to Cuban interests."

Court Names Receivers for R. B. Clothing Co.

Cincinnati, O., March 23.—(AP)—Receivers were appointed today by Federal District Judge R. R. Nevin for the R. B. Clothing company, which operates retail stores in six states. The receivership petition alleged the clothing company has been forced to buy merchandise and materials on credit and had liabilities of $312,135 and assets of $621,832, exclusive of good will.

PICKS 55 CITIES TO FIGHT FOR BETTER TRADE

General Motors Will Attack Depression.

New York, March 23.—(AP)—Alfred P. Sloan Jr., president of the General Motors corporation, announced today that corporation will launch on April 2 a specially aggressive campaign to stimulate business.

The corporation will open exhibits simultaneously in 55 large cities throughout the country, having engaged the chief aduitorium available in each. The exhibits will continue through April 9 and will be accompanied by large-scale advertising campaigns. While the corporation declined to make public at this time the amount of expenditure planned, it is reported the program calls for some $1,500,000.

Won't Wait Any Longer.

"This program was conceived and has been developed as a direct and aggressive attack on existing psychology—the prevailing attitude of waiting for something to happen before anything is done," Mr. Sloan explained. "As long as this attitude of mind prevails, we are bound to go downward. When it changes we are bound to start upward. There are too many who can afford to buy who lack confidence or believe it to be the thing not to do. There are also too many who have in mind doing something constructive, but are waiting to do it some time later.

"To my mind the automotive industry as a whole has shown great aggressiveness and courage in investing tens of millions of dollars in new and progressive products, resulting in by far the greatest values ever offered and probably greater relative values than can be offered for many years to come.

Would Stimulate Trade.

"If this fact could only be appreciated and capitalized by those who are in a position to do so by purchasing, this industry—the greatest in the country, distributing its purchasing power throughout every state in the Union—would broadcast a wave of increased industrial activity which through its accumulative effect would exert a far-flung influence toward reaching the necessary objective.

"General Motors makes its contribution toward this objective in the form of these nation-wide exhibitions with the firm belief that a better appreciation of the above facts is bound to be a forward step in the direction that we must go."

BOOSTS AIR COOLING

The big General Motors subsidiary last year sold about 1,000 small air cooling plants and this year expects to increase this number to 10,000.

Mr. Newell outlined the program for the sale of his company's refrigerators which he is representing to his sales force. Gambling to some extent on the future, Mr. Newell explained, Frigidaire kept a force of 7,000 men employed at Dayton during the winter in place of the customary 3,000 or 4,000 to supply units for the expected increased sales.

Mr. Newell took over his present position a few months ago, being only 34 years of age. He started with the Frigidaire company eight years ago as a salesman in Boston.

Union of South Africa Faces $6,000,000 Deficit

CAPE TOWN, Union of South Africa, March 23.—(AP)—The Union of South Africa has an estimated budget deficit of £1,200,000 [$6,000,000 at par] for the current fiscal year, the finance minister reported today, introducing his budget in the assembly. With last year's deficit, the total will be £2,100,000 at the end of March, he said, and a further drop in revenue is expected for the 1932-'33 fiscal year. The finance minister asserted that the South African Reserve bank is entirely capable of maintaining the gold standard.

HALL PRINTING TO SHOW PROFIT OVER MILLION

The forthcoming report of W. F. Hall Printing company for the fiscal year ended Jan. 31, 1932, to be released within the next few days, will show profits in excess of $1,000,000, which exceeds the earnings of the previous fiscal year, Frank R. Warren, president, stated yesterday.

"This marks the thirty-ninth consecutive year," said Mr. Warren, "in which Hall Printing has earned a net profit available for its common stock."

During the past fiscal year the company declared dividends totaling $560,000 on its common stock. The consolidated balance sheet as of Jan. 31, 1932, will show cash of over $1,000,000, which is approximately equal to the total current liabilities, with a working capital ratio of around 3½ to 1. The company has no bank loans.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 23.—Wall street wits were woolgathering again today. With a holiday, just around the corner, a vote due tomorrow on the sales tax and the business situation as uncertain as ever, traders stood around and chewed their fingernails.

The increasing deterioration of interest registered itself in a further decline in both volume and prices on the stock exchange. The sales total fell off to slightly more than 800,000 shares, the smallest since early in February, and the final figures on share values showed a number of new lows for the bear movement. Losses in general were from a fraction to a point or so.

Talk of a possible demand for stocks by shorts before the new ruling on lending long stocks becomes effective on April 1 probably served in some measure to discourage more aggressive operations by the bear faction reputedly so active for the last week or so. The street heard indeed that some pretty big shots who have trailed with that crowd for so long were switching to the constructive side in the belief that a sustained upturn is about due.

Rail Shares Lower.

The conviction of the new bull converts was said to be based not only on prospects of a possible short squeeze due to the operation of the new ruling, but to the belief that at least a seasonal expansion in business is about due to get under way.

Railroad shares upheld their late reputation for contrariness by ignoring the better carloadings statement and improved February earnings statements from important headquarters to lead the way into lower ground. Norfolk and Western, the highest priced issue of the group lost more than 3 points and smaller losses were suffered by Atchison, New York Central, New Haven and others.

Proctor & Gamble attracted attention in the earlier dealings by bogging down 4 points to a new low for the shares since listing on the big board. The heavy selling in this issue was understood to have originated in the Cincinnati market following the closing of the New York Exchange yesterday and to have carried over here this morning.

Steel Gets Support.

United States Steel dropped through 42 again today. As usual, however, when the stock begins to wobble toward the 40 mark support was forthcoming to bolster it up. The street heard that this buying was by brokers who invariably represent the corporation itself. The company, it will be recalled, offered its stock to its employés last year at $40 a share and the guess is that it is out just now to support the price above that level.

Oils, motors, coppers, chemicals and amusements moved together, with losses of more than a point the exception, rather than the rule among them.

MIDDLE WEST STOCKHOLDERS MEET MARCH 29

Shares Are Active in the Chicago Market.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Reports that Middle West Utilities company is considering the disposition of its Atlantic seaboard properties continue a lively topic in La Salle street, despite the repeated denials that any negotiations are in progress.

The approaching meeting of Middle West stockholders, which is to be held in Delaware next Tuesday, has heightened interest in the subject. While it has been authoritatively established that no concrete plan for the sale of the properties has been made, it is reported that the prospects of the eventual disposition of those units is discussed in the company's annual report, which will be made public in a few days. It is not considered likely, however, that any deal will be consummated in the near future.

Insull Denies Rumors.

Samuel Insull, chairman of the board, recently specifically denied the company was negotiating with Public Service of New Jersey, Stone & Webster, and others for the sale of the eastern units. He did not discuss the possibility of future negotiations along this line, and it is now reported the question is taken up in the annual report.

Plans for taking care of the $10,000,000 note issue of Middle West, maturing in June, are now being made by Mr. Insull and his associates. What form the plan will take on is not known. While it is reported that prospects are now more favorable for the company, the notes have continued to decline irregularly in the trading on the New York Curb.

Yesterday the notes sold off slightly, but no important volume of liquidation appeared in the market. The 1932 series, maturing in June, closed at 32¼, as compared with its previous closing price of 36. Other maturities were off slightly and all quoted slightly below 25. It is maintained in some quarters that the significance of the recent market action of notes has been overemphasized. It is pointed out that the volume of transactions has not been particularly heavy and the issues have suffered because of general market conditions.

Common Stock Active.

Middle West common was fairly active on the Chicago exchange yesterday, but the price was unchanged from the previous price at the end of the day. Rather sharp declines developed, however, in the higher priced utility shares. Commonwealth Edison lost 3 points to 86½ because of the absence of aggressive support. About 2,500 shares came into the market. Shares of Public Service of Northern Illinois also receded on extremely light trade. Lacking support the $100 par common tumbled 8 points to 80 on a 50 share turnover. The no par common sold off 3½ to 81, while the company's 6 per cent preferred was quoted below both the common stocks at 75, down 6¼ from its previous quotation.

There was little active interest in the market generally. Sales fell off to 44,000 shares and price changes, except in the utilities, were slight.

TEXAS CORP. REPORTS LOSS FOR LAST YEAR

Draws on Surplus to Pay Dividends.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 23.—Operations of the Texas corporation last year resulted in a loss of $10,172,456, compared with a profit of $14,980,532, or $1.53 a share, in 1930.

The annual report released for publication today reveals of that loss $217,988 was applicable for minority interests, leaving a net loss of $9,954,478 for the corporation, or $1.01 a share.

The Texas' corporation paid dividends amounting to $22,165,214. Those were provided out of earned surplus, increasing the deficit by that amount. After adjustments amounting to $339,677 were deducted from surplus a balance of $101,618,466 earned surplus remained. That compared with $135,077,736 at the end of 1930, the decrease amounting to $32,459,270.

Sales of the Texas corporation last year aggregated $138,827,076, compared with $188,812,427, a decrease of $49,985,351, or in excess of 26 per cent. Profits from operation before charges and reserves amounted to $30,769,590, against $53,595,385, a drop of $22,825,794.

Calls Oil Outlook Brighter.

Herbert R. Gallagher, who will be president of the Consolidated Oil corporation to be created by merging the Sinclair and Prairie companies into a fully integrated organization, with assets in excess of half a billion dollars, says he feels optimistic on the oil outlook. Mr. Gallagher was elected president of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil corporation yesterday, succeeding Earl W. Sinclair, and has arrived in New York from California to assume his new duties, with offices in the Sinclair building.

"I feel optimistic regarding the oil industry, because I feel that conditions have improved with the result that oil companies now are in a fair way to operate at a profit. The trouble with the oil industry has not been lack of business, but inability to operate at a profit, because of unfavorable factors such as overproduction and lack of balance with consumption," Mr. Gallagher said. "Those conditions have changed. Surplus stocks of oil are not troublesome now and production is under control through proration of production.

Expects Better Prices.

"I expect to see better prices for oil products, although the market will not run away. The improvement probably will be gradual. Evidence of it is seen in the fact that a cent a gallon in the gasoline market here yesterday on tank wagons and at service stations, and the advance of a cent a gallon for gasoline in tank car or wholesale lots down in the midcontinent."

Mr. Gallagher said that he favored the proposal to levy duty on foreign oil and thought that if that were done the oil market would benefit, temporarily, least. He has been in the oil business in California for the last twenty years and was vice president of the Shell Oil company of California.

That concern is a subsidiary of Royal Dutch Shell. Before going to California Mr. Gallagher lived in Canada. He was born three of American parents.

ARGENTINA PLANS $125,000,000 LOAN IN WORLD MART

BUENOS AIRES, March 23.—(AP)—Argentina will float a national loan of 500,000,000 pesos [about $125,000,000] as soon as the congress, called to meet in special session March 28, authorizes it, it was announced today.

Foreign interests will be permitted to subscribe to the loan, but Minister of Finance Alberto Hueyo said he expected the home subscriptions would be ample if it becomes necessary to depend on them. The proposed bill also authorizes a reduction of the national gold reserve from 47 to 40 per cent.

The loan, the finance minister said, will enable the government to pay $25,000,000 in back salaries to public employés and the repayment of a large overdraft the government owes the Banco Nacion, as well as other incidentals, making the national finances so sound, he said, that he hopes foreign credit channels will be reopened.

A loan of 500,000,000 pesos is equivalent to one-sixth of the total Argentine national debt.

Señor Hueyo said the 1932 budget, including the $36,300,000 due on foreign debts, would be balanced, even if it becomes necessary to put into effect the strictest economies, salary reductions, and dismissal of any employés found not indispensable.

The reduction of the currency guarantee would provide almost $57,000,000 if it were needed to eke out the loan, he said.

Report More Given Jobs in Employment Drive

New York, March 23.—The "United Action" group for employment of 1,000,000 men said yesteday the American Sheet and Tin Plate company of New Castle, Pa., "gave employment to 938 men."

"The Missouri Pacific railroad added 481 men to its forces in the state of Illinois and gave jobs to 10 in Arkansas," continued the group's daily publicity letter. Cities that provided employment, as reported to headquarters of the drive, included Modesto, Cal.; Monterey Park, Cal.; Florence, Ore.; Nashville, Tenn.; Conneaut, O., and Castle Dale, Utah.

Production of Electricity for Week Shows Decline

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 23.—The disparity between the current and the 1931 electric power production of the country again widened in the last week, following the slight improvement recorded in the week of March 12. Total ouput for the week ended March 19 amounted to 1,537,747,000 kilowatt hours, the National Electric Light association reports, a decrease of 8.6 per cent, compared with an 8.2 per cent recession recorded for the preceding week.

D., R. G. & W. RY. ASKS FOR LOAN FROM U. S. BOARD

Kentucky Terminal to Get $800,000.

Washington, D. C., March 23.—(AP)—The Denver and Rio Grande Western railroad today was authorized by the interstate commerce commission to borrow $2,500,000 from the Reconstruction corporation. At the same time the commission authorized the Kentucky and Indiana Terminal Railroad company to borrow $800,000.

Taxes and Interest.

The Denver and Rio Grande Western loan is to be used to pay semiannual interest on bonds of the Rio Grande Western Railway company and the Denver and Rio Grande Western, and to pay taxes for the second half of 1931 which will be due July 31. The Kentucky and Indiana Terminal loan is to be used to pay advances made by proprietary lines; to pay short term notes and to settle debts for materials and supplies.

The Denver and Rio Grande Western is negotiating for renewal of a loan of $1,500,000 due to the Chase National bank on April 1. The loan was made in connection with the D. & R. G. W.'s purchase of the Denver and Salt Lake railroad stock.

B. & O. Requests Issue.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad today asked the interstate commerce commission for permission to issue $55,813,000 of its refunding and general mortgage 5 per cent bonds. The bonds, which are dated Dec. 1, 1915, and which mature April 1, 2000, would be used as security for loans from the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

4 New Directors Named to Fairbanks-Morse Board

Arthur Andersen of Arthur Andersen & Co., Thomas McMillan, president of the Canadian Fairbanks-Morse Company, Ltd.; C. H. Poppenhusen and F. C. Dierks were elected directors of Fairbanks, Morse & Co., at the annual meeting of the company's stockholders. They fill vacancies caused by the resignation last year of W. S. Hovey, W. E. Miller, F. M. Boughey and H. W. Fenton. P. C. Brooks, a vice president of the company, was made executive vice president.

WHEAT BOUNCES UPWARD AFTER EARLY DECLINE

Low Prices Attract Wave of Buying.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

There was a rally in wheat prices yesterday due to buying by operators who thought a decline of 7½@8⅝c in wheat prices from the close on March 12 to the low of yesterday discounted a great many of the bearish influences. The rally varied from ½ to 2⅜c after an early break. The break had carried all futures to a new low on the current movement. March sold down to 49⅞c and the May to 52¼c.

There was nothing in the general tenor of the news to account for the wave of general buying which came into the wheat market on the early decline. Liverpool was weak and closed 1⅝@1¾c lower, with May at 53¼c, while Winnipeg dropped 2⅜c at the opening. Liquidation, however, passed into strong hands, a number of leading commission houses as well as local professionals taking the buying side. This absorbed the surplus in the pit and started the market upward again. Closing trades were within a fraction of the top, with net gains of ⅜@⅝c.

March wheat closed at 51⅝c; May, 54¼c; old July, 55⅞@56c, and old September, 57⅞@58c. Winnipeg recovered all of its early decline and finished unchanged, with May at 60⅜c in Canadian funds.

Short Covering a Factor.

Pit observers said a good part of the buying was to secure profits on previous sales, and presumably was based on the low level of prices. The May delivery in Liverpool at 53¼c was at a figure suggesting around 35c for cash wheat in Chicago after deducting freight charges. According to reports current in the trade yesterday cash wheat at country loading points in eastern and central Kansas was bringing only 30c per bu to the producer.

Reports that exporters had been large buyers of wheat futures at Winnipeg were not reflected in reports of large sales of Manitobas being made abroad. The seaboard dispatches said that a moderate business had been put through, but failed to give estimates as to the amount. There was also talk of business in hard winter, with 40,000 bu confirmed as having been disposed of.

Owing to the Easter holidays in Europe and in a majority of exporting countries it is believed that business in cash wheat will be restricted until early next week.

The controversy as to why President George S. Milnor of the Stabilization corporation is in Europe continues to rage. According to a Paris cable, Mr. Milnor held a conference with Ambassador Edge yesterday.

At that time the probable amount of wheat France would require the balance of the season was estimated, ranging from 12,000,000 to 20,000,000 bu, and hope was expressed that the United States might be able to do some business.

Unfavorable crop comments are increasing from the western sections of Kansas and Nebraska, and the outlook in other parts of the winter wheat belt was said to be less optimistic as the result of the recent cold weather. The Miller-Bennett crop report, however, made the condition for the country 82.1, compared with 88.8 a year ago, and a ten year average of 80.9, with a loss of 7 per cent in the area seeded last fall indicated.

Corn Market Rallies.

Corn was heavy early on selling induced by the break in wheat, but the market rallied later with that grain and on the relative firmness in the cash article. The basis in the sample market was ¼@½c higher, as compared with May, light receipts being a factor. Futures finished with net gains of ⅛c, May being 36⅝c; July, 39¼@39⅜c, and September, 40⅞c. An increase of 3 per cent in the acreage suggested by the Miller-Bennett report had little effect on sentiment, although it indicated a total of 108,000,000 acres, against 105,000,000 acres last year, and if realized would make the largest total since 1917.

May oats dropped fractionally at the start to 22½c, a new low on the crop, but all deliveries rallied with other grains and the finish was ⅛c lower to ⅜c higher. May closed at 23@23¼c; July, 23⅝c, and September, 24½c. There was some Canadian oats sold for export during the day.

A liberal amount of Canadian rye was reported to have been sold for export on an early break yesterday, but the market was dominated largely by the action of wheat. Closing trades were unchanged to ½c lower, with May, 44c; July, 46c, and September, 47¼c.

HEDGING IN LARD

Trading in lard was larger, with scattered liquidation by commission house traders and a little hedging by packers. Close was 2½@5c lower on the active trading futures. Bellies were 5c lower on May and 5c higher on July, with September unchanged and hardly a trade. Cash business was said to be light as is usual around Easter. Hog prices were stronger to 10c higher, with receipts larger than a week, but smaller than a year ago. Liverpool lard was unchanged to 6d higher. Export clearances were 279,150 lbs of lard. Cash lard was 4.70c; loose, 4.10c; leaf lard, 4.00c; short ribs and short clear bellies, 5.37½c. Prices follow:

Top yesterday, $7.25; average, $6.75.
Estimated receipts at Chicago today: Cattle, 7,000; hogs, 20,000; sheep, 14,000.

Encouraged by small receipts and advancing wholesale pork prices, the hog market pushed forward again early yesterday, but was unable to hold the additional gain and prices gently ebbed back to where they were on Tuesday's close. The extreme top advanced 5c to $4.80, highest since last Friday, while the general average for the whole day remained unchanged at $4.45.

Although the trade was more inclined to shift about, there were no violet changes. Weakness in medium and weighty stock apparently was the signal for larger houses to step in. Soon after the early gains were erased 250@300 lb averages were available at barely steady prices for a short time, but the market developed a better tone with the appearance of Armour, Swift, and Wilson buyers. Only 4,000 hogs were left at the close.

September contracts were offered 50c lower at $5.75 yesterday, while bids at $5.00 showed a similar decline. July mediums are still being offered at $6.00. May mediums were offered at $5.50 and light for that month were bid $5.00.

Good Quality Cattle.

The recent improvement in the cattle market attracted a deluge of stock from nearby feedlots and yestrday's arrivals totaled 12,000 head, the heaviest Wednesday receipts of the year.

The yard was full of good quality cattle that have been selling at $7.50@8.25 on recent sessions, but only a small quota was eligible to more than $7.50 yesterday. Prime 1,523 lb steers sold at $8.35, top for load lots, while 4 head averaging 1,367 lbs and 4 averaging 1,077 lbs brought $8.50.

Approximately 75 per cent of the supply of steers went over the scales within a range of $5.50@7.50. There was a good showing at $5.00@5.25 and a scattering of ill bred stock with a fair "kill" as low as $4.00@4.50. Steers comprised a bigger share of offerings than usual. Cows and heifers were not plentiful and sales in the butcher stock division were mostly steady. A few better grades, and some yearling heifers coming in competition with medium to good grades of beef steers, shared in the 25@50c break recorded in steers. Calves went down 25@50c on a dull trade.

Easter Lambs Bring $11.00.

Milk fed baby lambs, probably 6 to 8 weeks of age, sold for the Easter trade at $10.50@11.00 yesterday, or $1.00@1.50 higher than at the opening of the week. They averaged 40@50 lbs. The first springers of the season arrived this week, earlier than ever before. In 1931 the first spring lambs of the season sold at $12.00 and in 1930 $18.00 bougmht the first. Previous to 1925 native spring lambs seldom arrived before April.

The Greek Easter, a big factor in the market for these "hothouse" specialties, comes on May 1, this year, later than usual.

Commonwealth Customers—Pay LESS-for-LOANS

$2.93 is the average Monthly Cost of a $225 loan under COMMONWEALTH'S Reduced Rate. This allows 25 months for repayment. There is no lower cost than this in Chicago.

COMMONWEALTH'S rate on amounts above $100 is substantially lower than the lawful rate usually charged.

THE personal property which nearly every family owns and the signatures of husband and wife enable one to secure any amount up to $300 quickly and easily.

NO FEES. You get full amount of the loan and up to 25 months to repay. Interest at the Reduced Rate is charged only while you keep the money.

Also Salary and Auto Loans.
